ALLIED ENERGY CORPORATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2015
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

Allied Energy Corporation was incorporated in the State of Nevada on May 5, 1994 as Sterling Harvest, Ltd. On January 11, 2006 the Company changed its name to its current name. In July 2011 the District Court in the State of Nevada appointed the controlling shareholder to serve as the custodian of the Corporation pursuant to NRS 78.347.

NOTE 2 – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business.

As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Company had an accumulated deficit at December 31, 2015 of $ (1,453,847) and its liabilities exceeded its assets. These factors among others raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

While the Company is attempting to commence operations and generate revenues, the Company's cash position may not be significant enough to support the Company's daily operations. Management intends to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering. Management believes that the actions presently being taken to further implement its business plan and generate revenues provide the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern. While the Company believes in the viability of its strategy to generate revenues and in its ability to raise additional funds, there can be no assurances to that effect. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the Company's ability to further implement its business plan and generate revenues.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 3 – CONVERTIBLE NOTE PAYABLE

The Company entered into a convertible note agreement on February 1, 2010 for $2,895 anytime after December 31, 2011. The amount is convertible into common shares at the market rate. As the note due date expired the financials do not include any derivative liability. During the quarter ended March 31, 2013 this note has been written off and recorded as additional paid in capital.

On January 15, 2013, the Company issued $10,000 convertible notes payable to William Marshall for the professional service expenses incurred by him on behalf of the company. The note is convertible into shares of common stock at the option of the holder.

On February 1, 2013, William Marsh assigned the $10,000 note to Unified Trades Ltd and Evergreen Global Systems for $5,000 each.

On April 3, 2013, Unified Trades Ltd and Evergreen Global Systems exercised their option and converted the note to 4,000,000 shares of $5,000 each.

During the three months ended June 30, 2014, the Company received $44,500 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended September 30, 2014, the Company received $90,500 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended December 31, 2014, the Company received $129,300 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended March 31, 2015, the Company received $92,000 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended June 30, 2015, the Company received $106,196 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company received $98,781 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

During the three months ended December 31, 2015, the Company received $66,985 from third parties towards convertible note payable. These notes are unsecured, bears no interest and convertible into common shares at the market rate.

As of December 31, 2015, there were $ 628,262 convertible note outstanding.
