Consummation of a definitive material agreement

On June 28, 2015, we entered into and consummated an agreement to purchase two(2%) of the outstanding shares of Canna and the city, a medical marijuana dispensary in Portland Oregon. Canna and The City is an upscale, turnkey, ready-for-business Medical Marijuana (MMJ) dispensary located in the highly affluent John's Landing area of Southwest Portland, Oregon. Canna and the City is center stage inside Portland's healthcare intellectual hub, surrounded within one-half mile by Oregon Health & Science University Hospital (OHSU), Shriners Hospital for Children, OHSU Doernbecher Children's Hospital, Portland VA Medical Center, OHSU Casey Eye Institute, OHSU Center for Health and Healing and over 200 medical offices and healthcare related businesses.

We believe this to be truly a unique opportunity to be the cannabis hub in the City of Roses healthcare wheel for patients needing the tremendous benefits medical marijuana products provide. There are no other MMJ dispensaries within a five-mile radius, so Canna and the City is the premier canna-health dispensary in SW Portland. Canna and the City (CATC) is uniquely positioned and physically structured to double in size by potentially having a Recreational Marijuana (RMJ) side to the existing business. While a recreational marijuana license will be required, we believe that we will not have a problem acquiring such a license

The business.

Canna and The City occupies about half of a 2,348 square foot portion of a much larger 13K square foot building and as mentioned previously, is staged to build-out a recreational marijuana dispensary within the same leased space[2], or set up a vape-lounge, education and learning center or cannabis-cafe. The portion of the building that is leased under contract for CATC is divided into two separate spaces with two separate entrances (though also having a connected door in the back office area). The building also has a large warehouse area (not under contract) with large door access under the building. The warehouse could easily serve as a place for producing extracts, edibles and storing all kinds of cannabis related products to further expand the business even more.

Canna and The City opened its doors in June 2015 and was prepared to welcome the estimated 17,900 medical card holders that live within Portland, the core healthcare hub and pass through this area every day to utilize the services provided by Oregon's finest medical professionals. The current business plan forecasts Year One revenue to be between the range of $2.35M to $3.1M with a midpoint of $2.75M and estimated daily sales to average $8,785[3].

(A: announcement/description)
Sutimco International Inc. is proud to announce that they have entered into a definitive partnership agreement with Canna and the City, a medical marijuana dispensary located in Portland, Or. Under the terms of this agreement, Sutimco shareholders will own a 2% stake of Canna and the City and become a silent partner. Canna and the City will receive cash as the method of payment. In return for investment, the company will receive 2% of the net profit of the medical marijuana dispensary and net profit from Canna's future marijuana recreational store. Included in the agreement, Canna and the City will give Sutimco the right of first refusal to purchase up to 25% of their company in addition to first opportunities to invest in any future projects. Both companies believe that the sales of medicinal and recreational marijuana will create revenue for an attractive return of investment for Sutimco shareholders.

(B: explanation of revenue)

The Average annual sales per each Medical marijuana dispensary in Oregon $2 Million

Both Scot and Lori are projecting a combined $5 Million in sales conservatively for both patient and recreation users in just the first year alone with doubling in 2017.

(C: explanation of revenue projections model)

These are the projections based off Portland's medical marijuana dispensaries model..... Here's the breakdown.. 5,000 day income x an average 30 day month equals 150,000 a month....150,000 a month x 12 equals $ 1,800,000 gross before expenses. THIS IS FOR MEDICAL ONLY.

RECREATIONAL PROJECTIONS STARTING 10/2015

This follows the Washington state recreational dispensary projection model.....10,000 day revenue x an average month of 30 days equals 300,000 a month revenue... 300,000 a month revenue x a 12 month year equals $3,600,000 a gross yearly income before expenses
