

OTCQX INTERNATIONAL

Companies listed on an exchange outside of the U.S. and building their U.S. investor relations program can maximize their potential by ensuring investors have access to research and the ability to trade their ordinary shares.

Trading directly into foreign markets is impossible for smaller institutions and most high net worth self-directed U.S. retail investors. U.S. investors are often unable or unwilling to buy a foreign stock without a U.S. dollar denominated security that they can trade locally.

The OTCQX Best Market is an SEC recognized U.S. public market that offers an investor experience comparable to a stock exchange – giving global companies already listed on international exchanges a well-regulated way to strengthen U.S. visibility and tradability without the complexity and cost of a U.S. exchange listing. This enables companies to build greater trading volume, a diversified shareholder base and enhanced liquidity on their home market so they can achieve fair valuation.

KEY BENEFITS

Efficient Market Standards: Companies may leverage their local market disclosure (SEC Exchange Act Rule 12g3-2(b)). There are no Sarbanes-Oxley and SEC Reporting requirements to trade on OTCQX, bypassing burdensome, costly and duplicative NYSE and NASDAQ requirements.

Reputation: OTCQX is an SEC recognized and verified market. Investors and brokers look for the OTCQX designation when researching and trading a security as an indication that a company meets high financial standards and follows strong disclosure processes.

Visibility: Companies engage a far greater network of U.S. investor, data distributors and media partners, ensuring U.S. investors have access to the same high-quality information that is available to investors in their local market, but through U.S. platforms and portals used to conduct research.

Better Trading: Companies on OTCQX see greater liquidity and fewer trading restrictions for brokers and investors compared with companies that have no U.S. market as well as with those that trade in the U.S. on the Pink Open Market or the Grey Market where no U.S. market maker is quoting the security.

"The upgrade to OTCQX was seamless and we have seen a substantial increase in trading volumes since upgrading. We chose to upgrade because OTCQX offered a liquid trading platform for Experian, enabling US investors to invest directly in Experian stock via a US traded instrument, but it did not require us to list on a US exchange or register with the SEC. As a result, we continue to comply with the regulation and governance requirements of our primary London listing and are not subject to onerous duplicate regulation and governance requirements by virtue of Experian being traded in the US."

Experian (OTCQX: EXPGY, EXPGF)
