NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

ORGANIZATION

Originally Interactive Lighting Showrooms, Inc., (the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Nevada, on August 16, 1995. The Company was organized primarily for developing and marketing an interactive computer device designed for use by real estate developers to specify lighting fixtures in residences being constructed for prospective purchasers. On September 29, 2004, our shareholders approved and we effected a name change to Am-Tex Oil & Gas, Inc. for the purposes of investing in the development of oil and gas properties and mineral properties. On October 29, 2007, we effected another name change to Critical Point Resources, Inc.; most recently on January 23rd, 2012 the corporation changed its name to Renewable Energy Solution Systems, Inc., (our current corporate name) with an emphasis in the renewable energy sector. We have been a Nevada corporation continuously in good standing since inception.

On April 23, 2012, Renewable Energy Solution Systems, Inc., the Nevada corporation ("Nevada Corporation"), acquired Renewable Energy Solution Systems, Inc, a Florida corporation ("Florida Corporation"). The Florida Corporation became the wholly owned subsidiary of the Nevada Corporation. The Nevada Corporation transferred all assets, liabilities, operations, and interests in the oil properties to a new Nevada corporation tentatively identified as Jackie Beeson Working Interest, Inc. The Nevada Corporation distributed 100% ownership of Jackie Beeson Working Interest, Inc. by means of a stock dividend to existing shareholders (share for share via a Share Exchange); simultaneously, Worco and Associates (WORCO), the major shareholder of the Nevada Corporation, surrendered three hundred million (300,000,000) shares of the Nevada Corporation to treasury for cancellation. Each and every share of the Florida Corporation (one hundred seven million, nine hundred and two thousand, and four hundred -107,902,400) was converted into one share of the Nevada Corporation after cancellation of the 300,000,000 shares. The resultant number of shares outstanding after the Share Exchange and as of this report is one hundred seventy million, two hundred thousand, and seven hundred seventy four (170,200,774).

This transaction was deemed, treated, and accounted for as a reverse merger. The Florida Corporation was deemed the acquirer for accounting purposes and the Nevada Corporation was deemed the acquirer for legal and formal purposes. The assets, liabilities, and historical operations of the Florida Corporation are reflected in the financial statements herein.
