CUBA BEVERAGE COMPANY
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Internally prepared by management
For the Year Ended December 31, 2014

NOTE 1-SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Activity

CUBA BEVERAGE COMPANY, a Wyoming corporation whose wholly-owned subsidiary, Cuba Beverage Company, a Delaware corporation, manufactures and sells an all-natural juice beverage in San Diego, California serving customers across the United States and internationally. The Company was incorporated on January 26, 2007. The corporation is a continuation of CUBA BEVERAGE COMPANY, a California Corporation merged as a Delaware Corporation on September 8, 2008. On July 31, 2010, Green Card Capital, Inc., a Wyoming corporation changed its name to Cuba Beverage Company and completed a share exchange with Cuba Beverage Company, the Delaware corporation, and became its wholly-owned subsidiary. The financial statements contained herein are the consolidated results of Cuba Beverage Company, Wyoming and Cuba Beverage Company, Delaware.

Revenue

During the quarter ending December 31st, 2014 the Company sold 2300 cases of its all-natural energy juice product for $4,160 or roughly $2.00 per case. A wholesaler generated the sales pursuant to a one time purchase agreement. The product sold to this quarter was due to expire the following month (January 2015) and the Company elected to recognize some revenue from what would become non-saleable product in the near future.

Total revenue during the quarter ended December 31, 2014 was $4,160 as compared to $42,223 for the quarter ended December 31, 2013 and represents a decrease in sales from the previous year of $38,063 or 90%. The expiration of the Company's available product is the primary attribute for the decrease, which correspondingly reduced sales by the respective distributors.

Accounts receivable

The Company is still a relative startup company and provides credit in the normal course of business to its customers and performs ongoing credit evaluations of those customers. The Company had $41,630 in Accounts Receivable outstanding at September 30, 2014 to one customer. The Company has initiated legal proceedings against this customer, however its collectability is not likely. Therefore this amount has been written off as a charge to expense for the period ending December 31, 2014.

Inventory & Cost of Goods Sold

Inventory consists primarily of beverages purchased and is stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) or market value. As of December 31, 2014, the Company has produced approximately no cases of its product from its production runs in 2012 and 2013 (collectively referred to production run # 1). All of the Company's product was set for expiration in January 2015 and as a result, becomes non-saleable for the fiscal 2015 period. The Company currently has written off the current inventory balance of $81,114, which reflects the cost of aluminum cans, can tab ends and the ingredients for Cuba Beverage Juice, exclusive of freight costs.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost. As noted in the original Accountants' Compilation Report, The Company uses the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System required for federal income tax purposes, which, does not allocate depreciation to expense over the estimated useful lives of the assets. As of December 31, 2014, the Company has fully depreciated its two property assets; furniture & fixtures and machinery & equipment, and as a result, the net capitalized balances for each are minimal.

The estimated useful lives for the major classes of property and equipment used in computing depreciation are as follows:

Equipment		5 years
Furniture and fixtures		5 to 7 years
Autos and trucks		5 years

Income Taxes

Deferred taxes are recognized for operating losses that are available to offset future federal income taxes.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and included in operating expenses. Inventories have been used as promotional items and have been given to distributors to promote sales. The Company will incur continued advertising expense in the form of promotional product distribution to various retailers for brand exposure.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Principal Products or Services, and Their Markets

The Company currently has distribution agreements on the West Coast and northeastern regions of the United States and in select markets around the world, with an emphasis in China and Turkey. CUBA currently produces 3 great-tasting unique Herbal Energy Juice flavors; Pomegranate-Cranberry, Wild Berry and Passion Fruit-Orange. CUBA's products were developed in response to strong demand for energy beverages. Healthy all-natural CUBA Herbal Energy Juice is in an exploding market of energy beverages. CUBA Herbal Energy Juice was one of the first all-natural energy products on the markets and continues to be a leader in the health and wellness category. Energy Drinks have now become the fastest growing sector within the beverage industry; however, there has always been a health concern over the market leading brands because of their high sugar and caffeine content. CUBA Herbal Energy Juice was developed under the direction of top industry scientists with the focus of creating viable, healthy and good tasting alternatives to the current array of existing products. Choice of ingredients was a major concern and focal point of early development and distinguishes CUBA from its competitors. Due to CUBA's use of healthy, good tasting ingredients, it represents a healthy all-natural alternative to existing energy beverage products. Consequently, CUBA stands out as a preferable alternative to soft drinks and to energy beverages. The premise behind the introduction of CUBA Herbal Energy Juice over three years ago was to provide a healthy fat-free boost of energy that would not result in an after the fact crash but instead provide a healthy and steady flow of energy. CUBA has trademarked the names "CUBA," "CUBA Herbal Energy Juice," "CUBA Beverage Company," and "CUBAtini" (CUBAtini is still in the registration process and has not yet been approved). Other than CUBAtini, the Patent and Trademark Office have approved these trademarks for publication.

The company is presently in the process of creating a new flavor using the natural sweetener Stevia, which will bring down the total calories and sugar content significantly, thereby making an even healthier, great-tasting beverage. The target per 12 ounce serving is 30-40 calories and 12-15 grams of crystalline fructose. This new product will be launched in the New York Tri-State area and will be introduced to the country Cuba. The company plans to use a different type of packaging and to bring down the production cost and end retail pricing to the consumer. The goal with this new product is to create the healthiest functional beverage at the best price to the consumer possible. With this new product, CUBA seeks to enter the "Sports Drink" category and offer a healthy, naturally sweetened alternative to existing products such as Gatorade and Powerade, and at extremely competitive pricing. CUBA will continue to produce its Cuba Herbal Energy Juice for sale in select markets in the United States but with a main focus on international sales.

Distribution methods of the products or services

The Company distributes products through a traditional distribution system and also utilizes a hybrid distribution model, or a combination of warehouse and Direct Store Delivery (DSD). The Company also distributes through a combination of Independent bottlers and regional distributors who sell the Company's products on a "best efforts basis."

The Company has strong marketing and distribution contacts in the USA, the Caribbean, & Mexico, China and Turkey. Cuba is placing a high importance on exportation to China and specifically the Guangdong Province. The continuing trade imbalance between the two most dominant markets in the world has created opportunities with respect to the increased ability to import from the United States. The Company has recently exported to Turkey and expects to export more products to this region in the near future. The company has found great markets internationally and a strong reception to the brand, the packaging and the all-natural ingredients. The company is currently negotiating a licensing deal for multiple countries, which is expected to be completed by Q2.

With the news that the United States and Cuba (the country) are moving toward normalization of relations for the first time in 50 years, CUBA has seen a renewed interest in the company and a significant increase in the share price and trading volume. The company also expects the brand to be better received as more people become interested in the country Cuba and the new relations between the United States and Cuba.

Competitive business conditions, the Issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition;

The Company has a great opportunity to establish a footprint as a Health & Wellness leader. While other Industry leaders are focused on mimicking line extensions, they are missing the chance to put a foothold into the Health & Wellness Category. This opportunity will not go away, but will continue to grow as more and more schools & work places opt to provide a healthy choice directly to their students and employees. Red Bull was firmly established as the #1 Energy Drink. No other brand with any significant market share was able to loosen the foothold Red Bull had created. Then in 2001 Rockstar and Monster Energy launched a brand proposition, 'twice the size for the same price'. This opportunity allowed competition to drive the market. Now, 5 brands stand firmly at the top and they continue to grow in the billions of dollars in revenue each year. All Energy Drinks today are loaded with extremely high doses of caffeine and taurine, either high sugar contents or with artificial sweeteners and none are 100% natural. The opportunity for CUBA to produce a functional Energy Drink armed as a product with no added caffeine, taurine free, and 100% natural is one of the attributes that has been attractive to consumers. CUBA now seeks to produce one of the healthiest, best tasting drinks on the market with the new functional beverage product it is in the process of creating. The company plans to market this product heavily in schools, as there is a tremendous need for healthy alternatives to sodas and other unhealthy drinks being served in schools throughout the United States.
