Issuers Fiscal Year End

The Company's fiscal year end was previously December 31, 2014; however, the Company has changed to February 28, beginning in 2015.

Description of issuer's business operations; Principal products or services, and their markets.

The Company has been acting as an investment company in mining and natural resources projects. The company focuses its resources in investing with on-going projects to establish immediate cash-flow for the company and provide profitability for its shareholders. The Company has researched through different databases of natural resources companies that are public and have substantial findings already proven. The Company will invest in these companies in exchange for shares and revenue sharing.

The company was previously focused on developing six mining claims known as the Dog Lake Project in the Wawa area of the Sault Ste. Marie Mining District in Ontario. In addition to its prolific history for gold mining, Wawa has shown promising signs of concentrated kimberlitic indicators, a favourable geological formation for diamond exploration. The company has a number of claims strategically located in this historic mining district. We have taken significant effort to ensure that the properties we explore deserve investment of time, effort and financial commitment necessary to establish successful mineral production in the future. As the Company is changing its focus, it will not be pursuing this venture, so the initial option costs will be expensed.

On March 15, 2012, the Company entered into an agreement to purchase certain intellectual property from Fortis, Ltd., a Seychelles corporation engaged in the business of developing and subsequent resale of various intellectual properties. The purchase price of $165,000.00 was settled by the assumption of a convertible note payable dated March 10, 2011 in favour of Wayfarer Management, Ltd. At this time the Company has concluded it is not in its best interest to proceed with the commercializing of the intellectual property.

On December 13, 2012, the Company announced that it signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Vietnam-based Anh Thang Mining Corp. to jointly mine and excavate some of the largest, active iron ore and steel mining properties in Northern Vietnam. The original plan was for the Company will utilize its resources, equipment and contract labor personnel to provide infrastructure support to Anh Thang project initiatives in Quang Ninh and Thanh Hoa provinces. The planned Joint Venture was for three years with an option to renew for another two years. In return, Anh Thang would allow Enterra Corporation a ten percent ownership in its mines once production volume has reached an agreed upon milestone. As a result of the Company's change in focus it will not be pursuing this venture, so the initial option costs will be expensed.

On January 15, 2014, the company entered into an acquisition agreement to purchase an oil lease for $492,000 that in terms of the acquisition and merger will be settled in 49,200,000 restricted common shares, valued at $0.001 per share, however, as these oil leases and the planned production and income flow did not materialize the Company rescinded the contract on May 9, 2014 and the common stock issued was returned to treasury.

On April 17, 2015, the Company completed its acquisition of VinCompass, a California corporation ("VinCompass") specializing in wine apps and e-commerce, which the Company initially entered into a Letter of Intent with on March 17, 2015. Enterra closed on the Share Exchange with VinCompass, the shareholders of VinCompass (the "VinCompass Shareholders), and the controlling stockholders of the Company on April 17, 2015. As a result of the Share Exchange, the Company acquired 5,200,000 shares (100%) of VinCompass in exchange for the issuance of 52,000,000 restricted shares of common stock. As a result of the Share Exchange, VinCompass is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company will carry on the business of VinCompass as its primary business retroactively effective as of March 1, 2015.

Note 1. General Organization and Business

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet its obligations and continue its operations for its next fiscal year. Realization values may be substantially different from carrying values as shown and these financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. As of February 28, 2015, the Company had not yet achieved profitable operations, had accumulated losses of $31,569,821 since inception and is expected to incur further losses in the development of its business, which cast substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon future profitable operations and/or the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. Management has obtained additional funds by related party's advances; however, there is no assurance that this additional funding is adequate and further funding may be necessary.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and are stated in US dollars. Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future event, the preparation of financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates which have been made using careful judgment. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below:

Development Stage Company

The Company is a development stage as defined under ASC 915. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and none of its planned principal operations have commenced. All losses accumulated since inception has been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

Financial Instruments

The carrying values of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, promissory notes payable and due to related parties approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments. Management is of the opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from these financial instruments.

Stock Issued in Exchange for Services

The valuation of common stock issued in exchange for services is valued at an estimated fair market value as determined by officers and directors of the Company based upon other sales and issuances of the Company's common stock within the same general time period.

Stock-based Compensation

Under ASC 718, "Compensation-Stock Compensation", the Company recognizes the cost of employee services received in exchange for equity instruments, based on the grant-date fair value of those instruments, with limited exceptions. ASC 718 also affects the pattern in which compensation cost is recognized, the accounting for employee share purchase plans, and the accounting for income tax effects of share-based payment transactions.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company translates foreign currency transactions and balances to its reporting currency, United States Dollars, in accordance with ASC 830, "Foreign Currency Matters". Monetary assets and liabilities are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate in effect at the end of the relevant reporting period. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities assumed. Revenue and expenses are translated at the rate approximating the rate of exchange on the transaction date. All exchange gains and losses are included in the determination of net income (loss) for the year.

Basic and Diluted Loss per Share

The Company computes net loss per share in accordance with ASC 260, "Earnings per Share", which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the year including stock options, using the treasury stock method, and convertible preferred stock, using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the year is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

Income Taxes

Under ASC 740, the Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability method. Under the asset and liability method of ASC 740, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statements carry amounts of existing assets and liabilities and loss carry forwards and their respective tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Note 3. Common Stock

For the two months ended February 28, 2015, the Company did not issue any more shares. See subsequent events notes for shares returned to treasury after this stub period.

Note 4. Due to Related Parties

On February 28, 2015, $390,485 (2014 year end: $386,390) was due to several corporations related to the Company. These amounts bear no interest and with no stated repayment terms; the Company recorded no imputed interest on these borrowings.

Note 5. Income Taxes

The Company provides for income taxes under ASC 740, "Income Taxes". ASC 740 which requires the use of an asset and liability approach in accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and the tax rates in effect currently.

As of February 28, 2015, the Company had deficits accumulated during the development stage of approximately $95,965, which remains unchanged from the December 31, 2013 year end, available in computing net deferred tax assets which may be used to offset future taxable income.
