Entry into Material Definitive Agreements

Acquisition

On August 22 2014, Beverly Hills Group, Inc. ("the Company") entered into an Asset and Intellectual Property Rights Purchase and Transfer Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") pursuant to which it acquired assets and intellectual property related to a line of beauty, skin care and Nutraceuticals products (the "Cosmetic Assets") that the Company intends to launch under the name "Latitud 32". The Company intends to use the Cosmetic Assets as a baseline portfolio and to continue researching, developing and launching additional natural ingredient products. Under the terms of the Purchase Agreement the Company agreed to issue to the seller (the "Seller") of the Cosmetic Assets 50,000 shares of the Company's common stock ("Common Stock"). The Seller agreed to refrain from the sale of the Common Stock for a period of 24 months following the closing date, except that the Seller may sell 10,000 shares for every three months following the closing date but no more than 20,000 shares during any three month period.

Disposition of Assets

Immediately after acquiring the Cosmetic Assets, the Company entered into an Asset and Intellectual Property Rights Purchase and Transfer Agreement (the "Transfer Agreement") pursuant to which the Company sold all assets and intellectual property related to the historical business of the Company, which business was the creation, development and management of a themed attraction dedicated to the history and art of making motion pictures and the creation, development and management of a Motion Picture Hall of Fame (the "Themed Attraction Business"). In consideration for the sale of the Themed Attraction Business, the buyer (the "Buyer") of the Themed Attraction Business agreed to issue to the shareholders of the Company holding Common Stock on August 22, 2014, shares in the Buyer entity, Motion Picture Hall of Fame Holding Company, Inc., such that those shareholders shall own a proportionate number of shares in the Buyer as was owned by those shareholders in the Company prior to the Transfer Agreement and Purchase Agreement. In addition, the Buyer agreed to indemnify the Company, its officers, directors, parents, subsidiaries, shareholders, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns from and against any loss, claims, liabilities, costs and expenses arising out of (i) any breaches, occurring at or after closing, of Contracts, Long Term Leases, permits, licenses, and all other agreements and obligations transferred or assigned to Buyer as a result of the Transfer Agreement; (ii) the operation, management or condition of the Themed Attraction Business at or after the closing; (iii) all matters assumed by the Buyer pursuant to any and all provisions of the Transfer Agreement or any related agreement; and (iv) all actions, claims, suits. proceedings, demands, assessments, judgments, costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees (incurred with respect to third parties), with respect to the foregoing.

As a result of the Transfer Agreement and upon the transfer of the related assets and intellectual property, the Company changed its operational focus to developing the products related to the Cosmetic Assets and discontinued its operation in the Themed Attraction Business.

Management Agreement

In connection with the Purchase Agreement and the Company's change in operational focus to developing the products related to the Cosmetic Assets, on October 1, 2014, the Company entered into a Management Services Agreement (the "Services Agreement") pursuant to which it appointed Palm Desert Management Inc. as the services provider (the "Service Provider") to provide certain advisory and consulting services to the Company. The Services Agreement expires (1) year after the date of the Services Agreement, with automatic yearly renewals on each anniversary date, for a maximum of five (5) years total; provided, however, that the Services Agreement may be terminated at any upon mutual agreement of the Company and the Service Provider. Under the Services Agreement the Service Provider agreed to provide the Company with business and organizational strategy, financial and investment management and advisory services, seek, screen and negotiate with management personnel, and perform such other tasks as the board of directors of the Company (the "Board") or the Company officers may reasonably request from time to time, as well as investment, financial, strategic and corporate advisory services in connection with (i) the closing of operational transactions deemed advisable by the Board, and (ii) any other merger, acquisition, recapitalization, divestiture, financing, refinancing or other similar transaction in which the Company may be, or may consider becoming, involved (collectively, the "Services"). As consideration for the Service, the Company issued to the Service Provider an aggregate management fee, for the five years of Services contemplated by the Services Agreement, in an amount equal of fifty million (50,000,000) shares of Common Stock (the "Management Fee"). The first one-fifth of the Management Fee vested immediately with the Services Provider and the remaining amount is subject to claw back in the event the Services Agreement is terminated prior to its 5th anniversary. As a result of the issuance of the Management Fee, the Service Provider became the largest shareholder of the Company.

Executive Officers and Directors

Effective as of July 15, 2014, Paul Shively resigned as the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Secretary, and Treasurer and as a Director of the Board.

Effective as of August 22, 2014, Robert Alexander resigned as the Company's Chief Executive Officer, and President and as a Director of the Board.
