6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

A. a description of the issuer's business operations;

The Company is in the business of "pinhooking" thoroughbred racehorses. The Company purchases thoroughbred racehorses for the specific purpose of a later resale. Typically the Company purchases horses privately or at a major thoroughbred sale as yearlings, overseeing their breaking and training and then reselling them the following year as race ready two year olds in training at one of the major sales.

B. Date and State (or Jurisdiction) of Incorporation:

Incorporated March 2, 2004 in Utah

C. the issuer's primary and secondary SIC Codes;

N/A

D. the issuer's fiscal year end date;

September 30

E. principal products or services, and their markets;

The Company purchases, trains and resells horses with an emphasis on the acquisition of thoroughbred weanlings or yearlings that are resold as race juveniles. This niche market is commonly referred to as pinhooking. The two primary classifications of pinhooking engaged in by the Company are weanling to yearling and yearling to two-year old. Management does not believe that he two more mature age cycles of 1) broodmare prospect to in-foal mare and 2) stallion shares, are consistent with the inventory turn cycle indentified by the Company as one year and not to exceed eighteen months.

Consistent with the true nature of pinhooking, it has been the position of management that risks inherent with the matriculation into formal racing is too exposed to environmental circumstances to properly maintain profit margins in the horses.

The management of the Company has extensive equestrian experience and it is this experience that facilitates the necessary risk assessment procedures to more efficiently evaluate purchasing opportunities. Our vice president John Brocklebank, has spent 20+ years evaluating thoroughbreds to incorporate critical indicators regarding:

--Pedigree analysis;
--Conformation analysis;
--The growth cycles of young horses;
--Previous auction results for progeny by the same sire; and
--The quality/price/performance of the previous progeny of the mare.

The Company historically limits the purchase price for new horses to $50,000 in order to take advantage of higher potential returns without having to access the highest tier of purchasers. To date, the Company has only purchased one horse for $50,000 with the average of approximately 20 horses ranging between $12,500 and $35,000. Currently, the Company does not have current capital available to purchase more than one horse at a time and is subject to higher risks due to uncontrollable outcomes of animals in general. A unique attribute of pinhooking as a commodity is that the variable costs of maintaining each horse does not vary dependent upon the acquisition price. The Company has owned as many as five horses at the same time and must be proactive to minimize boarding and training expenses.

The primary market for the horses acquired and sold by the Company include Barrets Equine Limited. Keeneland Sales, Ocala Breeders' Sales Company, along with private individuals and unaffiliated syndicates. To limit transportation and boarding expenses, horses are only transported to the major sales immediately prior to the particular sales event.
