(B) Business of Issuer. We, sell scooters, atv's, utv's and off-road buggies. Our products are sold both at our store and online while our buggy repair services are sold and fulfilled at our store. Our goal is to address the growing demand for on road and off-road vehicles while offering our customers the highest quality products at the most affordable and competitive prices, following up with customer care and support services.

Our plan of growth is to capitalize on the growth of the U.S. market for Chinese made scooters, atv's, utv's and off-road buggies and go karts, as well as to establish master dealer arrangements with leading brands, continue to expand our online sales and to leverage our equity to negotiate and acquire synergistic businesses.

Chinese manufacturers have taken the lead in production of the newest generation of scooters, atv's, utv's, off-road buggies and go karts that are being widely accepted by consumers in the United States resulting in a supply-demand issue in terms of quality repair shops capable of providing adequate support as well as in the development of modification kits and performance add-ons. Our goal is to address this growing demand while offering our customers the highest quality products at the most affordable and competitive prices, and following up with excellent customer care and support services.

Our Industry

Recreational vehicles are a $16.4 billion market, according to the trade journal Off-Road Impact. Off-road karting uses a four-wheeled powered vehicle designed for off-road use as opposed to the longer established activities of racing go karts used for racing on a paved road circuit. Off-road karting is now a well established and popular activity with a burgeoning range of vehicles, options and adherents.

Just as the automobile has been undergoing evolutionary changes, noticeably in the field of "off-road" use, the smaller recreational vehicles called "go karts" have spawned a new generation of vehicle for off-road use. The origins of using a go kart sized vehicle for off-road use undoubtedly had many stages of development and claimants whose home-made vehicles were "the first" off-road go karts. The first manufactured off-road go kart was from Honda who released in 1977 a vehicle they called the "Odyssey," essentially an off-road go kart with a 250 cc two stroke engine, single seat, and a CVT automatic transmission. The main differences to the traditional racing go kart were a bigger size of tires (giving greater ground clearance and off-road traction) and a roll cage.

The Odyssey proved to be a very popular vehicle and in 1985, Honda made major upgrades to the Odyssey and released the FL350. Changes were an improved roll cage, 350 cc engine with electric starter, and a full front and back suspension system. Then in late 1989, Honda released the FL 400. In addition to the increased engine size (a liquid cooled 400 cc unit) it was available in an optional two side by side seating configuration and had its suspension improved to handle the extra load. However, these modifications resulted in an expensive vehicle with disappointing sales which caused Honda to cease manufacture in 1990.

Although today these aging Honda units are still present and have an enthusiastic following, their main achievement was to create a pool of enthusiasts alerted to the possibilities of off-road small vehicle fun and keen to develop these possibilities. Chinese manufacturers have taken the lead in the production of the newest generation of off-road buggies and go karts that are being widely accepted by U.S. consumers resulting in a supply-demand issue in terms of quality repair shops capable of providing adequate support as well as in the development of modification kits and performance add-ons.

Our Business Plan

It is our plan to maximize the operating and financial performance of our dealerships by achieving certain efficiencies. We believe this will enhance internal growth and profitability. We believe that by consolidating these functions we will be able to reduce overall expenses, simplify dealership management, create economies of scope with leveraged buying power and provide a level of expertise that would otherwise be unavailable to each dealership individually.

Our Primary Outlet. Ride House located in San Diego, California, is our primary location to sell scooters and atv's. We currently utilize a "just-in-time" inventory system which reduces our overall inventory expense and risk. We typically carry about 2 of each available kit in stock at the time. Additional parts can typically be received within 24-hours if we are currently out of stock. We ship all requested products within 72 hours of each order.

Online Strategy. We have established an online sales presence at www.joyridemotors.com and www.countyimports.com, where we sell our products and resell others through strategic partnerships. We believe that online sales will continue to be an important component of our growth strategy in that the nature of the business provides for greater price elasticity and less inventory risk than is available in a brick-and-mortar environment.

However, we intend to expand our brick and mortar presence to four stores which we expect will position us to negotiate exclusive sales rights on a regional basis for several key brands. We believe operating leverage through store expansion is critical to our success in securing competitive advantages in the market with leading brand names.

We currently own the rights to the following Internet domains:

Acquisition Strategy. In August 2008, we purchased Buggy World, Inc., located in Santee, California, and now our primary service outlet, for $613,202 which we believe is extremely synergistic to our core offerings. Buggy World achieved revenue of $1.6 million in sales during 2007 and is particularly well-positioned for growth in the Southern California region, which is our core market. The purchase price was raised through loans from our stockholders and a loan from Cambio Enterprises, Inc. According to the terms of the sale, we purchased 100 percent of the outstanding shares of Buggy World, Inc., which included all of the assets listed on its books at the time of the sale. Buggy World, Inc. continues to operate as our wholly-owned subsidiary. The financial statements attached to this report reflect the activity of San West, Inc. for the years ending December 31, 2010 and 2009.

As we acquire new dealerships, we intend to automate as many functions as we can to reduce overall expenses, simplify operations and dealer management and to create economies of scope with leveraged buying power as well as to provide a level of expertise that would otherwise be unavailable to each dealership individually.

We have identified the following strategic components as integral to our overall success and profitability:

Sales and Service Effectiveness. Consumers have become more sophisticated in evaluating and purchasing products, as a result of the wide-spread availability of the Internet and greater access to information, and, as a result, require a more comprehensive offering, as well as intelligent and informative presentations.

Competitive Workforce Development. A significant portion of the compensation we pay to our sales staff is commission based. We believe that commission-based compensation provides incentive for our salespersons to expend their greatest efforts to sell our products and services. Since their compensation is directly related to our sales, our ability to hire successful salespersons is conditioned upon their belief that our dealerships will generate significant traffic necessary to maximize sales opportunities.

E-Commerce and Mail Order Opportunities. We have developed e-commerce and mail order strategies for the sales of parts and accessories that are expected to expand our customer base outside of our dealership territories. We believe that the expansion of our business, over the Internet and through mail order business, will assist us in the development of a national presence and create customer interest to visit one of our stores, as well as create additional opportunities for strategic business relationships with dealerships outside of the territories where our dealerships are located.

Item 14: The nature of products or services offered.

In responding to this item, please describe the following:

1. Principal products or services, and their markets;

Products

We specialize in developing and marketing products and services for off-road enthusiasts. We conduct our business primarily at our facilities in San Diego, California. We believe that the ratio of online transactions to our total transactions will continue to increase as the Internet population grows

We offer the following products and services to our customers:

·Buggy sales;

·Scooters sales

·Atv sales

·Utv sales
All related services

In addition to product sales, we also provide servicing and repair services for the products we sell as a courtesy to our customers, and third-party products as well. These services, which are provided by mechanics, include crash repairs (body work) and normal wear and tear installation and repairs such as brake replacement, repair of exhaust systems, shock absorber replacement, battery replacement, oil changes and tune-ups. We do not have any plans to increase this part of our business, in the future, as we do not believe that servicing and repairs offers any opportunity for producing significant income for our business.

Raw Material Availability

The Company will accumulate its inventory from a number of sources. As the Company becomes more established and is able to generate sufficient volume, the Company anticipates that it will be able to deal for better prices directly with the larger suppliers.

Marketing

We plan to attend and present at industry tradeshows and also intend to market our products through television, radio, print and outdoor advertising. Advertising costs will be funded primarily through cooperative advertising programs established by the manufacturers of the products. Under these programs, most dealers have access to certain capital per unit sold during the previous year. It is our strategy to acquire and use the maximum amount of advertising funds available to us.

Since our online store has been operated only since 2006, we currently do not have strong brand identity or brand loyalty. We believe that establishing and maintaining brand identity and brand loyalty is critical to attracting customers to our online store and developing additional relationships with suppliers and securing contracts to directly ship our products. In order to attract customers to our online store and respond to competitive pressures, we may be forced to spend substantial funds to create and maintain brand recognition among consumers and suppliers. We believe that advertising rates and the cost of our advertising campaigns in particular, could increase substantially in the future. If our branding efforts are not successful, our ability to earn revenues and sustain our operations will be harmed.

Promotion and enhancement of our online store will also depend on our success in consistently providing high-quality products to our customers. Since we rely on suppliers to directly ship products purchased to our customers, if our suppliers do not ship quickly, or if our consumers do not perceive the products we offer as superior, the value of the our San West brand could be harmed. Any brand impairment or dilution could decrease the attractiveness of San West to one or more of these groups, which could harm our business, results of operations and financial condition.

2. Distribution methods of the products or services;

We conduct our business primarily at our facilities in San Diego, California. We believe that the ratio of online transactions to our total transactions will continue to increase as the Internet population grows.

3. Status of any publicly announced new product or service;

None

4. Competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition;

The recreational vehicle retailing industry is highly competitive with respect to price, service, location and selection. There are an estimated 4,000 retail stores throughout the United States. We compete with numerous dealerships in each of our market segments, many of which are large and have significant financial and marketing resources. We also compete with private market buyers and sellers of used vehicle dealers that sell used karts and other power sports products, service center chains and independent shops for service and repair business. Some of these businesses are capable of operating on smaller gross margins than those on which we are capable of operating because they have lower overhead and sales costs.

In many states, dealerships have an exclusive 5-mile to 12-mile franchised territory, similar to automobile dealerships. While franchised territories can sometimes restrict market entry and subsequently market penetration; franchise restrictions can likewise provide protection from over-saturation.

The principal competitive factors include size of customer base, customer loyalty, product breadth, availability of service, pricing and brand recognition.

We believe that the following competitive strengths enable us to compete effectively and to capitalize on the growth of the recreational vehicle market in the U.S. and distinguish us from our competitors:

- Excellent Service Infrastructure. We have the ability to service all makes and models including imports, which enables us to attract and expand our consumer service base and create potential for up-selling.

- Excellent Sales Force and Comprehensive Customer Service. We place significant emphasis on technology, personnel and training to facilitate consistently superior customer service and support, which we believe is critical to our long-term success.

Please also identify whether any of the foregoing persons have, in the last five years, been the subject of:

1. A conviction in a criminal proceeding or named as a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses);

None.

2. The entry of an order, judgment, or decree, not subsequently reversed, suspended or vacated, by a court of competent jurisdiction that permanently or temporarily enjoined, barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business, securities, commodities, or banking activities;

None.

3. A finding or judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction {in a civil action), the SBC, the CFTC, or a state securities regulator of a violation of federal or state securities or commodities law, which finding or judgment has not been reversed, suspended, or vacated

None.

4. Entry of an order by a self-regulatory organization that permanently or temporarily barred suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business or securities activities.

None.
