Item XVI Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation.

A. Plan of Operation.

1. Describe the issuer's plan of operation for the next twelve months, including:

   i) How long the issuer can satisfy its cash requirements and whether it will have to raise additional capital in the next twelve months.

We currently have sufficient cash, or available resources to fund our operations for the next twelve months. The company is in the process of securing funds to purchase QPI, Inc. and when the funds are provided, the company believes it is able to satisfy its cash requirements for the next year with the revenue it is currently generating and for additional money, if needed, the company will seek debt or equity contributions from third parties.

ii) A summary of any product research and development that the issuer will perform for the term of the plan.

None.

iii) Any expected purchase or sale of plant and significant equipment.

In April 2010, ALAS entered into a contract to purchase Quality Performance, Inc., a company located in Fredericksburg, VA. QPI is a 20 year old Company that primarily markets to the US Navy. The transaction is subject to certain closing conditions including a financing and due diligence. Once all of the conditions are met, we anticipate closing the transaction in September 2010. In 2009, QPI generated $9.2 million in revenue and $1.5 million in Operating Profit.

iv) Any expected significant changes in the number of employees.

When the purchase of QPI is completed, we expect to have added 10 employees as a result of the acquisition.

B. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Full fiscal years. The Company has not recognized revenue since the date of merger, through March 31, 2011. The Company has incurred expenses, primarily for the efforts involved with the potential acquisition of QPI. Efforts have been focused on raising capital and public company administration. The current reporting company was inactive through the year ended June 30, 2009.

i. Any known trends, events or uncertainties that have or are reasonably likely to have a material impact on the issuer's short-term or long-term liquidity.

None.

ii. Internal and external sources of liquidity.

None.

iii. Any material commitments for capital expenditures and the expected sources of funds for such expenditures.

None.

iv. Any known trends, events or uncertainties that have had or that are reasonably expected to have a material impact on the net sales or revenues or income from continuing operations.

None.

v. Any significant elements of income or loss that do not arise from the issuer's continuing operations.

None.

vi. The causes for any material changes from period to period in one or more line items of the issuer's financial statements.

None.

vii. Any seasonal aspects that had a material effect on the financial condition or results of operation.

None.

1. Interim Periods. Provide a comparable discussion that will enable the reader to assess material changes in financial condition and results of operations since the end of the last fiscal year and for the comparable interim period in the preceding year.

The Company has not had any operation for the periods shown on the interim reports. The main expense is professional and administrative expenses incurred with reporting requirements and acquisition efforts

C. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements.

1. In a separately-captioned section, discuss the issuer's off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on the issuer's financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that is material to investors. The disclosure shall include the items specified in paragraphs C(1)(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) of this Item XVI to the extent necessary to an understanding of such arrangements and effect and shall also include such other information that the issuer believes is necessary for such an understanding.

i. The nature and business purpose to the issuer of such off-balance sheet arrangements

   None.

ii. The importance to the issuer of such off-balance sheet arrangements in respect of its liquidity, capital resources, market risk support, credit risk support or other benefits;

   None.

iii. The amounts of revenues, expenses and cash flows of the issuer arising from such arrangements; the nature and amounts of any interests retained, securities issued and other indebtedness incurred by the issuer in connection with such arrangements; and the nature and amounts of any other obligations or liabilities (including contingent obligations or liabilities) of the issuer arising from such arrangements that are or are reasonably likely to become material and the triggering events or circumstances that could cause them to arise; and

   None.

iv. Any known event, demand, commitment, trend or uncertainty that will result in or is reasonably likely to result in the termination, or material reduction in availability to the issuer, of its off-balance sheet arrangements that provide material benefits to it, and the course of action that the issuer has taken or proposes to take in response to any such circumstances.

   None.

2. As used in paragraph C of this Item XVI, the term off-balance sheet arrangement means any transaction, agreement or other contractual arrangement to which an entity unconsolidated with the issuer is a party, under which the issuer has:

i. Any obligation under a guarantee contract that has any of the characteristics identified in paragraph 3 of FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others (November 2002) ("FIN 45"), as may be modified or supplemented, and that is not excluded from the initial recognition and measurement provisions of FIN 45 pursuant to paragraphs 6 or 7 of that Interpretation;

None.

ii. A retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to such entity for such assets;

None.

iii. Any obligation, including a contingent obligation, under a contract that would be accounted for as a derivative instrument, except that it is both indexed to the issuer's own stock and classified in stockholders' equity in the issuer's statement of financial position, and therefore excluded from the scope of FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (June 1998), pursuant to paragraph 11(a) of that Statement, as may be modified or supplemented; or

None.

iv. Any obligation, including a contingent obligation, arising out of a variable interest (as referenced in FASB Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (January 2003), as may be modified or supplemented) in an unconsolidated entity that is held by, and material to, the issuer, where such entity provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with, the issuer.
