  6. He owns 2,005,718 shares of our common stock.

- 2001 to Present – Mr. Heilman joined the company in 2001 when it was a failed dotcom company. As its president, primarily on a part-time basis, and controlling shareholder, he successfully restructured the company. The turnaround involved cleansing the balance sheet of liabilities and non-value assets, restructuring its equity position, insuring compliance with all SEC regulations, establishing it as a non-reporting company, establishing its business as a holding company, and creating a business plan that involved the acquisition and sale of operating companies.

  Also during this period, he consulted for the US federal government on computer network security and provided network support services to the commercial market.

- Prior to 2001 - He began his career with what is now Accenture and after sixteen years left corporate America in the mid-1980's as the National Sales Manager of a $110 million personal computer manufacturer to start his own company that designed, manufactured and marketed communication equipment. After ten years in the communication market, he started Data Protection in 1996 to focus on information technology outsourcing, computer network security, and information management.

  - Education – Mr. Heilman earned BS in Business Administration from Loyola University Maryland, USA.

No director or officer has, in the last five years, been the subject of:

1. A conviction in a criminal proceeding or named as a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses);

2. The entry of an order, judgment, or decree, not subsequently reversed, suspended or vacated, by a court of competent jurisdiction that permanently or temporarily enjoined, barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business, securities, commodities, or banking activities;

3. A finding or judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction (in a civil action), the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, or a state securities regulator of a violation of federal or state securities or commodities law, which finding or judgment has not been reversed, suspended, or vacated; or

4. The entry of an order by a self-regulatory organization that permanently or temporarily barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business or securities activities.

None of our directors, officers, persons nominated or chosen to become directors or officers, or beneficial owners of more than five percent of any of our stock are related by blood or marriage.

We did not enter into any transactions with our directors or officers, or beneficial owners of more than five percent of our common stock.

None of our directors or officers, or beneficial owners of more than five percent of our common stock have a conflict of interest with us.

Note 1 - Nature of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

Nature of Business

We aim to acquire existing oil producing properties in the United States that will provide positive cash flow and net profits upon acquisition. We will take advantage of the current low oil prices to acquire these properties at reduced prices. Acquisitions will include substantial proven oil reserves to support future development when oil prices support the development.

Use of Estimates

Preparing the Company's financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

N/A since we do not currently have any revenues.

Marketing Costs

Advertising and sales promotion costs are expensed as incurred. Marketing expense totaled $0.00 for our twelve months ended September 30, 2015.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash on deposit, certificates of deposit, money market accounts, and investment grade commercial paper that are readily convertible into cash and purchased with original maturities of three months or less.

Goodwill

For Asset purposes, our Goodwill represents the benefits of acquiring Legacy Brands Holding Inc. in September 2010 with its public company features, i.e., public trading status, shareholder base, market makers, DTC electronic trading status, FINRA status, etc. Goodwill includes the Organizational Costs (14,314), Accrued Expenses (41,742), and Promissory Notes as of October 31, 2010 (260,348). Organizational Costs (14,314) include cost to incorporate Revelation MIS Inc. and to perform the merger with Legacy Brands Holding Inc. The total is $316,604. In light of the fact that we are a non-reporting OTC shell, we are adjusting (Impairment) the goodwill to $260,677 (an impairment of $55,927) effective 31 December 2010. This is the amount that we could possibly expect if we sold the shell for cash in the market at that time.

For tax purposes, we will follow IRC, Section 197, Amortization of Goodwill and Certain Other Intangibles, which permits us to claim a deduction determined by amortizing our Goodwill over a 15-year period beginning with the month in which it was acquired. Taking into account that the impairment that was applied on 31 December 2010, the amortization begins with the month of January 2011. Accordingly, our deduction is $1,448.21 per month ($4,344.63 per quarter or $17,379 per year) on goodwill of $260,677 as of 31 December 2010.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of financial instruments is estimated using relevant market information and other assumptions. Fair value estimates involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment regarding interest rates, prepayments, and other factors. Changes in assumptions or market conditions could significantly affect these estimates. The amounts reported in the balance sheet for cash and equivalents, receivables, and payables approximate fair value.

Contingencies

Certain conditions may exist as of the date the financial statements are issued, which may result in a loss to the Company, but which will only be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The Company's management and its legal counsel assess such contingent liabilities, and such assessment inherently involves an exercise of judgment. In assessing loss contingencies related to legal proceedings that are pending against the Company, or unasserted claims that may result in such proceedings, the Company's legal counsel evaluates the perceived merits of any legal proceedings or unasserted claims as well as the perceived merits of the amount of relief sought or expected to be sought therein.

If the assessment of a contingency indicates that it is probable that a material loss has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be estimated, the estimated liability would be accrued in the Company's financial statements. If the assessment indicates that a potentially material loss contingency is not probable but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, the nature of the contingent liability, together with an estimate of the range of possible loss if determinable and material, would be disclosed.

Loss contingencies considered remote are generally not disclosed unless they arise from guarantees, in which case the guarantees would be disclosed.

Earnings per Share

Basic net earnings (loss) per common share is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) by the total number of shares issued and outstanding on the date of the computation.

Earnings per Share

The following table sets forth the computation of net loss per share for our first twelve months ended September 30, 2015:

Net Gain (Loss)	-$54,679
Common Shares Outstanding	4,351,340
Net Loss per Common Share	-$0.013

The shares related to convertible promissory notes were excluded from the computation.

Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets, including tax loss and credit carryforwards, and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred income tax expense represents the change during the period in the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities. The components of the deferred tax assets and liabilities are individually classified as current and non-current based on their characteristics. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

The Company recognizes the amount of taxes payable or refundable for the current year and recognizes deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of events and transactions that have been recognized in the Company's financial statements or tax returns.

Prior to the merger, Legacy Brands Holding Inc. was current in filing it tax return to all agencies. It has filed a final return that closes its account with the IRS and State of Florida. It has no tax liability.

Jolen, Inc. will establish the necessary reporting functions with the appropriate tax authorities. As of the date of this disclosure statement, we have no tax liability.

Measurement of Fair Value

We adopted SFAS No. 157, which provides a framework for measuring fair value under GAAP. As defined in SFAS No. 157, fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (exit price). In determining fair value in accordance with SFAS No. 157, we utilize market data or assumptions that we believe market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible, including assumptions about risk and the risks inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. Classification of the financial asset or liability within the hierarchy is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

SFAS No. 157 establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurement). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy defined by SFAS No. 157 are as follows:

Level 1 Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reporting date. Active markets are those in which transactions for the asset or liability occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 Financial instruments lacking unadjusted, quoted prices from active market exchanges, including over-the-counter traded financial instruments. The prices for the financial instruments are determined using prices for recently traded financial instruments with similar underlying terms as well as directly or indirectly observable inputs, such as interest rates and yield curves that are observable at commonly quoted intervals.

Level 3 Financial instruments that are not actively traded on a market exchange. This category includes situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the financial instrument. The prices are determined using significant unobservable inputs or valuation techniques.

As of September 30, 2015, we did not have any financial assets utilizing Level 1, Level 2 or Level 3 inputs.

Note 2 - Debt Arrangements:

The Company's debt obligations consisted of the following:

Convertible Promissory Notes Payable:
Various convertible promissory notes which are due on demand accrue interest at a rate of three percent (3%) and judgement	262,632
Accrued Expenses	68,205
Total Obligations	330,837
Less Current Maturities	8,690
Long-term Portion of Convertible Promissory Notes	262,632

In the merger with Legacy Brands Holding Inc. in September 2010, we became obligated to Legacy's unsecured convertible promissory notes (unsecured notes) in the amount of $260,348. Of this amount, $241,969 was issued to the Legacy's president (Michael Heilman) as of September 30, 2010 in exchange for cash invested in Legacy to fund operations. Mr. Heilman has increased the loan amount in the past three fiscal years. Accordingly, total amount due Mr. Heilman as of September 30, 2015 is $284,492 which includes $21,860 in accrued interest. An additional $42,661 in notes was issued to third parties for cash or services rendered, which includes $25,214 (includes interest) from Talem Investments, LLC which has been used to support operations. The unsecured notes are due on demand, accrue interest at a rate of three percent (3%) per annum and are payable upon maturity date of the note. All notes (and accrued interest) in the total amount of $44,441 except for those to Mr. Heilman were redeemed at the end of our fiscal year for 177,764 common shares ($0.25 per share). The unsecured note to Michael Heilman is entitled, at his option, at any time after the issuance of the unsecured notes, to convert all or a portion of the original principal face amount and/or interest on the note into shares of the Company's common stock, at a conversion ratio which shall equal the dollar amount the holder of the convertible promissory note is electing to convert divided by $0.0001. The Company also has the unequivocal right to redeem any unconverted portion of the convertible promissory notes at any time without prior consent of the holder.

Note 3 - Income Taxes

The Company adopted FIN 48. FIN 48 provides a comprehensive model for the recognition, measurement and disclosure in financial statements of uncertain income tax positions that a company has taken or expects to take on a tax return. Under FIN 48, a company can recognize the benefit of an income tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained upon tax examination, based solely on the technical merits of the tax position. Otherwise, no benefit can be recognized. The tax benefits recognized are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Additionally, companies are required to accrue interest and related penalties, if applicable, on all tax exposures for which reserves have been established consistent with jurisdictional tax laws. The cumulative effect of adopting FIN 48 is recorded as an adjustment to the opening balance of accumulated deficit on the adoption date. As a result of the implementation of FIN 48, the Company did not record any changes to the liability for unrecognized tax benefits related to tax positions taken in prior periods, and no corresponding change in accumulated deficit was recorded.

Note 4 - Shareholders' Equity:

The following are the details of the Company's common and preferred stock as of September 30, 2015:

	Authorized Shares	Issued Shares	Outstanding Shares	Dollar Amount
Common Stock at par of $0.001	500,000,000	4,351,340 Based upon par of $0.001	4,351,340	$4,351 Based upon par of $0.001
Preferred Stock	0	0	0	0

When Jolen was incorporated in Florida, it established its par value at $0.001. Jolen is the surviving company of a merger of Revelation MIS, Inc. into Jolen, Inc. Revelation's par was $0.01. This par value difference has been reflected in our Balance Sheet.

Note 5 - Concentration of Credit Risk:

The Company's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents. Since the Company's cash is of a small amount it is kept in a single bank account.

Note 6 – Proposed Agreement:

Item 16 Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

A. Plan of Operation

We aim to acquire existing oil producing properties in the United States that will provide positive cash flow and net profits upon acquisition. It will take advantage of the current low oil prices to acquire these properties at reduced prices. Acquisitions will include substantial proven oil reserves to support future development when oil prices support the development.

B. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operation

We have had no income for expenses in this fiscal year. Expenses were satisfied via a loan from third parties.

C. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

None
