NOTE 5 FINANCIALS

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Cash is maintained at financial institutions and, at times, balances may exceed federally insured limits. We have never experienced any losses related to these balances. All of our non-interest bearing cash balances were fully insured at November 30, 2016 and May 31, 2016. Insurance coverage was $250,000 per depositor at each financial institution. At November 30, 2016 and May 31, 2016, there were no amounts held in excess of federally insured limits. The Company's financial instruments include cash, accounts payable, accrued expenses and notes payable. The carrying amounts of cash, accounts payable and accrued expenses approximate their fair value, due to the short term nature of these items. The carrying amount of notes payable approximates their fair value due to the use of market rates of interest and maturity schedule.

Research and development costs are charged to operations when incurred and are included in operating expenses. There were no amounts charged to research and development for the three month's ended November 30, 2016 and May 31, 2016. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities arise from temporary differences associated with differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities, as measured by the enacted tax rates, which are expected to be in effect when these differences reverse. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current, depending on the classification of the assets or liabilities to which they relate. Deferred tax assets and liabilities not related to an asset or liability are classified as current or non-current depending on the periods in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the year. Diluted losses per common share are computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding and dilutive options outstanding during the year.

NOTE 2 – GOING CONCERN The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. For the year ended May 31, 2016, the Company had net income of $55,601. However for the quarter ended November 30, 2016, the Company did not generate any revenues as the rebuild of the Real Deal Recruits website is not complete.

As of November 30, 2016, the Company has a working capital deficit of $507,224. In view of these matters, the Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the Company's ability to begin operations and to achieve a level of profitability. The Company intends on financing its future development activities and its working capital needs largely from the sale of public equity securities with some additional funding from other traditional financing sources, including term notes and proceeds from sub-licensing agreements until such time that funds provided by operations are sufficient to fund working capital requirements. The financial statements of the Company do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts and classifications of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.
