

Press Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information contact
Colleen A. Schmidt, COO, My Social Income, Inc.
949-535-5242
cschmidt@mysocialincome.com

PDX Partners, Inc. (Formerly My Social Income, Inc.) Announces a new Chief Executive Officer, Patrick Johnson Enhances Net Stock Holder Equity

(Irvine, California, June 5, 2017)

PDX Partners, Inc. ("PDXP") (OTC:) COO, Colleen Schmidt, is pleased to announce that the board has hired Patrick Johnson, to be the new CEO of PDX Partners, Inc. Colleen Schmidt said "that after an extensive search we were able to find a perfect match for the implementation of our new direction, that of becoming a Holding Company. Patrick Johnson brings substantial experience to (PDXP) having recently held senior management positions in the construction sector and previously in the oil and gas industry, also with consumer products and nutraceutical industries, as well as consulting in the private equity, mining, gaming, entertainment, internet and corporate finance industries. Along with being successful in the business world, Patrick has also been philanthropic. Patrick has assisted several charities and non-profit organizations with his volunteer and fund raising efforts. During his NFL career, Patrick pledged money for the Baltimore Ravens/Police Athletic League Challenge of Champions, modeled in a Tommy Hilfiger fashion show to help raise money for the Living Classrooms Foundation for Baltimore, an educational program that targets at-risk youth, and also spearheaded the 5th annual "Baltimore Reads books for kids day" at Baltimore Polytechnic High School in 2000, helping the group collect nearly 25,000 children's books that were distributed to low-income families.

Patrick was a two-sport athlete at the University of Oregon, excelling in both football and track, winning numerous awards and championships during his collegiate athletic career. As an Olympic caliber sprinter, Patrick won the Pac-10 Championship in the 400 meters, was an NCAA all-American at 100 and 200 meters, and defeated the legendary Carl Lewis in a 100 meter race at the Drake Relays in 1995. As All Pacific-10/All American wide receiver and kick returner at Oregon, he was the offensive MVP of the 1997 Las Vegas Bowl and was also a member of Oregon 1994 Rose and the 1995 Cotton Bowl teams. Johnson was inducted into the University of Oregon athletics hall of fame for both sports in 2014 and was the 42nd overall pick in the 1998 NFL draft. Johnson also earned a super bowl ring when the Baltimore Ravens defeated the New York Giants 34-17 in Super Bowl XXXV.

Patrick Johnson majored in journalism and communications at the University of Oregon from 1994 to 1997 and attended the Craig James Broadcast School in 2000.

Patrick Johnson stated, "I am excited to assume the reins as the new CEO of PDX Partners, Inc. We now have a solid forward-looking game plan put in place that once executed will provide shareholders exponential and stable long term value".

ABOUT PDX Partners, Inc. (Formerly My Social Income, Inc.)

PDX Partners, Inc. (OTC: PDXP) is a marketing and diversified holdings company dedicated to creating stable revenues and shareholder value by marketing technologies and acquiring other diversified long term growth assets. The company was founded in 1997.

Safe Harbor Statement

This release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E and/or 27E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that are based upon assumptions that in the future may prove not to have been accurate and are subject to significant risks and uncertainties, including statements as to the future performance of the company and the risks and uncertainties detailed from time to time in reports filed by the company with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Statements contained in this release that are not historical facts may be deemed to be forward-looking statements. Investors are cautioned that forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain. Although the company believes that the expectations reflected in its forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that such expectations or any of its forward-looking statements will prove to be correct. Factors that could cause results to differ include, but are not limited to, the company's ability to raise necessary financing, retention of key personnel, timely delivery of inventory from the company's suppliers, timely product development, product acceptance, and the impact of competitive services and products, in addition to general economic risks and uncertainties.

For more information please contact:

Colleen A. Schmidt, COO, PDX Partners, Inc.
949-535-5242
cschmidt@mysocialincome.com