NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

The O.T. Mining Corporation (the Company or OT) was incorporated in September of 1980 under the laws of the State of Montana as Ruby Resources of Montana Inc. for the purpose of acquiring and developing economic ore bodies. In May 1987, the Company changed its name to The O.T. Mining Corporation. The Company has elected a June 30 fiscal year-end. The Company is in the exploration stage, as it has not realized any significant revenues from its planned operations.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management, which is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. The accounting policies applied in the preparation of the financial statements conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Accounting Method
The Company uses the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Cash Equivalents
The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Concentration of Risk
The Company maintains its cash in a commercial bank in Westmount, Quebec, Canada. The Canadian dollar accounts in Quebec are guaranteed by the Canadian Deposit Insurance Corporation (CIDC) up to $100,000 Canadian. At December 31, 2015, the Company did not exceed the CDIC insured limits.

Earnings Per Share
The Company calculates "basic" and "diluted" earnings per share. Basic earnings per share includes no dilution and is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted earnings per share reflect the potential dilution of securities that could share in the earnings of an entity similar to fully diluted earnings per share. Although there were common stock equivalents outstanding, they were not included in the calculations of earnings per share because they would have been considered anti-dilutive.

Estimates
The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Exploration Stage
The Company has been in the exploration stage since its formation in September 1980 and has not yet realized any revenues from its planned operations. It is primarily engaged in the acquisition, exploration and development of natural resource properties. Upon establishing the existence of proven reserves in one of its properties, the Company plans to sell the reserve-containing property for cash or stock or a combination thereof.

Foreign Currency Translation
As the Company's functional currency is the U.S. dollar, and all translation gains and losses are transactional, the Company has no assets with value recorded in Canadian dollars and there is no recognition of other comprehensive income from foreign currency translation in the financial statements.

Foreign Operations
The accompanying balance sheet contains certain recorded Company assets (principally cash) in a foreign country (Canada). Although Canada is considered economically stable, it is always possible that unanticipated events in foreign countries could disrupt the Company's operations.

Mineral Exploration and Development Costs
All exploration expenditures are expensed as incurred. Significant property acquisition payments for active exploration properties are capitalized. If no minable ore body is discovered, previously capitalized costs are expensed in the period the property is abandoned. Expenditures to develop new mines, to define further mineralization in existing ore bodies, and to expand the capacity of operating mines, are capitalized and amortized on a units-of-production basis over proven and probable reserves.

Should a property be abandoned, its capitalized costs are charged to operations. The Company charges to operations the allocable portion of capitalized costs attributable to properties sold. Capitalized costs are allocated to properties sold based on the proportion of claims sold to the claims remaining within the project area.

Provision for Taxes
Income taxes are provided based upon the liability method of accounting pursuant to ASC 740-10-25 Income Taxes – Recognition. Under the approach, deferred income taxes are recorded to reflect the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their financial reporting amounts at each year-end. A valuation allowance is recorded against deferred tax assets if management does not believe the Company has met the "more likely than not" standard imposed by ASC 740-10-25-5 to allow recognition of such an asset.

Reclassification
Certain amounts from prior periods have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. This reclassification has resulted in no changes to the Company's accumulated deficit or net losses presented.
