Item 6: Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

A. Description of the Issuer's Business Operations

American Transportation Holdings Inc. (the Company) was originally incorporated in Nevada in 2006 under the name Micro Mammoth Solutions, Inc. The Company is not and has never been a shell since its incorporation in September 2006. The Company changed ownership once in the past 10 years since its incorporation. The Company's majority of shares were recently sold to Mr. Jack C. Corn who will continue to pursue the Company's current business in the gaming and peer to peer betting industry. The Company is currently traded on the OTC Markets under ticker symbol ATHI.

The Company had changed its name three times in anticipation of the new business opportunities, that were supposed to be tangential and synergistic to the current business conducted by the Company. During the past 5 years the Company entertained several investments and acquisition opportunities, however, it happened that those transactions, which would have generated significant revenue, were never finalized until recently when Mr. Corn purchased the majority of the Company's shares. Despite the Company's recent name change to American Transportation Holdings, Inc., the Company was never purchased by the Florida transportation company for which it changed its name. The Company has finalized its transaction with Mr. Corn who will be driving the business in its current direction in the peer-to-peer betting and gaming development market.

In 2013, the Company received an investment from a private equity investor to build what will be the Company's new peer-to-peer betting platform. Since then, the Company has become focused on game development in the peer-to-peer gambling market and the entertainment industry.

On June 11, 2015 the Company purchased AMCT, Inc., a company that creates mobile games and multi-media platforms for games and peer-to-peer betting based in Maryland. AMCT became ATHI's wholly-owned subsidiary. It was purchased in return for the Company's agreement to assume AMCT's debt that the Company incurred in its development of its gaming and peer-to-peer betting platforms.

The Company specializes in the creation and production of cloud-based games and applications that are accessible to large numbers of competing players irrespective of their geographic location, connection type (Wi-Fi, cell network) or access platform (pc, IOS, Android, social networks). The games are played in real time and encourage participants to spend money to extend their gameplay experience and/or improve their performance. In particular, the Company has identified a growing opportunity to enhance certain games with a facility for competing players to legally place small wagers on the outcome. This trend is anticipated to grow substantially and the Company intends to pioneer the concept with its own brand of games or in partnership with major licensors. A differentiating characteristic is that the participants in each wager are not passive; they can bring their skill and judgment to bear on the outcome, making the wager concept more enticing.

The Company has never been involved in any bankruptcy, receivership or any similar proceeding. There has never been any delisting of the Company's securities by any securities exchange or NASDAQ or deletion from the OTC Bulletin Board. There are no current, past, pending or threatened legal proceedings or administrative actions either by or against the issuer that could have a material effect on the issuer's business, financial condition or operations.
