GrandSouth BANCORPORATION

2015

ANNUAL REPORT

GrandSouth
BANCORPORATION

Dear Shareholders,

It is with great pleasure that we report to you the results of 2015. This was a remarkable year for our company in terms of financial performance and especially in terms of the additions made to our team. In June, 2015, GrandSouth Bank elected Mr. J.B. Schwiers as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Schwiers has over 35 years of experience as a banking executive in South Carolina banks including as a founder and Executive Vice President of Summit National Bank of Greenville and approximately 10 years as an executive with First Citizens Bank of South Carolina. The addition of Mr. Schwiers has brought new energy to our company along with a number of top-notch bankers in the areas of lending, credit, treasury management, deposit operations and information technology to further support our growth. The additions to staff, especially in the credit area, have been made to ensure that the company has adequate capacity to manage the planned growth in the markets in which we currently operate as well as markets we plan to enter over the next few years.

There were a number of other significant actions taken during 2015 including the redemption of $4 million (50%) of the remaining Series T Preferred Shares related to our participation in the U.S. Small Business Lending Fund (the remaining $3.9 million were subsequently redeemed in January 2016) and the approval by the company's Board of Directors to issue one million shares of common stock to increase the company's common equity. The shares were subsequently issued in February 2016 with net proceeds of $11.4 million received in new common equity. In December 2015, the company completed the construction and opened our fourth office in Greer, S.C. As this letter is being written, the company has initiated plans to enter the Midlands Region of South Carolina with offices in Columbia and Orangeburg which will be staffed by several highly experienced and successful banking professionals. We expect great things from our association with the new team members that will be operating in the Midlands Region of our state.

As you will note in the following financial report, we delivered strong earnings with $6.0 million of net income resulting in $1.56 per common share diluted compared to $4.4 million of net income for 2014 resulting in $1.15 per common share diluted. Earnings per common share diluted increased 36% from 2014 to 2015. Tangible book value per common share increased 14% during 2015 to $10.45. We also increased dividends in 2015 for both preferred and common shareholders by 76% over dividends paid in 2014. Assets grew by 12% to $426 million from $380 million at year-end 2014. Deposits grew 15% during the year from $306 million at year-end 2014 to $350 million at year-end 2015 and loans, net of reserves equaled $365 million at December 31, 2015 or 20% higher than net loans of $303 million at year end 2014.

The metrics commonly used to analyze banking companies reflect GrandSouth's high performance for the year and places our company at the very top of South Carolina companies. Return on average assets equaled 1.48% for 2015 compared to 1.11% for 2014. Return on average common equity improved to 16.8% for 2015 compared to 14.4% for 2014. We also made good progress on improving overall asset quality. Non-performing assets declined as a percentage of average assets from 2.64% at year-end 2014 to 1.65% at year-end 2015. We have seen similar reductions in delinquencies and improvements in the management of our loan portfolio through the addition of experienced credit administration professionals during 2015.

Looking forward, we believe our company is poised for significant growth in an operating environment which includes higher risk management costs, increasing technology investments and sluggish but upward trending interest rates. We have made strategic additions to our management team in response to the changes anticipated in our operating environment as well as the growth we expect from expansion into other regions of our state. We are confident in our approach to credit underwriting and our growth strategy of obtaining high quality talent to lead our growth efforts.

In closing, we want to thank our employees for their hard work in 2015. We have been able to create an environment that makes GrandSouth a great place to build a career and a fun place to work. We also want to thank our shareholders for their continued support. 2015 was an extraordinary year and we look forward to creating greater value for our shareholders over the long term.

Sincerely,

Mason Y. Garrett

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders
GrandSouth Bancorporation
Greenville, South Carolina

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of GrandSouth Bancorporation and its Subsidiary which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of GrandSouth Bancorporation and its Subsidiary as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Note 1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

GrandSouth Bancorporation (the "Company") is a South Carolina corporation organized in 2000 for the purpose of being a holding company for GrandSouth Bank (the "Bank"). On October 2, 2000, pursuant to a Plan of Exchange approved by the shareholders, all of the outstanding shares of $2.50 par value common stock of the Bank were exchanged for shares of no par value common stock of the Company. The Company presently engages in no business other than that of owning the Bank, has no employees, and operates as one business segment. The Company is regulated by the Federal Reserve Board. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and the Bank. All significant intercompany transactions and accounts have been eliminated in consolidation. The GrandSouth Capital Trust 1 (see Note 10) is an unconsolidated subsidiary.

The Bank was incorporated in 1998 and operates as a South Carolina chartered bank providing full banking services to its customers. The Bank is subject to regulation by the South Carolina State Board of Financial Institutions and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC").

Basis of presentation:

The accounting and reporting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and to general practices within the banking industry. The Company uses the accrual basis of accounting. In certain instances, amounts reported in prior years' consolidated financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current presentation. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported shareholders' equity or net income.

Estimates:

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentrations of credit risk:

The Company makes loans to individuals and small businesses for various personal and commercial purposes primarily in the upstate region of South Carolina. The Company's loan portfolio is not concentrated in loans to any single borrower or in a relatively small number of borrowers; however, 62% of the loan portfolio is secured by real estate. The market risk associated with declining real estate values exposes the Company to potential losses in the event of borrower default. An additional 16% of the Company's loan portfolio is collateralized by automobiles; this concentration is somewhat mitigated by low per-borrower exposure and by the geographical diversity of the borrowers. Management is not aware of any other concentrations of loans to classes of borrowers or industries.

In addition to monitoring potential concentrations of loans to particular borrowers or groups of borrowers, industries and geographic regions, management monitors exposure to credit risks that could arise from potential concentrations of lending products and practices such as loans that subject borrowers to substantial payment increases (e.g., principal deferral periods, loans with initial interest-only periods, etc.), and loans with high loan-to-value ratios. Additionally, there are industry practices that could subject the Company to increased credit risk should economic conditions change over the course of a loan's life. For example, the Company makes variable rate loans and fixed rate principal-amortizing loans with maturities prior to the loan being fully paid (i.e., balloon payment loans). These loans are underwritten and monitored to manage the associated risks. Management has determined that there is no concentration of credit risk associated with its lending policies or practices.

The Company's investment portfolio consists principally of obligations of the United States of America, government-sponsored entities and general obligation municipal securities. In the opinion of management, there is no concentration of credit risk in its investment portfolio. The Company places its deposits and correspondent accounts with and sells its federal funds to high quality institutions. Management believes credit risk associated with correspondent accounts is not significant.

Investment securities:

The Bank's investments in equity and debt securities are classified into one of three categories:

1. Available-for-sale: Securities that are not classified as either held-to-maturity or as trading securities and are reported at fair value, which is determined using quoted market prices. Unrealized gains and losses are reported, net of income taxes, as separate components of shareholders' equity (accumulated other comprehensive income). Gains or losses on dispositions of securities are based on the difference between the net proceeds and the adjusted carrying amounts of the securities sold using the specific identification method. Premiums and discounts are amortized into interest income by a method that approximates a level yield.
2. Held-to-maturity: Securities that the Company has the ability and intent to hold until maturity. These securities are stated at cost, adjusted for the amortization of premiums and the accretion of discounts. Premiums and discounts are included in interest income using a method that approximates a level yield. The Company has no held-to-maturity securities.
3. Trading: Securities that are bought and held principally for the purpose of selling in the near future. Trading securities are reported at fair value, and related unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the income statement. The Company has no trading securities.

Securities are evaluated for other-than-temporary impairment on a quarterly basis or more often if a potential loss-triggering event occurs. Impairment is considered to be other-than-temporary if it is more likely than not that a security will mature or be sold before its amortized cost can be recovered. In determining if there is evidence of credit deterioration, various factors are considered, including the severity of decline in market value below cost, the period of time over which the decline in fair value has existed, and the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, including any specific events that may influence the operations of the issuer.

Investment securities are considered to be other-than-temporarily impaired if it is probable that the issuer will be unable to make contractual payments as required or if management believes that the security's value will not recover within the estimated recovery period. For debt securities, management also considers the causes of the decline in value including changes in the general level of interest rates, as well as industry and issuer-specific factors, the issuer's financial condition, its near-term prospects and current ability to make future payments in a timely manner, changes in rating agencies' ratings at the evaluation date as compared with such ratings at the date of acquisition, and any likely action by such agencies. In addition, for asset-backed securities, the credit performance of the underlying collateral, including delinquency rates, cumulative losses to date, and any remaining credit enhancements is compared with expected credit losses. Other-than-temporary impairments related to credit issues are recognized through earnings while other-than-temporary impairments arising from other factors are recognized in other comprehensive income.

Other investments:

Other investments include the Bank's investment in the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") in which, as a member institution, the Bank is required to own stock. The stock is generally pledged against any borrowings from the FHLB. No ready market exists for the stock and it has no quoted market value. However, redemption of the stock historically has been at par value.

Loans and interest income on loans:

Loans are stated at the principal balance outstanding, increased or reduced by deferred net loan costs or fees. The allowance for loan losses is deducted from total loans in the consolidated balance sheets. Loan origination and commitment fees and certain direct loan origination costs (principally salaries and employee benefits) are deferred and amortized as an adjustment of the related loan's yield. Generally, these amounts are amortized over the contractual life of the related loans or commitments. Interest income is recognized on an accrual basis over the term of the loan based on the principal amount outstanding.

Loans are generally placed on nonaccrual status when principal or interest becomes ninety days past due, or when payment in full is not anticipated. When a loan is placed on nonaccrual status, interest accrued but not received is generally reversed against interest income. If collectability is in doubt, cash receipts on nonaccrual loans are not recorded as interest income, but are used to reduce principal. Loans are not returned to accrual status until the borrower demonstrates the ability to pay principal and interest.

Allowance for loan losses:

The provision for loan losses charged to operating expense reflects the amount deemed appropriate by management to establish an adequate allowance to meet the present estimated loss characteristics of the current loan portfolio. Management's estimate is based on periodic and regular evaluation of individual loans, the overall risk characteristics of the various portfolio segments, past experience with losses, and prevailing and anticipated economic conditions. Loans that are determined to be uncollectible are charged against the allowance. The provision for loan losses and recoveries on loans previously charged off are added to the allowance.

The Company accounts for impaired loans at the loan's fair value if it is probable that the lender will be unable to collect all amounts due in accordance with the terms of the loan agreement. Fair value may be determined based upon the present value of expected cash flows, market price of the loan, if available, or value of the underlying collateral. Expected cash flows are required to be discounted at the loan's effective interest rate.

When the ultimate collectability of an impaired loan's principal is in doubt, wholly or partially, all cash receipts are applied to principal. Once the reported principal balance has been reduced to zero, future cash receipts are applied to interest income to the extent that any interest has been foregone. Further cash receipts are recoveries of any amounts previously charged off.

The Company designates loan modifications as troubled debt restructurings ("TDRs") when, for economic or legal reasons related to the borrower's financial difficulties, a concession is granted to the borrower that would not otherwise be considered. Once a loan is classified as a TDR, it is also classified as an impaired loan. If a loan demonstrated performance under the previous terms and shows capacity to continue performing under the restructured terms, the loan will remain on accrual status. If the loan does not perform under the modified terms, the loan is placed on nonaccrual status. However, if a loan is materially delinquent on payments prior to the restructuring, but shows capacity to perform under the modified terms, the loan will be placed on nonaccrual status.

A loan currently on nonaccrual status will return to accrual status when there is economic substance to the restructuring, any portion of the debt not expected to be repaid has been charged off, the remaining note is reasonably assured of repayment in accordance with its modified terms, and the borrower has demonstrated sustained repayment performance in accordance with the modified terms for a reasonable period of time (typically six months).

Premises and equipment:

Premises and equipment are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets. Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations while major improvements are capitalized. Upon retirement, sale or other disposition of premises and equipment, the cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the accounts and any gain or loss is included in income from operations.

Bank owned life insurance:

The Company has entered into arrangements that provide for deferred compensation for certain officers. Bank owned life insurance policies provide an informal and indirect method for funding those arrangements. The amounts recorded as bank owned life insurance in the consolidated balance sheets represent the cash surrender value of the policies. The deferred compensation liability is included in other liabilities at the present value of the obligation.

Assets acquired in settlement of loans:

Assets acquired in settlement of loans include real estate acquired through foreclosure or deed taken in lieu of foreclosure and repossessed assets. These assets are recorded at fair value, less estimated costs to sell, at the date of foreclosure, establishing a new cost basis. Loan losses arising from the acquisition of such property as of that date are charged against the allowance for loan losses. Subsequent to foreclosure, valuations are periodically performed by management and the assets are carried at the lower of the new cost basis or fair value, less estimated costs to sell. Revenues and expenses from operations and changes in any subsequent valuation allowance are included in other noninterest expense in the Consolidated Statements of Income.

Goodwill:

Goodwill is calculated as the purchase premium after adjusting for the fair value of net assets acquired. Goodwill is not amortized but is reviewed for potential impairment on an annual basis, or when events or circumstances indicate a potential impairment, at the reporting unit level. The impairment test is performed in two phases. The first step of the goodwill impairment test compares the fair value of the reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, goodwill of the reporting unit is not considered impaired; however, if the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, an additional step has to be performed. This additional step compares the implied fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill with the carrying amount of that goodwill. An impairment loss is recorded to the extent that the carrying amount of goodwill exceeds its implied fair value. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, it was determined that the Company's recorded goodwill was not impaired.

Income taxes:

The Company uses an asset and liability approach for financial accounting and reporting of deferred income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the financial statement and income tax bases of assets and liabilities as measured by the currently enacted tax rates which are assumed will be in effect when these differences reverse. If it is more likely than not that some portion or all of a deferred tax asset will not be realized, a valuation allowance is recognized. Deferred income tax expense or credit is the result of changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Advertising and public relations expense:

The Company generally expenses advertising and promotion costs as they are incurred. External costs incurred in producing media advertising are expensed the first time the advertising takes place. External costs relating to direct mailings are expensed in the period in which the direct mailings are sent.

Earnings per common share:

Net income available to common shareholders per share is computed on the basis of the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. The treasury stock method is used to compute the effect of stock options on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for diluted earnings per common share.

Earnings per common share, continued:

As it relates to the Series A Preferred Stock, it is assumed that the preferred stock was converted to common stock during the reporting period. Dividends on the preferred stock are added back to net income and the shares assumed to be converted are included in the number of shares outstanding.

Statement of cash flows:

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents are defined as those amounts included in the balance sheet caption "Cash and cash equivalents". Cash and cash equivalents have an original maturity of three months or less.

Retirement plan:

The Company has a salary reduction profit sharing plan pursuant to Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code as more fully described in Note 15. The Company does not sponsor any postretirement or postemployment benefits, except with respect to certain supplemental benefits that were provided to certain executive officers by the Board of Directors, as more fully described in Note 15.

Fair value of financial instruments:

The Company is required to provide disclosures of fair value information for financial instruments, whether or not recognized in the consolidated balance sheets, when it is practicable to estimate the fair value. Financial instruments are defined as cash, evidence of an ownership interest in an entity or contractual obligations, which require the exchange of cash or other financial instruments. Certain items are specifically excluded from the disclosure requirements, including the Company's common stock and other nonfinancial instruments such as property and equipment and other assets and liabilities. See Note 18 for fair value disclosures.

Risks and uncertainties:

In the normal course of business the Company encounters two significant types of risks: economic and regulatory. There are three main components of economic risk: interest rate risk, credit risk and market risk. The Company is subject to interest rate risk to the degree that its interest-bearing liabilities reprice or mature at different times, or on different bases, than its interest-earning assets. Credit risk is the risk of default on the Company's loan and investment securities portfolios that results from a borrower's inability or unwillingness to make contractually required payments. Market risk reflects changes in the value of collateral underlying loans receivable and the valuation of real estate held by the Company.

The Company is subject to the regulations of various governmental agencies (regulatory risk). These regulations can and do change significantly from period to period. The Company undergoes periodic examinations conducted by the regulatory agencies which may subject it to further changes with respect to asset valuations, amounts of required loan loss allowance, and operating restrictions resulting from the regulators' judgments based on information available to them at the time of their examination.

Share-based compensation:

The Company has a share-based employee compensation plan, which is described more fully in Note 16.

Comprehensive income (loss):

Comprehensive income (loss) consists of net income or loss for the current period and other comprehensive income (loss), defined as income, expenses, gains and losses that bypass the consolidated statements of income and are reported directly in a separate component of shareholders' equity. The Company classifies and reports items of other comprehensive income (loss) according to their nature, reports total comprehensive income or loss in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income and displays the accumulated balance of other comprehensive income or loss separately in consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity and in the shareholders' equity section of the consolidated balance sheets. See Note 17 for further discussion.

Recently issued accounting pronouncements:

The following is a summary of recent authoritative pronouncements:

In January 2014, the FASB amended Receivables topic of the Accounting Standards Codification. The amendments are intended to resolve diversity in practice with respect to when a creditor should reclassify a collateralized consumer mortgage loan to other real estate owned (OREO). In addition, the amendments require a creditor reclassify a collateralized consumer mortgage loan to OREO upon obtaining legal title to the real estate collateral, or the borrower voluntarily conveying all interest in the real estate property to the lender to satisfy the loan through a deed in lieu of foreclosure or similar legal agreement. The amendments were effective for the Company for annual periods, and interim periods within those annual period beginning after December 15, 2014, with early implementation of the guidance permitted. In implementing this guidance, assets that are reclassified from real estate to loans are measured at the carrying value of the real estate at the date of adoption. Assets reclassified from loans to real estate are measured at the lower of the net amount of the loan receivable or the fair value of the real estate less costs to sell at the date of adoption. The Company applied the amendments prospectively. These amendments did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

In March 2014, the FASB amended the Consolidation topic of the Accounting Standards Codification. Under the amended guidance, a nonpublic entity has the option to exempt itself from applying the VIE consolidation model to a qualifying common control leasing arrangement. The amendments were effective for the Company for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2014, and interim periods within annual periods beginning after December 15, 2015, with early adoption permitted. The Company applied a full retrospective approach in which financial statements for each individual prior period presented and the opening balances of the earliest period presented were adjusted to reflect the period-specific effects of applying the amendments.

In May 2014, the FASB issued guidance to change the recognition of revenue from contracts with customers. The core principle of the new guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to reflect the transfer of goods and services to customers in an amount equal to the consideration the entity receives or expects to receive. The guidance will be effective for the Company for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017. The Company can apply the guidance using either the full retrospective approach or the modified retrospective approach. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In January 2015, the FASB issued guidance to eliminate from U.S. GAAP the concept of an extraordinary item, which is an event or transaction that is both (1) unusual in nature and (2) infrequently occurring. Under the new guidance, an entity will no longer (1) segregate an extraordinary item from the results of ordinary operations; (2) separately present an extraordinary item on its income statement, net of tax, after income from continuing operations; or (3) disclose income taxes and earnings-per-share data applicable to an extraordinary item. The amendments will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2015, with early adoption permitted provided that the guidance is applied from the beginning of the fiscal year of adoption. The Company will apply the guidance prospectively. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In April 2015, the FASB issued guidance which provides a practical expedient that permits the Company to measure defined benefit plan assets and obligations using the month-end that is closest to the Company's fiscal year-end. The amendments will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2015, with early adoption permitted. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In June 2015, the FASB issued amendments to clarify the Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), correct unintended application of guidance, and make minor improvements to the ASC that are not expected to have a significant effect on current accounting practice or create a significant administrative cost to most entities. The amendments were effective upon issuance (June 12, 2015) for amendments that do not have transition guidance. Amendments that are subject to transition guidance will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2015. Early adoption is permitted, including adoption in an interim period. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In August 2015, the FASB deferred the effective date of ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. As a result of the deferral, the guidance in ASU 2014-09 will be effective for the Company for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017. The Company may apply the guidance using either the full retrospective approach or the modified retrospective approach. The Company does not expect these amendments to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In January 2016, the FASB amended the Financial Instruments topic of the Accounting Standards Codification to address certain aspects of recognition, measurement, presentation, and disclosure of financial instruments. The amendments will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017, including interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company will apply the guidance by means of a cumulative-effect adjustment to the balance sheet as of the beginning of the fiscal year of adoption. The amendments related to equity securities without readily determinable fair values will be applied prospectively to equity investments that exist as of the date of adoption of the amendments. The Company has eliminated from the accompanying notes to the consolidated financial statements disclosures of fair values of financial instruments that are not reported at fair value in the consolidated balance sheets as a result of its early adoption of the new pronouncement. The Company does not expect any of the other aspects of the standard to have a material effect on its financial statements.

In February 2016, the FASB issued new guidance to change accounting for leases and that will generally require most leases to be recognized on the balance sheet. The new lease standard only contains targeted changes to accounting by lessors, however, lessees will be required to recognize most leases in their balance sheets as lease liabilities for lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the lessee's rights to use the underlying assets for the lease terms for lease arrangements longer than 12 months. Under this approach, a lessee will account for most existing capital/finance leases as Type A leases and most existing operating leases as Type B leases. Type A and Type B leases have unique accounting and disclosure requirements. Existing sale-leaseback guidance, including guidance for real estate, will be replaced with a new model applicable to both lessees and lessors. The new guidance will be effective for fiscal years (and interim periods within those fiscal years) beginning after December 15, 2018. Early adoption is permitted for all companies and organizations. Management is currently analyzing the impact of the adoption of this guidance on the Company's consolidated financial statements, including assessing changes that might be necessary to information technology systems, processes and internal controls to capture new data and address changes in financial reporting.

Other accounting standards that have been issued or proposed by the FASB or other standards-setting bodies are not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Note 2. Restrictions on Cash and Due from Banks

The Bank is required by regulation to maintain average cash reserve balances, computed by applying prescribed percentages to its various types of deposits, either at the Bank or in an account maintained with the Federal Reserve Bank. The average amounts of the cash reserve balances required at December 31, 2015 and 2014 were approximately $386,000 and $663,000, respectively.

Note 3. Investment Securities

The aggregate amortized cost and estimated fair values of securities, as well as gross unrealized gains and losses of securities were as follows:

The estimated fair values and gross unrealized losses of all of the Company's investment securities whose estimated fair values were less than amortized cost as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 which had not been determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired are presented below. The securities have been aggregated by investment category and the length of time that individual securities have been in a continuous unrealized loss position.

The Company individually evaluated the above noted securities that were in an unrealized loss position at December 31, 2015 and 2014, noting that the securities are primarily in an unrealized loss position due to interest rate factors and the broader economy in general. Based on this evaluation of these securities, no other-than-temporary impairment was noted at December 31, 2015 and 2014. In prior years, securities were evaluated for other-than-temporary impairment and one collateralized mortgage obligation (CMO) was determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired because the underlying mortgage loans that comprised the collateral pool for the security consisted of seven year balloon loans that were experiencing significant levels of delinquency. The Company had recorded credit-related impairment losses on the CMO of $59,000 cumulatively prior to 2012. The Bank does not intend to sell this security, and it is more likely than not that the Bank will not be required to sell the security prior to the recovery of its amortized cost less any current period credit loss.

The Bank is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") and, accordingly, is required to own restricted stock in that institution in amounts that may vary from time to time. The FHLB stock is carried at cost because it has no quoted market value and no ready market exists. Investment in FHLB stock is a condition of borrowing from the FHLB, and the stock is pledged to collateralize the borrowings. Dividends received on FHLB stock are included in other interest income. During 2015, the Bank purchased $395,000 and redeemed $460,000 in FHLB stock. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, the investment in FHLB stock was $1,276,000 and $1,341,000, respectively.

At December 31, 2015 and 2014, securities with a carrying value of $10,158,000 and $11,002,000, respectively, were pledged as collateral to secure FHLB advances, public deposits and other purposes.

Note 4. Loans

Loans consisted of the following as of December 31:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Commercial, financial and agricultural	$ 100,485	$ 74,174
Real estate - construction, land development and other land loans	47,714	33,284
Real estate - mortgage	182,284	155,089
Installment loans to individuals	38,867	45,723
Loans, gross	369,350	308,270
Allowance for possible loan losses	(4,315)	(4,813)
Loans - net	$ 365,035	$ 303,457

Variable rate and fixed rate loans totaled $266,690,000 and $102,660,000, respectively, at December 31, 2015.

At December 31, 2015, approximately $40,910,000 of loans were pledged as collateral to secure amounts borrowed from the FHLB.

The Company has purchased a portfolio of student loans with a carrying value of $35,868,000 and $42,907,000 at December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. The carrying value and accrued interest of these loans is 98% guaranteed by the issuing guarantee agency. These loans are included above in Installment loans to individuals.

Credit quality:

The following table summarizes delinquencies and nonaccruals, by portfolio class, as of December 31, 2015.

	Commercial, financial and agricultural	Real estate - construction, land development and other land loans	Real estate-mortgage	Installment loans to individuals	Total
	(Dollars in thousands)

Total loans	$ 74,174	$ 33,284	$ 155,089	$ 45,723	$ 308,270

Of the amounts listed above, $2,691,000 of the 30-59 days past due, $2,005,000 of the 60-89 days past due and $7,206,000 of the greater than 90 days past due, still accruing are 98% guaranteed as to principal and interest by the issuing guarantee agency and therefore have continued to be accounted for as accruing loans.

The gross interest income that would have been recorded under the original terms of the nonaccrual loans was $307,000 and $429,000 for 2015 and 2014, respectively.

As part of the loan review process, loans are given individual credit grades, representing the risk the Company believes is associated with the loan balance. Credit grades are assigned based on factors that impact the collectability of the loan, the strength of the borrower, the type of collateral, and loan performance. Commercial loans are individually graded at origination and credit grades are reviewed on a regular basis in accordance with our loan policy. Consumer loans are assigned a “pass” credit rating unless something within the loan warrants a specific classification grade.

At December 31, 2015 and 2014, approximately 95% and 94%, respectively, of the loan portfolio, had a credit grade of Acceptable or better. For loans to qualify for this grade, they must be performing relatively close to expectations, with no significant departures from the intended source and timing of repayment. Loans totaling $12.2 million and $11.6 million were classified as watch list at December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. This classification is utilized for loans with an elevated credit risk to borrowers with an adequate credit history and financial strength and are experiencing declining trends (e.g., financial, economic, or industry specific). Loans are designated as such in order to be monitored more closely than other credits in the loan portfolio. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, substandard loans totaled $7.2 million and $5.8 million, respectively. This classification is employed when loans are inadequately protected by the current sound worth and paying capacity of the borrower or of the collateral pledged; have well-defined weaknesses that jeopardize the liquidation of the loan; and there is a distinct possibility that the Company will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected.

The following tables summarize information relative to impaired loans individually evaluated for impairment, by portfolio class, at December 31, 2015 and 2014. The recorded investment in impaired loans is the unpaid principal balance, net of loan principal charged off.

There were no irrevocable commitments to lend additional funds to debtors owing amounts on impaired loans at December 31, 2015.

Troubled debt restructurings are loans which have been restructured from their original contractual terms and include concessions that would not otherwise have been granted outside of the financial difficulty of the borrower. Concessions can relate to the contractual interest rate, maturity date, or payment structure of the note. As part of our workout plan for individual loan relationships, we may restructure loan terms to assist borrowers facing challenges in the current economic environment. The purpose of a troubled debt restructuring is to facilitate ultimate repayment of the loan.

Provision and allowance for loan losses, continued:

At December 31, 2015 and 2014, the principal balance of troubled debt restructurings totaled $1.8 million and $5.2 million, respectively. All troubled debt restructurings were considered classified and impaired. Of the balance outstanding at December 31, 2015, and 2014, $0 and $429,000, respectively, were on nonaccrual. The remaining loans are currently performing in accordance with the new terms. The allowance for loan losses associated with those loans, on the basis of a current evaluation of loss was $229,000 and $180,000 at December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

During the year ended December 31, 2015, the Company did not modify any loans that were considered to be troubled debt restructurings.

As of December 31, 2015, three loans that had previously been restructured prior to December 31, 2014, were in default with a recorded investment of $0 as of year end. No loans restructured in the 12 months prior to December 31, 2015 went into default during the period.

During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company did not modify any loans that were considered to be troubled debt restructurings.

As of December 31, 2014, two loans that had previously been restructured prior to December 31, 2013, were in default. No loan restructured in the 12 months prior to December 31, 2014 went into default during the period.

Note 5. Assets Acquired In Settlement of Loans

Activity in the accounts for assets acquired in settlement of loans is as follows:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Balance, beginning of year	$ 7,615	$ 9,982

Note 7. Deposits, Continued

Interest expense on time deposits greater than $100,000 was $1,042,000 and $952,000 in 2015 and 2014, respectively. Brokered deposits were $32,554,000 and $28,372,000 as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, $6,000 and $23,000, respectively, of overdrawn demand deposit balances were reclassified as loans.

At December 31, 2015, the scheduled maturities of time deposits are as follows (dollars in thousands):

2016	$ 91,141
2017	47,365
2018	12,369
2019	5,515
2020	2,518
Thereafter	35
Total time deposits	$ 158,943

Time deposits that meet or exceed the FDIC insurance limit of $250,000 as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 were $58,025,000 and $27,465,000 respectively. These amounts do not include brokered deposits greater than $250,000 which are fully insured.

Note 8. Short-Term Borrowings

As of December 31, 2015, the banking subsidiary had unused short-term credit accommodations available from three unrelated banks which allows the banking subsidiary to purchase up to $23,000,000 of federal funds. The lenders reserve the right to withdraw the lines at their option. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively there were no federal funds purchased under these lines.

Note 9. Federal Home Loan Bank Advances

The FHLB advances are secured with approximately $40.9 million of mortgage loans and $1.3 million of stock in the FHLB. The FHLB advances had a weighted average interest rate of 0.92% and 0.85% as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

The Company's FHLB Advances as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 with fixed rates are as follows:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Interest rate 1.1400%, maturing September 6, 2016	$ 5,000	$ 5,000
Interest rate 1.3650%, maturing April 26, 2018	7,000	7,000
Total	$ 12,000	$ 12,000

Note 9. Federal Home Loan Bank Advances, Continued

The Company's FHLB Advances as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 with variable rates are as follows:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Interest rate of the FHLB Daily Rate (0.490% at December 31, 2015), maturing December 19, 2016	$ 10,000	$ -
Interest rate of the FHLB Daily Rate (0.355% at December 31, 2014), maturing December 23, 2015	-	10,000
Total	$ 10,000	$ 10,000

At December 31, 2015, the Bank had unused credit availability of up to $105,126,000 under the FHLB's various credit programs, subject to pledging and other requirements. The amount of eligible collateral instruments available as of December 31, 2015 to secure any additional FHLB borrowings totaled approximately $10,215,000.

Note 10. Capital Trust and Junior Subordinated Debentures

On May 3, 2006, the Company sponsored the creation of a Delaware statutory trust, GrandSouth Capital Trust I, (the "Trust") and is the sole owner of the $247,000 of common securities issued by the Trust. On May 10, 2006, the Trust issued $8,000,000 in floating rate capital securities. The proceeds of this issuance, and the amount of the Company's investment in the common securities, were used to acquire $8,247,000 principal amount of the Company's floating rate junior subordinated debt securities due in 2036 ("Debentures"). These securities, and the accrued interest thereon, now constitute the Trust's sole assets. The interest rate associated with the debt securities, and the distribution rate on the common securities of the Trust, is adjustable quarterly at 3 month LIBOR plus 185 basis points (aggregating 2.26620% at December 31, 2015). The Company may defer interest payments on the Debentures for up to 20 consecutive quarters, but not beyond the stated maturity of the Debentures. In the event that such interest payments are deferred by the Company, the Trust may defer distributions on the capital and common securities. In such an event, the Company would be restricted in its ability to pay dividends on its common stock and perform under obligations that are not senior to the Debentures. The Company has not elected to defer any distributions.

The Debentures are redeemable at par at the option of the Company, in whole or in part, on any interest payment date on or after June 23, 2011. Upon repayment or redemption of the Debentures, the Trust will use the proceeds of the transaction to redeem an equivalent amount of capital securities and common securities. The Trust's obligations under the capital securities are unconditionally guaranteed by the Company. In accordance with applicable accounting standards, the Trust is not consolidated in the Company's financial statements.

Note 11. Commitments and Contingencies

The Company is party to litigation and claims arising in the normal course of business. Management, after consultation with legal counsel, believes that the liabilities, if any, arising from such litigation and claims will not be material to the Company's financial position or results of operations.

The Company leases land upon which it constructed a branch office under a non-cancelable operating lease which expires in March 2018. The lease requires monthly lease payments of $800 and contains four renewal options of five years each which contain provisions for adjustments to the monthly lease payments. The lease agreement requires the Company to pay all property taxes.

The future minimum lease payments due under the current operating leases as of December 31, 2015, are as follows (dollars in thousands):

2016	$ 12
2017	12
2018	3
2019	-
2020	-
Thereafter	-
Total	$ 27

Note 12. Income Taxes

The following summary of the provision for income taxes includes tax deferrals, which arise from temporary differences in the recognition of certain items of revenues and expense for tax and financial reporting purposes:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Current
Federal expense	$ 3,074	$ 2,362
State expense	232	192
Total current	3,306	2,554
Deferred
Federal benefit	41	(9)
State benefit	14	0
	3,361	2,545
Change in valuation allowance	(55)	10
Total income tax expense	$ 3,306	$ 2,555

Note 12. Income Taxes, Continued

The income tax effects of cumulative temporary differences at December 31 are as follows:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Deferred tax assets
Allowance for loan losses	$ -	$ 141
Other real estate owned	745	946
Amortization of intangibles	518	536
Nonaccrual loan interest	108	146
State net operating loss carryforward	155	210
Deferred compensation	351	303
Unrealized net holding losses on available-for-sale securities	-	-
Other	206	89
Gross deferred tax assets	2,083	2,371
Valuation allowance	(155)	(210)
Total	$ 1,928	$ 2,161
Deferred tax liabilities
Unrealized net holding gains on available-for-sale securities	$ 127	$ 196
Allowance for loan losses	136	-
Accelerated depreciation	260	194
Other	131	566
Gross deferred tax liabilities	654	956
Net deferred income tax assets	$ 1,274	$ 1,205

Deferred tax assets represent the future benefit of deductible differences, and if it is more likely than not that a tax asset will not be realized, a valuation allowance is required to reduce the recorded deferred tax assets to net realizable value. The deferred tax asset valuation allowance for 2015 and 2014 is related to the Company's stand-alone state net operating loss carryforwards. Management believes realization of all other deferred tax assets is more likely than not and accordingly has not recorded any other valuation allowance.

The provision for income taxes is reconciled to the amount of income tax computed at the federal statutory rate of 34% on income before income taxes as follows for the year ended December 31:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Tax expense at statutory rate	$ 3,167	$ 2,356
State income tax, net of federal income tax benefit	167	127
Tax-exempt interest income	(98)	(103)
Bank-owned life insurance increase	(17)	(22)
Change in valuation allowance	(55)	10
Other, net	142	187
Total	$ 3,306	$ 2,555

The company has analyzed the tax positions taken or expected to be taken in its tax returns and concluded it has no liability related to uncertain tax positions in accordance with current accounting guidance.

The Company and its subsidiary file income tax returns with the federal government and the state of South Carolina. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to federal or state income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2012.

Note 13. Related Party Transactions

Certain directors, executive officers and companies with which they are affiliated are customers of and have banking transactions, including loans and commitments to lend, with the Bank in the ordinary course of business. Such transactions are made on substantially the same terms, including interest rates and collateral, as those prevailing at the time for comparable arms-length transactions. A summary of loan and commitment transactions with directors and executive officers, including their affiliates, follows:

	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Balance, beginning of year	$ 3,906	$ 3,299
New loans	1,104	974
Less loan payments	(1,210)	(367)
Balance, end of year	$ 3,800	$ 3,906

Deposits of directors and their related interests at December 31, 2015 and 2014 approximated $3,740,000 and $3,000,000, respectively.

The Company leases land from a relative of a director, shareholder and executive officer of the Company (see Note 11). Lease expenses charged to operations under these arrangements totaled $12,000 in 2015 and 2014.

Note 14. Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk

In the ordinary course of business, and to meet the financing needs of its customers, the Bank is party to various financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk. These financial instruments, which include commitments to extend credit and standby letters of credit, involve, to varying degrees, elements of credit and interest rate risk in excess of the amounts recognized in the balance sheets. The contract amounts of those instruments reflect the extent of involvement the Bank has in particular classes of financial instruments.

The Bank's exposure to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the other party to the financial instrument for commitments to extend credit and statndby letters of credit is represented by the contractual amounts of those instruments. The Bank uses the same credit policies in making commitments and conditional obligations as it does for on-balance sheet instruments. Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any material condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require the payment of a fee. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, unfunded commitments to extend credit were $129,013,000 and $105,318,000, respectively. The Bank evaluates each customer's creditworthiness on a case-by-case basis. The amount of collateral obtained, if deemed necessary by the Bank upon extension of credit, is based on management's credit evaluation of the borrower. Collateral varies but may include accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment, and commercial and residential real estate. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, there were outstanding letters of credit totaling $1,156,000 and $923,000, respectively.

Note 15. Employee Benefit Plan

The Bank sponsors the GrandSouth Bank Profit Sharing Section 401(k) Plan (the "Plan") for the benefit of all eligible employees. The Bank contributes 100% of the first 3% and 50% of the next 2% of the employee's compensation contributed to the Plan. Contributions made to the Plan in 2015 and 2014 were $245,000 and $202,000, respectively.

In 2001, supplemental benefits were approved by the Board of Directors for certain executive officers of the Bank. These benefits are not qualified under the Internal Revenue Code, and they are not funded. However, certain funding is provided informally and indirectly by life insurance policies owned by the Bank. The Company recorded net expense related to these benefits of $109,000 and $95,000 in 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Note 16. Stock Option Plan

During 1998, the Board of Directors approved a stock option plan for the benefit of the directors, officers and employees (the "1998 Plan"). The plan provided that the Board could grant options to purchase up to 856,028 shares of common stock (after the shareholders approved an amendment to increase the number of shares in the plan at the 2005 Annual Meeting) at an exercise price per share not less than the fair market value on the date of grant. The Company issues new shares to satisfy option exercises. The stock option plan expired in 2008. Consequently, unexpired options granted under the Plan remain outstanding and exercisable subject to their terms, but no more options may be granted under the Plan.

Upon the expiration of the 1998 Plan, the Board of Directors approved a stock option plan for the benefit of the directors, officers and employees effective June 17, 2009 (the "2009 Plan"). The plan provided that the Board could grant options to purchase up to 275,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price per share not less than the fair market value on the date of grant. Consistent with the 1998 Plan, the Company will issue new shares to satisfy option exercises under the 2009 Plan.

See summary of option activity in table below. In 2012, the 2009 Plan was amended, allowing the Board to increase the number of options to purchase up to 487,000 shares of common stock. In 2015, the 2009 Plan was amended, allowing the Board to increase the number of options to purchase up to 737,000 shares of common stock.

In 2015, the Company granted 97,000 options to directors, officers and employees that vest 20 percent each year for five years and expire 10 years from the grant date. The related compensation expense of the options is recognized over the vesting period. In 2014, the Company granted 70,350 options to directors, officers and employees that vest 20 percent each year for five years and expire 10 years from the grant date. The related compensation expense of the options is recognized over the vesting period. The Company measures the fair value of each option award on the date of the grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following assumptions used for awards granted in 2015 and 2014:

	2015	2014
Assumptions:
Dividend yield	2.28%	1.73%
Weighted average risk-free interest rate	1.85%	2.03%
Weighted average expected volatility	108.33%	115.60%
Weighted average expected life in years	6.50	6.50
Weighted average grant date fair value	$8.85	$4.90

The Company determines the assumptions used in the Black-Scholes option-pricing model as follows:

Based on the historical dividend yield of the Company's stock, adjusted to reflect the expected dividend yield over the expected life of the option, the risk-free interest rate is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of the grant; volatility is based on the historical volatility adjusted to reflect the ways in which current information indicates that the future is reasonably expected to differ from the past; and the average life is based on historical behaviors of employees related to exercises, forfeitures and cancellations.

The following table summarizes the activity during 2015 related to stock options awarded by the Company:

	Year Ended December 31, 2015
	Shares	Weighted average exercise price per share	Weighted average remaining contractual life (years)	Intrinsic value

Forfeited or expired	(13,280)	4.18
Nonvested at end of year	181,797	6.45

Note 16. Stock Option Plan, Continued

The following table summarizes the vesting activity during 2014 related to stock options awarded by the Company:

	Year Ended December 31, 2014
	Shares	Weighted average grant date fair values per share
Nonvested at beginning of year	128,397	$ 2.17
Granted	70,350	4.90
Vested	(46,000)	2.04
Forfeited or expired	(2,400)	1.88
Nonvested at end of year	150,347	3.48

As of December 31, 2015, total compensation costs of unvested options that have not yet been recognized were $1,094,000. Those compensation costs will be recognized over the remaining weighted average vesting period of 4.13 years.

Intrinsic value is calculated for shares granted, outstanding and exercisable by taking the closing price of the Company's common stock as of December 31, 2015, as reported by the Over the Counter Bulletin Board (OTCBB), and subtracting the exercise price of each stock option grant. When the result is a positive number, the difference is multiplied by the number of options outstanding for each such grant and the total of those values is shown in the table. Intrinsic value for shares exercised represents the closing price of the stock on the date of exercise as reported by the OTCBB less the actual exercise price of the options exercised multiplied by the number of options exercised. These intrinsic values are calculated for each exercise during the year, and the resulting total is presented.

Note 17. Shareholders' Equity

Preferred stock:

On January 20, 2010, the Company's shareholders approved amendments of its Articles of Incorporation authorizing the issuance of up to 287,895 shares of Series A Preferred Stock in one or more series. The Series A Preferred Stock has rights equal to common stock with regard to dividends and rights upon liquidation. Unlike common stock, the Series A Preferred Stock will not have voting rights except under very limited circumstances. The Series A Preferred Stock pays dividends at the rate of 5% greater than common stock per share dividends.

On September 8, 2011, the Company entered into an agreement with the US Treasury as part of a fund established under the Small Business Jobs Act of 2010 that was created to encourage lending to small businesses by providing capital to qualified community banks with assets less than $10 billion. Pursuant to the agreement, the Company issued and sold to the US Treasury, for an aggregate purchase price of $15,422,000, 15,422 shares of the Company's Senior Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series T-3. The proceeds from the issuance of the Series T-3 stock, along with other available funds, were used to redeem the Series T, T-2 and W preferred stock. The dividend rate, as a percentage of the liquidation amount, can fluctuate on a quarterly basis during the first 10 quarters during which the preferred stock is outstanding, based upon changes in the level of Qualified Small Business Lending. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company's effective dividend rate was 1.00%.

On December 19, 2014, the Company repurchased 7,500 shares of the Company's Senior Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series T-3. At December 31, 2014, the US Treasury held 7,922 shares of the Series T-3 stock.

On August 26, 2015, the Company repurchased 4,000 shares of the Company's Senior Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series T-3. At December 31, 2015, the US Treasury held 3,922 shares of the Series T-3 stock.

Subject to regulatory approval, the Company is generally permitted to redeem the preferred stock at par plus unpaid interest. The preferred stock qualifies as Tier 1 capital.

All Series of the Company's Preferred Stock are treated as components of Tier 1 capital for purposes of computing the Company's regulatory capital ratios.

Restrictions on subsidiary dividends, loans or advances:

In addition to the restrictions specified under the heading "Preferred Stock," South Carolina banking regulations restrict the amount of dividends that banks can pay to shareholders. Any of the banking subsidiary's dividends to the parent company which exceed the amount of the subsidiary's current year-to-date earnings ($6,191,000 at December 31, 2015) are subject to the prior approval of the South Carolina Commissioner of Banking. In addition, dividends paid by the banking subsidiary to the parent company would be prohibited if the effect thereof would cause the Bank's capital to be reduced below applicable minimum capital requirements. Under Federal Reserve Board regulations, the amounts of loans or advances from the banking subsidiary to the parent company are generally limited to 10% of the Bank's capital stock and surplus on a secured basis. Furthermore, in the event that interest payments on the junior subordinated debentures (see Note 10) are deferred by the Company, the Company would be restricted in its ability to pay dividends on its common stock. The terms of the Company's preferred stock also impose limits on its ability to pay dividends.

Regulatory capital:

All bank holding companies and banks are subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory, and possibly additional discretionary, actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, bank holding companies and banks must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of their assets, liabilities, and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. Capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weightings, and other factors.

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Company and its banking subsidiary to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the table below) of Tier 1, Common Equity Tier 1 ("CET1"), and Total Capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk-weighted assets and average assets (as defined). Management believes, as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, that the Company and its subsidiary bank exceeds all capital adequacy requirements to which it is subject.

Effective March 31, 2015, quantitative measures established by applicable regulatory standards, including the newly implemented Basel III revised capital adequacy standards and relevant provisions of the Dodd-Frank All Street Report and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank Act"), require the Bank to maintain (i) a minimum ratio of Tier 1 capital to average total assets, after certain adjustments, of 4.00%, (ii) a minimum ration of Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets of 6.00%, (iii) a minimum ratio of total-capital to risk-weighted assets of 8.00% and (iv) a minimum ratio of CET1 to risk-weighted assets of 4.50%. A "well-capitalized" institution must generally maintain capital ratios 2.00% higher than the minimum guidelines.

In order to avoid restrictions on capital distributions or discretionary bonus payments to executives, the Company and Bank will also be required to maintain a "capital conservation buffer" in addition to its minimum risk-based capital requirements. The buffer will be required to consist solely of CET1, but the buffer will apply to all three risk-based measurements (CET1, Tier 1 and total capital). The capital conservation buffer will be phased in incrementally over time, beginning January 1, 2016 and becoming fully effective on January 1, 2019, and will ultimately consist of an additional amount of Tier 1 capital equal to 2.50% of risk-weighted assets.

As of December 31, 2015, the most recent notification from the FDIC categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the capital adequacy guidelines and regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be categorized as well capitalized as defined in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, the Bank must maintain minimum total risk-based, Tier 1 risk-based, and Tier 1 leverage ratios as set forth in the table. There are no conditions or events since that notification that management believes have changed the Bank's category. Bank holding companies with higher levels of risk, or that are experiencing or anticipating significant growth, are expected by the Federal Reserve to maintain capital well above the minimums. The Company's and Bank's actual capital amounts and ratios are also presented in the table.

Note 18. Disclosures about Fair Values of Financial Instruments

The Company has not elected to value any financial instruments at fair value under the Fair Value Option of ASC Topic 825, but is required by other accounting standards to disclose relevant information about the fair values of financial instruments and certain other items.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value may reflect actual transaction prices or may reflect the application of valuation techniques if the transaction was between related parties, the transaction occurred under duress, or other circumstances where the transaction price may not be indicative of the fair value of the particular asset or liability. When valuation techniques are used, the inputs may be either observable or unobservable. Assets or liabilities may be measured at fair value on either a recurring basis or a non-recurring basis.

A three level hierarchy is used for fair value measurements based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation technique. When available, fair value is based upon quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 inputs) or for similar assets and liabilities or upon inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (Level 2 inputs). When neither Level 1 nor Level 2 inputs are available, the Company may use unobservable inputs which may be significant to the fair value measurement (Level 3). The lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement determines an item's categorization within the fair value hierarchy.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis in the Consolidated Balance Sheets, including the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

Pricing for the Company's securities available-for-sale is obtained from an independent third-party that uses a process that may incorporate current prices, benchmark yields, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spreads, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers, other reference items and industry and economic events that a market participant would be expected to use as inputs in valuing the securities. Not all of the inputs listed apply to each individual security at each measurement date. The independent third party assigns specific securities into an "asset class" for the purpose of assigning the applicable level of the fair value hierarchy used to value the securities. The CMO categorized as Level 3 above has been valued using a discounted cash flow analysis using inputs including the discount margin, default rates and prepayment speeds of the underlying collateral.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for financial instruments measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis in the Consolidated Balance Sheets including the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

	Fair value measurement at reporting date using
	Total	Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets (Level 1)	Significant other observable inputs (Level 2)	Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3)

Goodwill	737	-	-	737
	$ 13,779	$ -	$ 13,042	$ 737

Fair values of impaired loans are estimated based on discounted cash flow analyses or on recent appraisals of the underlying properties or other information derived from market sources.

Note 19. Subsequent Events

On January 25, 2016, the Company redeemed the remaining 3,922 shares of the Company's Senior Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series T-3. At that date, the US Treasury no longer held any shares of Series T-3 stock.

Note 19. Subsequent Events, Continued

On January 26, 2016, the Company's Board of Directors approved a resolution authorizing the issuance of one million shares of common stock. On February 5, 2016, the Company issued the shares, with net proceeds of $11,439,000.

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through March 24, 2016, the date the financial statements were available for distribution.

BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY

GrandSouth Bancorporation (the "Company") is a South Carolina corporation organized in 2000 under the laws of South Carolina for the purpose of being a bank holding company for GrandSouth Bank (the "Bank"). On October 2, 2000, pursuant to a Plan of Exchange approved by the shareholders, all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Bank were exchanged for shares of the Company and the Company became the owner of all of the outstanding capital stock of the Bank. The Company presently engages in no business other than that of owning the Bank and has no employees.

The Bank is a South Carolina state bank, which was incorporated and commenced operations as a commercial bank in 1998. The Bank operates from its offices in Greenville, Fountain Inn and Anderson, South Carolina. The main office is located at 381 Halton Road in Greenville, SC. One branch office is located at 325 South Main Street in Fountain Inn, South Carolina and the other is at 1601 North Fant Street, Anderson, South Carolina.

The Bank offers a full array of commercial bank services. Deposit services include business and personal checking accounts, NOW accounts, savings accounts, money market accounts, various term certificates of deposit, IRA accounts, and other deposit services. Most of the Bank's deposits are attracted from individuals and small businesses. The Bank does not offer trust or brokerage services.

The Bank offers secured and unsecured, short-to-intermediate term loans, with floating and fixed rates for commercial, consumer and residential purposes. Consumer loans include car loans, home equity improvement loans (secured by first and second mortgages), personal expenditure loans, education loans, overdraft lines of credit, and the like. Commercial loans include short-term unsecured loans, short and intermediate term real estate mortgage loans, loans secured by listed stocks, loans secured by equipment, inventory, accounts receivable, and the like. Management believes that the credit staff possesses knowledge of the community and lending skills sufficient to enable the Bank to maintain a sufficient volume of high quality loans.

CAUTIONARY NOTICE WITH RESPECT TO FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the securities laws. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a safe harbor for forward-looking statements. In order to comply with the terms of the safe harbor, the Company notes that a variety of factors could cause the Company's actual results and experience to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the Company's forward-looking statements.

All statements that are not historical facts are statements that could be "forward-looking statements." You can identify these forward-looking statements through the use of words such as "may," "will," "should," "could," "would," "expect," "anticipate," "assume, "indicate," "contemplate," "seek," "plan," "predict," "target," "potential," "believe," "intend," "estimate," "project," "continue," or other similar words. Forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding the Company's future business prospects, revenues, working capital, liquidity, capital needs, interest costs, income, business operations and proposed services.

These forward-looking statements are based on current expectations, estimates and projections about the banking industry, management's beliefs, and assumptions made by management. Such information includes, without limitation, discussions as to estimates, expectations, beliefs, plans, strategies, and objectives concerning future financial and operating performance. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Therefore, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or forecasted in such forward-looking statements. The risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to:

- future economic and business conditions;
- lack of sustained growth in the economies of the Company's market areas;

- government monetary and fiscal policies;
- the effects of changes in interest rates on the levels, composition and costs of deposits, loan demand, and the values of loan collateral, securities, and interest sensitive assets and liabilities;
- the effects of competition from a wide variety of local, regional, national and other providers of financial, investment, and insurance services, as well as competitors that offer banking products and services by mail, telephone, computer and/or the Internet;
- credit risks;
- higher than anticipated levels of defaults on loans;
- perceptions by depositors about the safety of their deposits;
- capital adequacy;
- the failure of assumptions underlying the establishment of the allowance for loan losses and other estimates, including the value of collateral securing loans;
- ability to weather the current economic downturn;
- loss of consumer or investor confidence;
- availability of liquidity sources;
- the risks of opening new offices, including, without limitation, the related costs and time of building customer relationships and integrating operations as part of these endeavors and the failure to achieve expected gains, revenue growth and/or expense savings from such endeavors;
- changes in laws and regulations, including tax, banking and securities laws and regulations;
- changes in accounting policies, rules and practices;
- changes in technology or products may be more difficult or costly, or less effective, than anticipated;
- the effects of war or other conflicts, acts of terrorism or other catastrophic events that may affect general economic conditions and economic confidence; and
- other factors and information described in this report and in any of the other reports that we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

All forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by this cautionary notice. The Company has no obligation, and does not undertake, to update, revise or correct any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this report. The Company has expressed its expectations, beliefs and projections in good faith and believes they have a reasonable basis. However, there is no assurance that these expectations, beliefs or projections will result or be achieved or accomplished.
