6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

A. a description of the issuer's business operations;

The Company was incorporated in the State of New Jersey on October 22, 1991 under the name of "PRS SUB VI, INC." On February 6, 2001, the Company amended its Certificate of Incorporation changing its name from PRS Sub VI, Inc. to Donini, Inc. Up until April 1, 2010, and through its subsidiaries, the Company was in the business of franchising pizza delivery businesses. Donini, Inc. had two Canadian subsidiaries, Donini Group, Inc. and Pizzacorp Franchises DTC, Inc., whose purposes were, respectively, to hold and control the intellectual property of the Company and to license the trademarks and oversee the licensed franchisees. Donini Group, Inc. was a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and Pizzacorp Franchises DTC, Inc. was a majority-controlled subsidiary of Donini Group, Inc. Through its Canadian subsidiaries, the Company was the franchisor of eight (8) pizza delivery restaurants operating under the trade name

"Pizza Donini", with seating of between 23 to 50 seats and one (1) 120-seat, fully-licensed Italian restaurant operating under the trade name "Donini Resto Bar". All units were operated by third parties and were located in the Greater Montreal area, in the province of Quebec, Canada. In 2008, the Company restructured its operations in two ways: first, it ceased all of its production activities and its call center, outsourcing those functions to third parties. The subsidiaries that formerly performed these activities were re-organized in a bankruptcy-type proceeding and liquidated. Secondly, the Company also converted all of its remaining operating units to franchised units, operated by third parties. This further reduced costs, but also substantially reduced gross revenues, which consisted of royalty payments and volume allowances of products to the franchise units. In 2010, the Company disposed of its 2 subsidiaries and all related assets and incurred a gain of $30,100 from their disposal. From 2010 until the present, the Company has continued limited operations with an emphasis on consulting in the field of restaurant and franchise operations.

On September 26, 2014, the Company entered into a Letter of Intent with various parties whereby it agreed, if certain conditions were satisfied, to acquire all of the issued and outstanding ownership interests in Golden Dog Productions, LLC ("Golden Dog"), a California-based production company formed on November 15, 2004, in exchange for a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Company (the "Merger Agreement"). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, and on November 16, 2014, the Company incorporated a wholly-owned subsidiary, GD Entertainment and Technology, Inc. ("GDET"), in the State of Nevada for the purposes of merging with and acquiring all of the issued and outstanding ownership interests in Golden Dog and, for the purpose of being the surviving corporation in the Merger Agreement.

On November 21, 2014, the Company effected the Merger Agreement with GDET and assumed the subsidiary's name.

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

GD Entertainment and Technology, Inc. ("GDET") began operations in California in 2004, as Golden Dog Productions, LLC, and is an international entertainment and technology corporation which owns, develops, acquires and monetizes media technologies and media intellectual properties. GDET specializes in the development, production and exploitation of multi-platform media and entertainment properties worldwide. GDET has developed significant relationships with major corporations, investors, technologies and production facilities in the US, Canada, Korea, Thailand, China, and Japan.

GDET also owns a substantial amount of assets in children's content on DVDs, TV series' and graphic novels based on well-known and internally developed characters. Over the past 10 years, GDET has created, produced, financed and/or distributed a wide variety of family-friendly content.

GDET began in 2004 providing consulting work to Korean animation production and distribution firms on production strategies involving their U.S. and Canadian counterparts. The business quickly expanded by creating the first co-production partnership between a Korean animation studio and a major North American studio. For the next 10 years, entertainment content production and distribution became the company's primary focus as the company expanded into graphic novels, ebooks, digital video and distribution of home-entertainment services. With its comprehensive U.S.-Asia distribution network, GDET began acquiring rights for specialty content in an aim to expand into independent, family-focused media distribution and rights ownership.

In 2004, GDET secured its first co-production agreement with Seoul Movie Co. Ltd.., receiving a $1million advance on the animated DVD, "Conan the Barbarian, Red Nails," a deal which included the distribution rights for Korea and all ancillary rights to the project, which they still control. GDET was responsible for all pre-production, animation production and provided additional production financing for the project. In 2006, GDET provided the animation development work for Marvel's "Fantastic Four" animated series for broadcast TV, on a work-for-hire basis, but provided GDET the opportunity to establish relationships with one of the world's leading animation studios. Also in 2006, GDET provided post-production services on the theatrical animated feature, "Toy Warrior" which was produced by Seoul Movie of Korea. GDET also negotiated the distribution deal for this picture with Hillcrest Distribution of Los Angeles. GDET still holds worldwide distribution rights for Korea.

During the next several years, GDET expanded its distribution and co-production relationships in Asia, providing distribution and financing for several successful animated TV series from Seoul Movie, including "Tangoo & Ullashong" and "Legend of Blue". These two series production budgets exceeded $5 million, and GDET orchestrated international distribution to China, Japan, Taiwan as well as the U.S. In 2008, GDET arranged the first animated TV series co-production between Korea and China, with the $5.2 million budgeted "My Little Fox" which was co-produced by China Central Television (CCTV) and Seoul Movie. "My Little Fox" was also the first Korean animation studio TV series production broadcast on CCTV.

In 2010, GDET partners with Steve Waterman, the Executive Producer of Casper the Friendly Ghost movie, Stuart Little series and Chipmunk series to produce the animated DVD, The Voyages of Young Dr. Doolittle." This video had a production budget of over $3 million and was distributed by Phase 4 of Canada to all outlets including broadcasting in Canada and HBO. GDET maintains 100% of all Korean distribution rights, and 25% of world-wide and ancillary rights to this property. Also during 2010, and through 2011, GDET developed and produced "The Almighty Bible" graphic novel series, a 10 title graphic novel series based on the stories of the Old and New Testaments. The total budget was $1.8 million with worldwide gross income being over $3,000,000. GDET maintains Western Hemisphere distribution rights to this series. The series was valued at over $5,000,000 by 21st Century Press, a Christian publisher in the U.S. 21st Century has been a Christian book and video distributor for almost 20 years.

During the past several years, GDET has been developing additional intellectual properties and relationships in the family entertainment, media and technology industries. GDET has been in discussions with major Thailand conglomerates and corporations, to partner with them in developing location-based entertainment projects.

On November 27, 2014, GDET signed a co-production agreement with Amaris Media, LLC, for the development, production and distribution of juvenile book titles into digital media and home video products. Amaris is headed by internationally-acclaimed author Bill Myers, whose books and videos have sold over 8 million units in the past decade. Beginning with Mr. Myers "Secret Agent" juvenile book series, GDET and Amaris will produce a multitude of cross-media properties, including a graphic novel, eBooks, and mobile apps. An animated home video will also be produced, with production taking place in Canada, Korea and the U.S. This is the first of several projects in development by GDET and its partners.

On December 9, 2014, GDET entered into an agreement to acquire Toronto-based media company, Eight E Media Inc., a Canadian private marketing and design firm specializing in media and location-based entertainment marketing. Eight E Media Inc. has an agreement in principal to acquire Norflicks Productions Ltd., also of Toronto, Canada. Norflicks boasts a 30 year history of quality film entertainment and a library of classic documentaries and family comedies, including the highly-acclaimed "The Little Vampires" TV series. In addition, GDET and Norflicks have agreed to cooperate on developing additional properties for both theatrical and digital markets. The Norflicks' library includes war documentaries and faith-based assets that have won popular and critical acclaim worldwide. As a result of a death by one of the principals in Norflicks, the negotiations to acquire Eight E. Media, Inc. were suspended to allow for the estate of Norflicks Productions, Ltd. to be settled. GDET plans to restart negotiations to acquire Eight E Media, Inc. before the end of calendar year 2015.

Today, GDET, driven by its media technology focus, has a growing slate of family-friendly projects in development and ready for production, including a live-stage production directed by award-winning creators of Cirque-style shows, and currently geared towards multiple markets in Asia; an animated feature film under management with a committed multi-million dollar budget; and the co-production of a number of animated programs for children based on a highly successful series of children's books.

In April of 2015, GDET announced two separate distribution agreements for its graphic novel properties: "StoneAge Santa" will be distributed by 21st Century Press of Springfield, MO, and "The Son" will be distributed by Dickinson Press, Inc./DPZ of Grand Rapids, MI.
