6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

A. Description of the issuer's business operations;

Zalemark Holding Company, Inc. (Zalemark or the Company) is an award winning product design and product development agency. Zalemark is lead by an executive management team who, individually, earned the finest reputations and name recognition due to years as major players in each of their respective industries. Zalemark's unique strengths, derived from the exponential synergy created by bringing together industry leaders in: jewelry design; brand development; and television production, is the ability to capture a brand and articulate it through design while remaining on the leading edge of fashion. This is the key and one of Zalemark's greatest assets.

As a team of successful experts, there is tremendous focus and attention to every detail of every project and every client relationship. To insure success, Zalemark's resource pool allows them to offer product placement on entertainment properties and access to entertainment industry talent and stylists, all developed through alliances with licensed partners and strategic distribution partnerships. These insider relationships and access to air space and talent ensure that Zalemark is able to maintain a huge edge over the competition and remain a leader in the emerging industry.

In addition, Zalemark has, on board, successful executives overseeing supply-chain management, quality control and customer service. The Company realizes it is as important to insure operational success and score high customer service marks as it is to create and develop unique and award winning jewelry designs as well as build the marketing and distribution systems on which to sell them.

Zalemark Holding Company Inc. is a public company trading under the symbol ZMRK and was organized and incorporated in Delaware, March 23, 1999. Zalemark Inc entered into a merger with Charis Industries Inc. in 2008, emerging as Zalemark Holding Company, Inc.. Zalemark has a fiscal year end date of 12/31/2016. The Company has never been involved in any manner of bankruptcy, receivership or any, consolidation nor the purchase or sale of a significant amount of assets. Zalemark has never defaulted on the terms of any note, loan, lease or other indebtedness or financing arrangement of any kind.

The Company has never experienced a change of control or any increase of 10% or more of the same class of outstanding equity securities and has never had any past, pending or anticipated stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, spin-off or reorganization. It has never experienced a delisting of securities by any securities exchange or deletion from the OTC Bulletin Board including no current, past, pending or threatened legal proceedings or administrative actions either by or against the Company that could have material effect on the business, financial condition or operations of any current, past or pending trading suspensions by a securities regulator.

Footnotes and Ratios
For the period ending September 30, 2018

CURRENT RATIO:

The current ratio measures whether an entity has sufficient resources to pay its debts over the next 12 months. It compares an entity's current assets to its current liabilities.

If the current liabilities exceed current assets (the current ratio is below 1), as in the case of ZMRK, then ZMRK may have challenges in meeting its short-term or current obligations.

Low values; however, do not indicate a critical issue.

Positive cash flow, which will provide for a current ratio will derive from the sale of common stock, ZMRK, and from the positive EBITDA from the Zalemark subsidiary “Compralux”.

ACID-TEST RATIO

The acid-test or quick ratio measures the ability of a company to use its near cash or quick assets to extinguish or retire its current liabilities immediately. Quick assets include those current assets that can quickly be converted to cash. A company with a Quick Ratio of less than 1 cannot currently pay back its current liabilities.

The scenario similar to ZMRK's current ratio is valid here as well.

It should be noted that inventory is excluded from the sum of the assets in the Quick Ratio, but included in the current ratio.

Ratio are tests of viability for business entities but do not give a complete picture of the business' health. In contract, if the business has negotiated fast payment or cash from customers, and long term from suppliers, it may have a very low Quick Ratio and yet be very healthy.

AUDIT NOTES:

- (1) ZMRK Company Inc debt conversion amounted to $6,047,349 that was converted to equity in 2011 as part of a (non-judicial reorganization or a formal judicial Chapter 7). The deficit in retained earnings reflects the reorganization costs that were incurred by prior management of the public entity.
- (2) Zalemark Holding Company Inc. went into a development status in December 31, 2012 to pursue the current line of business of designing, contracting and selling semi-precious and precious stone jewelry to retail in an international marketplace.
- (3) ZMRK Holding Company Inc. had a Capital Investment of $1,181,492 that has been used in the development status for its current line of business.
- (4) Retained Earnings have been distributed proportionately as outlined above
- (5) Total investments were adjusted from FMV to actual costs in preparation for the audit to up list
