Business Risk

The business of the Company is making equity investments in marketable securities and financial instruments. We are focused over the long-term on achieving as high a total return as possible without incurring risk significantly greater than the exposure to an investment of funds in the benchmark index. The benchmark index that we try to outperform over a trailing three year period is the S&P/TSX Composite Index (TTT-T).

Investments are made in a wide range of companies from very large to very small. The asset base available for investment by the Company is small which limits the degree of diversification of investments that is achievable.

Risks arise within the context of the general economic environment in which investment decisions are made. This includes but is not limited to, such macroeconomic factors as fluctuations in interest rates, commodity prices, foreign exchanges rates and liquidity in the economy and in specific markets. There are risk effects that these factors have on individual issuers and investments made by the Company.

Additionally, risks arise with respect to each individual investment made by the Company including, but not limited to factors such as operational performance, profitability, and the opportunity to sell the investment in the future. Investments may take extended periods of time until fruition becomes evident; and while management endeavors to perform at the highest level, there is a risk of failure.

The Company attempts to reduce adverse effects of these investment risks by holding a diverse portfolio of investments, by maintaining a portion of the portfolio in liquid assets including cash, and by investing a portion of the portfolio in assets that provide a cash flow stream of income distributions and dividends.

New accounting standards not yet adopted

The following pronouncements and amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2015 unless otherwise stated. Adopting these standards is expected to have minimal or no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

In May 2014, the IASB issued IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("IFRS 15"), which supersedes IAS 11 Construction Contracts, IAS 18 Revenue, IFRIC 13 Customer Loyalty Programmes, IFRIC 15 Agreements for the Construction of Real Estate, IFRIC 18 Transfers of Assets from Customers, and SIC 31 Revenue - Barter Transactions involving Advertising Services. IFRS 15 establishes a single five-step model framework for determining the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from a contract with a customer. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018, with early adoption permitted.

The IASB intends to replace IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement in its entirety with IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (“IFRS 9”) which is intended to reduce the complexity in the classification and measurement of financial instruments. The IASB has determined that the revised effective date for IFRS 9 will be January 1, 2018.
