About Versus LLC

Versus is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the state of Nevada and headquartered in Los Angeles, California.

Versus offers a business-to-business software platform that allows video game publishers and developers, as well as other content creators, to offer in-game prize, based on the completion of in-game challenges. The prizes available are specific to each player based on a variety of characteristics, including age, location, game played, and challenged played. The Versus platform facilitates several types of single player prize challenges that includes a wide range of prize types including, coupons, sweepstakes-style prizes, consumer packaged goods ("CPG") and downloadable content ("DLC"). Versus sells the opportunity to place in-game prizes to advertisers who wish to place product in-game, sharing a certain portion of the gross receipts with the content and game owners. Current agreements range from 50% to 60% of revenue being shared with the publisher/developers, with the remaining 50% to 40% of gross receipts belonging to Versus. The portion of gross receipts that belongs to Versus is recognized as revenue according to Versus' revenue recognition policy.

Versus is also in the process of prosecuting a number of patents in the areas of player verification and authentication, so that players' identities, ages, and locations can be assessed accurately prior to any real-money game is played. Versus is also in the process of prosecuting patents in the area of conditional prize distribution, such that each player can receive prizes that are intended to be legal in his or her jurisdiction. Versus intends to make its platform legal for all players, of all ages, everywhere that Versus-enabled games are played.

While Versus is in negotiations with a number of video game publisher/developers, the Versus platform is currently available in HP's Omen Command Center, Ludare Games Group's Men-in-Black, and GameCake's Emoji Charades. At present Versus has generated limited revenue from operations.

Versus-enabled game play is currently available in the United States and Canada. Versus intends to expand into Europe and Asia, according to the release schedules of the prospective Versus developer/publisher partners. As Versus will be integrated directly into the developers' and publishers' video games, the majority of the marketing spend/customer acquisition costs will be borne by the publisher developers when they release their games.

OMEN Command Center Rewards – Powered by Versus Systems

- HP Selects Versus Systems As Its Gaming Rewards Platform for Omen Product Line;
- HP looked to Versus to grow user base, while engaging and retaining users for their gaming hardware business.

Overview of the Industry

According to a Newzoo 2018 Global Games Report, the video game industry is over a $159.3 billion-dollar market, and has seen enormous change in the last ten years:

The way games are run has changed completely in only 10 years, from both an organizational and a business perspective, regardless of platform. Add to that the ongoing global alignment of distribution channels, franchises, and business models and it becomes clear that this is more than several individual trends happening simultaneously. Ultimately, the consumer has determined the pace of change. No other form of entertainment or media gives as much power to the consumer as games. Today, not only do games empower people to actively participate, but allow them to enjoy their passion for gaming in ways that suit any mood, interest, lifestyle, location, and budget. The viewing experience is part of games' DNA. Almost any new game includes competitive modes that could lead to a professional esports scene, including live events, pro-gamer heroes, and teams with millions of fans

There are multiple games that have over one million daily active users, including several competitive multiplayer games that have developed their own professional electronic sports ("e-sports") communities. These e-sports competitions regularly draw spectators, both in-person and online, in the millions. The 2015 world championships of Defense of the Ancients ("DOTA"), a multiplayer online battle arena modification for the video game "Warcraft III" and its expansions, were held at Madison Square Garden in New York, and more people watched the 2015 League of Legends world championship online than watched all of the 2015 Stanley Cup Finals combined. ESPN Inc. and its affiliates now carry news of major e-sports events.

Future roadmap

Beyond the development of the WINFINITE™ platform and the integration of this platform into popular, global PC and console games, Versus is preparing additional intellectual property and software roadmaps for its next stage of development. Versus believes that viewers who already consume video game content at astonishing rates will be even more engaged with the addition of rewards.

Versus is also pursuing a number of patents in and around the potential gaming space that could make its patent portfolio easier to license or more valuable to any number of potential licensees in the entertainment vertical.

Partnership with 704Games

In August 2017, the Company announced that 704Games is working with Versus' prizing and promotions platform to provide players with opportunities for in-game prizing and real-world rewards in their upcoming titles on mobile and console. In spring 2017, 704Games released Nascar Heat Mobile, the first authentic Nascar racing game on mobile to feature 40 stock cars racing simultaneously. 704Games also recently announced the upcoming release of Nascar Heat 2, which will be available on Xbox One, PlayStation 4 and PC.

"We think this can be a great way to bring new, exciting engagement to our games and also blend in the wide range of sponsors across the sport," said Ed Martin, president of 704Games. "We're looking forward to working with Versus to see how we can use our games to bring this to the fans."

U.S. Patent Filings

Versus has filed multiple patent claims with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office to expand upon its existing portfolio of prizing, promotion and financial technologies that enable brands to reach the rapidly growing competitive gaming audience of players, spectators and broadcasters.

The Versus patent claims, extending and expanding on claims filed in the United States in 2014 and internationally through the patent co-operation treaty in 2015, describe a system that seeks to match competitive game players and spectators with prizing from their favourite brands through a unique conditional prize matching system.

On March 14th, 2019, Versus announced that, pursuant to a Versus filing made in 2015, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) has issued U.S. Patent No. 10,242,538, titled "Systems and Methods for Creating and Maintaining Real Money Tournaments for Video Games."

The issued patent protects a number of proprietary systems and methods for awarding real money, physical goods, digital currencies, and downloadable content to players inside video games and other interactive media. Versus uses these patented technologies within their WINFINITE prizing platform, allowing players to play for real-world prizes inside their favorite games.

This granted patent:

- protects the subject systems and methods until 2035;
- covers claims around player identification and verification;
- covers technologies to determine prize eligibility for matches, tournaments, and sweepstakes based on a player's age, location, and other characteristics; and
- describes how the system can award multiple prize types to players that meet a variety of win conditions or achievements in-game.

Developers and publishers that partner with Versus to use the WINFINITE platform will have access to the full suite of protected claims that address legal and regulatory compliance dynamically across federal, state, and local law - allowing content partners to place prizes in-game, or in-app for their players to earn as they play.

Financial Instruments and Risk Management

Financial risk management

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 – Inputs that are not based on observable market data.

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework. The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, GST receivable, restricted deposit, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and notes payable.

The fair value of cash, GST receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their book values because of the short-term nature of these instruments. The fair value of notes payable approximates its book value as it was discounted using a market rate of interest.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its payment obligations. The Company has no material counterparties to its financial instruments with the exception of the financial institutions which hold its cash. The Company manages its credit risk by ensuring that its cash is placed with a major financial institution with strong investment grade ratings by a primary ratings agency. The Company's receivables consist of goods and services tax due from the government.

Financial instrument risk exposure

The Company is exposed in varying degrees to a variety of financial instrument related risks. The Board approves and monitors the risk management processes.

Liquidity risk

The Company's cash is invested in business accounts which are available on demand, The Company has a working capital deficit of $2,491,990 as at June 30, 2020. Accordingly, the Company is exposed to liquidity risk.

Interest rate risk

The Company's bank account earns interest income at variable rates. The fair value of its portfolio is relatively unaffected by changes in short-term interest rates. Interest rate risk is minimal as the Company does not have significant interest bearing assets or any variable interest bearing liabilities that are tied into market rates.

Foreign exchange risk

Foreign currency exchange rate risk is the risk that the fair value of financial instruments or future cash flows will fluctuate as a result of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company operates in Canada and the United States.

The Company was exposed to the following foreign currency risk as at June 30, 2020 and December 31, 2019:

	June 30, 2020	December 31, 2019
	(US$)	(US$)
Cash	152,094	72,097
Lease Obligations	(688,921)	(768,563)
Deferred revenue	(603,405)	-
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(786,153)	(445,660)
	(1,926,385)	(1,142,126)

As at June 30, 2020, with other variables unchanged, a +/- 10% change in the United States dollar to Canadian dollar exchange rate would impact the Company's net loss by $193,000 (December 31, 2019 - $148,000).

Management's Responsibility for Financial Statements

The Company's management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements and the MD&A. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS. The MD&A has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of securities regulators, including National Instrument 51-102 of the Canadian Securities Administrators.

Management of Capital

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, based on the funds available to the Company. Capital consists of total shareholders' equity (deficiency), less amounts accumulated in shareholders' equity (deficiency) related to share-based payments to employees and consultants. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business. The Company is not subject to any externally imposed capital requirements.

The Company remains dependent on external financing to fund its activities. In order to sustain its operations, the Company will spend its existing cash on hand and raise additional amounts as needed until the business generates sufficient revenues to be self-sustaining. Management reviews its capital management approach on an ongoing basis and believes that this approach, given the relative size of the Company, is reasonable.

In order to maximize ongoing corporate development efforts, the Company does not pay out dividends. The Company's investment policy is to keep its cash treasury invested in certificates of deposit with major financial institutions.

There have been no changes to the Company's approach to capital management during the six months ended June 30, 2020.

Risks and Uncertainties

Versus is publicly traded development stage company in the technology sector and, as such, is exposed to a number of risks and uncertainties that are not uncommon to other companies in the same business. Some of the possible risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

Limited Operating History

The Company will be subject to all of the business risks and uncertainties associated with any new business enterprise, including under-capitalization, cash shortages, limitations with respect to personnel, financial and other resources, lack of revenue and the risk that it will not achieve its growth objective. There can be no assurance that the Company's operations will be profitable in the future or will generate sufficient cash flow to satisfy its working capital requirements.

To date, Versus has had minimal revenues. Even if the Company does achieve profitability, it cannot predict the level of such profitability. If the Company sustains losses over an extended period of time, it may be unable to continue its business.

Changes in Laws, Regulations and Guidelines

The Company's operations will be subject to a variety of laws, regulations and guidelines relating to the offering of prize-based tournaments including laws and regulations relating to e-sports, online gaming and gambling. Changes to such laws, regulations and guidelines due to matters beyond the control of the Company may cause adverse effects to the Company's operations.

Internet websites are accessible everywhere, not just in jurisdictions where the activities described therein are considered legal. The Company may face legal action from a state or other jurisdiction for engaging in activity that is illegal in that state or jurisdiction by way of its website.

Regulatory Risks

The activities of the Company will be subject to intense regulation by governmental authorities. Achievement of the Company's business objectives are contingent, in part, upon compliance with regulatory requirements enacted by these governmental authorities and obtaining all regulatory approvals, where necessary, for the sale and use of its products and services. The Company cannot predict the time required to secure all appropriate regulatory approvals for its products, or the extent of testing and documentation that may be required by governmental authorities. Any delays in obtaining, or failure to obtain regulatory approvals would significantly delay the development of markets and products and could have a material adverse effect on the business, results of operations and financial condition of the Company.

The business of the Company is subject to rapid regulatory changes. Failure to keep up with such changes may adversely affect the business of the Company.

The Company's prospects must be considered in light of the risks, expenses, shifts, changes and difficulties frequently encountered with companies whose businesses are regulated by various federal, state and local governments. Video game, online gaming, e-sports and similar companies are subject to a variety of regulatory requirements and the regulatory environment is ever changing. Failure to follow regulatory requirements will have a detrimental impact on the business. Changes in legislation cannot be predicted and could irreparably harm the business.

Competition

There is potential that the Company will face intense competition from numerous other companies, some of which can be expected to have longer operating histories and more financial resources and marketing experience than the Company. Increased competition by larger and better financed competitors could materially and adversely affect the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Company.

Reliance on Management and Key Personnel

The success of the Company is dependent upon the ability, expertise, judgment, discretion and good faith of its senior management. While employment agreements are customarily used as a primary method of retaining the services of key employees, these agreements cannot assure the continued services of such employees. The Company attempts to enhance its management and technical expertise by recruiting qualified individuals who possess desired skills and experience in certain targeted areas. The Company's inability to retain employees and attract and retain sufficient additional employees as well as information technology, engineering, and technical support resources could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial condition and results of operation. Any loss of the services of such individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Lack of Demand

A failure in the demand for the Company's products to materialize as a result of competition, technological change or other factors could have a material adverse effect on the business, results of operations and financial condition of the Company.

Risks and Uncertainties (continued)Failure to Retain Existing Users or Add New Users

The size of the Company's users' level of engagement are critical to the Company's success. The Company's financial performance will be significantly determined by its success in having its products adding, retaining, and engaging active users. To the extent that the Company's active user growth rate slows, its business performance will become increasingly dependent on its ability to increase levels of user engagement in current and new markets. If people do not perceive the Company's products to be useful, reliable, and trustworthy, the Company may not be able to attract or retain users or otherwise maintain or increase the frequency and duration of their engagement. A decrease in user retention, growth, or engagement could render the Company less attractive to video game publishers and developers which may have a material and adverse impact on the Company's revenue, business, financial condition, and results of operations. Any number of factors could potentially negatively affect user retention, growth, and engagement, including if:

- users increasingly engage with competing products;
- the Company fails to introduce new and improved products or if The Company introduces new products or services that are not favorably received;
- the Company is unable to successfully balance its efforts to provide a compelling user experience with the decisions made by the Company with respect to the frequency, prominence, and size of ads and other commercial content that the Company displays;
- there are changes in user sentiment about the quality or usefulness of the Company's products or concerns related to privacy and sharing, safety, security, or other factors;
- the Company is unable to manage and prioritize information to ensure users are presented with content that is interesting, useful, and relevant to them;
- there are adverse changes in the Company's products that are mandated by legislation, regulatory authorities, or litigation, including settlements or consent decrees;
- technical or other problems prevent the Company from delivering its products in a rapid and reliable manner or otherwise affect the user experience;
- the Company adopts policies or procedures related to areas such as sharing its user data that are perceived negatively by its users or the general public;
- the Company fails to provide adequate customer service to users, developers, or advertisers; or
- the Company, its software developers, or other companies in its industry are the subject of adverse media reports or other negative publicity.

If the Company is unable to build and/or maintain relationships with publishers and developers, the Company's revenue, financial results, and future growth potential may be adversely affected.

Rapid Technological Change

The business of the Company is subject to rapid technological changes. Failure to keep up with such changes may adversely affect the business of the Company.

The market in which the Company competes is characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, frequent new service and product announcements, introductions and enhancements and changing customer demands. Accordingly, the Company's future success will depend on its ability to adapt to rapidly changing technologies, to adapt its services to evolving industry standards and to continually improve the performance, features and reliability of its service in response to competitive service and product offerings and evolving demands of the marketplace. The failure of the Company to adapt to such changes would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Additionally, there can be no assurances that the Company will be able to successfully introduce and integrate its technologies so as to implement its business strategy.

Additionally, there can be no assurances that the Company will be able to successfully introduce and integrate its technologies so as to implement its business strategy.

Online Commerce Security Risks

A significant barrier to online commerce and communications is the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography, or other events or developments will not result in a compromise or breach of the technology used by the Company to protect customer transaction data. If any such compromise of the Company's security were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on the Company's reputation and, therefore, on its business, results of operations and financial condition. Furthermore, a party who is able to circumvent the Company's security measures could misappropriate proprietary information or cause interruptions in the Company's operations. The Company may be required to expend significant capital and other resources to protect against such security breaches or to alleviate problems caused by such breaches.

Should one or more of these risks and uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, then actual results may vary materially from those described in any forward looking statement.
