Our financial statements for the quarterly period ending March 31, 2012 are attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference.

Item 4 Management's discussion and analysis or plan of operation.

US National Telecom is a corporation actively targeting several acquisitions in the real estate market. The company plans to grow domestically and internationally. The products offered currently by US National Telecom are that the company has the ability to raise capital and partner with various industry professionals and firms with the vision to grow through acquisition. The company plans to complete this process through a combination of capital raises over the next two-five years. The company has an office located in Miami Florida and has no facilities to date.

The Issuer plans to acquire and grow organically within the general business sector of real estate acquisitions. The Company sees a range of opportunities in the ever increasing and growth in this sector. Future potential in real estate related businesses offers the issuer the ability to acquire, merge or engage in joint ventures with prospective businesses once capital financing is made available to the company.

US National Telecom's purpose is to seek, investigate and, if such investigation warrants, acquire an interest in business opportunities presented to it by persons or firms who or which desire to seek the perceived advantages of an Exchange Act registered corporation. This discussion of the proposed business is purposefully general and is not meant to be restrictive of the Company's virtually unlimited discretion to search for and enter into potential business opportunities. Management anticipates that the future profitability of the company relies on substantial future investment into the company. In the event that an active trading market commences, there can be no assurance as to the market price of our shares of common stock, whether any trading market will provide liquidity to investors, or whether any trading market will be sustained.

The Issuer over the past 2 years has spent approximately $85,000 each fiscal year on research and development activities. These expenses have been directly borne by the company and its affiliates. The related expenses are shown on the company's financial statements.

Financial Results

We are a small company with limited operating revenues. For the three month period ending March 31, 2012 we had operating revenues of $0. For the three month period ending March 31, 2012 we suffered a net loss of $763.85. These losses resulted from our company incurring general day to day operational costs. The business incurred minor expenses to manage, and fulfill company obligations to remain in business. We strive to improve our revenues and manage our expenses. No assurance is given that we will operate profitably in the future.

Liquidity and capital Reserves

We are a company with limited operating revenues and have never consistently operated at a profit. As of March 31 2012, we had cash on hand of $337.30 during the quarter we used $763.85 for expenses, marketing and general operating costs and debt reduction.

Future Expenditures

Our future capital, marketing, research and development, and other expenditures, as well as our future staffing requirement will depend upon our ability to generate cash flow and profits. However, no assurance is given that we will be able to generate sufficient cash flow or operations necessary to sustain our operation.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have no off balance sheet arrangements.

Item 5 Legal Proceedings

We are not the subject of any past, current, pending or threatened legal proceedings or administrative actions, by or against us, that could have a material effect on our business, financial condition or operations, nor have we ever been the subject of any past, current, or pending trading suspension.

Notes to Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Note 1 Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited financial statements of US National Telecom, Inc. have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission for interim financial information. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and footnotes necessary for a comprehensive presentation of financial position and results of business operations.

It is management's opinion, however, that all material adjustments have been made which are necessary for a fair statement presentation. The results for the interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year.

Note 2 Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

US National telecom, Inc ("The Company") was incorporated in the State of Florida in May 1999.

A) Nature of Operations

US National Telecom's operating focus has been on investing in the real estate market in the form of financing and direct ownership of cash flow real estate through its subsidiary. The Company previous to this was involved in the telecommunication industry except radio. The previous name held by the Company was Yi Wan group and traded under the symbol YIWA.

The Company has limited revenues from operations. The Company plans to invest in the real estate market over the next two to three years via the sale of restricted stock.

B) Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk had consisted principally of investments in available for sale marketable securities.

C) Net Loss per Share

"Earnings per Share" SFAS requires companies with complex capital structures or common stock equivalents to present both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic EPS is calculated as the income or loss available to common stockholders divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS is calculated using the "if converted" method for common share equivalents such as convertible securities and options and warrants outstanding. The accompanying basic and diluted EPS computations are the same since inclusion of any common stock equivalents in the diluted computation for periods with a net loss would be anti-dilutive. For periods with net income, basic and diluted EPS are the same since there were no dilutive securities outstanding other than the preferred stock which is restricted. At March 31, 2012, there were no common stock equivalents outstanding which may dilute future earnings per share. Preferred stock issued in the past may dilute earnings per share when converted.

D) Use of Estimates

Our financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"). These accounting principles require us to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions. We believe that the estimates, judgments and assumptions upon which we rely are reasonable based upon financial information available to us at the time that these estimates, judgments and assumptions are made. These estimates, judgments and assumptions can affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of our financial statements as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. Our financial statements would be affected to the extent there are material differences between these estimates and actual financial results. In many circumstances, the accounting treatment of a particular transaction is specifically dictated by GAAP and does not require management's judgment in its application. There are also areas in which management's judgment in selecting any available alternative would not produce a materially different result.

E) Allowance for Bad Debt

Based on the review of accounts by management, we do not require an allowance for bad debt at this time. In the case that customers open invoices are deemed uncollectable, Legal judgments would be pursued against the customers to recover funds that are due.

F) Equipment

The company does not have equipment. If equipment is acquired Depreciation would be provided over the estimated lives of the assets principally on the declining-balance method.

G) Intangible Assets

The company has not entered into any agreements that would require intangible assets to be listed. If so the investment would be Amortized straight line over 15 years.

H) Lease for Office Space

A lease was entered into with Regus in 2009. The office is located in Miami Florida; the amount of Lease currently is $90 per month and is a 6 month period that can be extended indefinitely. Lease space in North central Florida is being located and will be leased upon the company receiving funds to perform and operate its business successfully.

Note 3 Income Taxes

There were no federal or state income taxes due. This is the direct result of the company operating at a net income loss that is carried forward.

During the three months ended March 31, 2012 the Company reported net ordinary loss of $763.85. The Company has not recorded a provision for federal income taxes since the tax effect of the net operating loss carry forward exceeded the provision.

The Company has a net operating loss carry forward of $763.85 available at March 31, 2012 to offset future taxable income and a capital loss carry forward of $594,277.
