

Blue Diamond Ventures Inc. launches Israeli Operation to Develop Standards

New office for BLDV in Israel will manage the development of Sanitation & Cleaning Protocols for Cannabis-Clean

September 26, 2017 Blue Diamond Ventures Inc. (OTC PK: BLDV) Denver, Colorado / Tel-Aviv, Israel

Blue Diamond Ventures Inc. (BLDV) will open an Israeli office next month to manage the development of new Cleaning and Sanitation Protocols. The work product produced will become the core of Cannabis-Clean’s comprehensive offering directed at Cannabis Growers, Processors and Dispensaries. The new total facility approach will focus on a combination of procedures, equipment, supplies and training to build good sanitation practice into the design of new facilities, and retrofit when possible into existing cannabis facilities.

Cannabis-Clean has provided BLDV with a solid base in the Cannabis market in Colorado for over two years. Steve McMorrow, the President of Cannabis-Clean and a Director for BLDV says “We believe that the work being done in Israel will represent the state-of-the-art for sanitation in Cannabis Growing and Processing Facilities” McMorrow continued “It’s all about compliance, by adopting proven methods, growers can ensure that their products will pass the stricter testing being employed.”

Cannabis-Clean is transitioning from a janitorial type contractor to a “parts and smarts” approach to Sanitation and Cleaning. Leveraging the experience of Blue Diamond Consulting in building and construction, the new approach will produce a customized set of procedures for each facility. “We are using the same principles employed by the energy services sector” said Josh Alper CEO of BLDV, “Capture the data with a comprehensive building inspection, or review a set of plans, and then apply the proven solutions.”

Jonathan Alper will be back in Israel next week to finalize the new company. The office in Israel will initially be focused on the scope for Cannabis-Clean, and will then serve as a base to expand the goals of BLDV in Israel and pursue projects with local partners.
