ONEBODE HOLDINGS

On June 27, 2013, Tranzbyte Corporation announced the purchase of OneBode Holdings. OneBode was founded in 2006 by a group of health conscious professionals with backgrounds in sports, health, and nutrition who recognized the need for natural supplements to compliment any lifestyle. One of the company’s largest investors and endorsers of OneBode products is 2-time NBA star, Steve Nash, who currently plays for the LA Lakers basketball team. Focusing on plant-based nutrients and enzymes, OneBode created an assortment of products that enable the everyday person interested in improving their health to access the kind of nutritional supplements previously enjoyed by professional athletes, entertainers, and those with the time to devote their entire lives to the pursuit of such diets.

The company is combining its previously-successful product rep program with an aggressive online campaign focusing on a realistic plan to increase sales every quarter. The versatility of the products combined with the various dietary deficiencies present in practically everyone enables individuals to tailor a custom program designed to fit their specific needs; as such the company sees a virtually unlimited market-space for expansion.

PROXIMA-RF

Founded in 2006, Applied RFID and its operating subsidiaries (www.proximarf.com), have a versatile and leading-edge portfolio of RFID reader, sensor tag and data logging products based on the ISO 15693 standard of high frequency (13.56Mhz) RFID.

Once the acquisition agreement with Tranzbyte is finalized, the company has plans to increase its network of global distributors and value-added resellers. With its "Proxima RF" line of RFID readers, sensor tags, sensor probes and data logging products, the Company seeks out opportunities with partners who have a unique software offering within market verticals where the implementation of secure data collection and temperature sensing bring real and immediate ROI to users. These key markets include: food safety, cold chain logistics and healthcare/pharmaceutical as well as factory and field maintenance applications.

The company is seeking additional resources in order to complete the acquisition with Tranzbyte so it can finance the delivery of existing contracts, to continue new product design and development activities such as work on The Integrity Tag, and to focus on aggressive marketing and sales activities in four identified key market sectors, namely:

- 1) Food Safety
- 2) Healthcare & Pharmaceutical
- 3) Cold Chain Logistics
- 4) Factory & Field Maintenance

The company's acquisition of a major government contract has not yet materialized and ProximaRF's president elected to remain an affiliate of the company and not yet a subsidiary as was its option under the agreement.

The company is currently negotiating with several promising acquisition prospects. Company management feels target companies in selected growth markets which are compatible with the company's current business model will fortify and accelerate the company's stability while enabling the company to speed up and augment the target company's entry into the marketplace.

TRANZBYTE TECHNOLOGY AND NEW DEVELOPMENT DIVISION

The Company has an agreement in principle with its previous spin-out subsidiary, PanPacific International to purchase proprietary dispensary machines that would only dispense to consumers over the age of consent in the USA. ZaZZZ Network, a wholly owned division of the Company, will oversee each machine to assure that it remains connected to the company's monitoring headquarters 24 hours a day. Every transaction will be monitored in real time on the Network. Live feeds from each active machine assure that local law enforcement authorities are contacted in the event of attempted theft or vandalism or can contact the location manager or supplier when the machine needs attention.

The planned deployment of the proprietary machines is called "The ZaZZZ Machine." Beta testing of the machines are being planned to begin during the next quarter ended March 31, 2014. Once rollout begins in 2014, the automated dispensaries will be part of company's proprietary Zazzz Network where products will be chosen based on their popularity among adults.

The company's evolving 10-year-old optical and magnetic media technology division, Tranzbyte Technology, continues to remain actively engaged in promoting the sale of its optical media enhancement products to potential customers in Asia. Products in the Tranzbyte division include FLASHAlbum™ -- a technology that enables distributors of optical media (CDs, DVDs, etc.) to consolidate the best features of each medium onto a single content-protected USB flash drive. The FLASHAlbum concept will be tested and utilized in the Zazzz Machine as a product offering.
