News Release

MIHI Management Discusses its Innovative Groundbreaking Solution To Solve Healthcare Delivery Problems Faced by Millions of Patients & Primary Care Clinics in Rural America.

Management Team Brings Specialists Group Practice To Rural Patients & Physicians Via Telemedicine; Saving Travel, Time and Money for Patients, Veterans, Private Insurers, and Medicare.

DULUTH, GEORGIA – 06/27/2016

Medina Innovation Holdings, Inc. (“MIHI” or the “Company”) (OTC: MIHI) which is changing its name to Medical Innovation Holdings, Inc., has, recently through both filings including an 8K and an 8K/A and in Company press releases, set out in detail its strategy going forward, and its advantages and innovations that define the new approach to Virtual Health Delivery from the Telemedicine Marketplace. Today, management shared some of its observations regarding the problems it solves for rural patients and doctors.

It is agreed by government officials, healthcare executives, healthcare practitioners including physicians, and noted academics that the current medical system is dysfunctional and not in line with the intended goals of effective, affordable and accessible healthcare.

The Company plans to implement cost-effective technological cloud-based infrastructure to develop virtual health business models and processes around them to make health care and wellness more affordable and accessible.

Arturo “Jake” Sanchez, age 60, CEO and Director, stated :

“The current healthcare delivery systems, which serves... or should I say under serves... the 87 million rural US patients. The present system is grossly inadequate. Because specialists are primarily based in urban areas, patients do not have direct access to these specialists and are forced to travel great distances, wasting time and money to get the care they need. Because of this reality, the care continuum is beginning to embrace the new models of communication; information transfer with remote collaboration in order to fulfill the required healthcare needs of those patients. A transformation of the traditional health system is underway in the US, which incentivizes providers, payers and patients toward preventive health, improved quality and lower costs. We are seeking to capitalize on these trends with are offering while taking advantage of the growth expected in the market.”

The Telemedicine/Telehealth market is an approximately $15 billion dollar market and growing at a 20% Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR).

As reported by Forbes' analysis of Top Health Trend for 2015: Telehealth to Grow Over 50%

We intend to become the most extensive and robust specialty telemedicine program in the United States with the capability to implement telemedicine programs and develop networks throughout the 50 states and eventually around the world.”

The Company believes that increased consumer demand will cause Telehealth to become “mainstream” health care.

- Consumers want telemedicine.
- The greatest impact of telemedicine is on the patient, their family and their community.
- Using telemedicine technologies reduces travel time and stress for the patient.
- Over the past 15 years study after study has documented patient satisfaction and support for telehealth services. Such services offer patients the access to providers that might not be available otherwise, as well as medical services without the need to travel long distances.
