Part C Business Information

Item 8 The nature of the issuer's business.

Auric Mining Company is doing business as an investment company in mining and natural resources projects. The company focuses its resources in investing with on-going projects to establish immediate cash-flow for the company and provide profitability for its shareholders.

Auric has researched through different databases of natural resources companies that are public and have substantial findings already proven. Auric will invest in these companies in exchange for shares and revenue sharing.

Auric is constantly seeking acquisition opportunities with significant exploration upside in the form of entire companies or packages of assets that provide an undeniable chance of hosting base and precious metal mineralization.

The company is currently focused on developing its properties in the Wawa area of the Sault Ste. Marie Mining District in Ontario. In addition to its prolific history for gold mining, Wawa has shown promising signs of concentrated kimberlitic indicators, a favourable geological formation for diamond exploration. The company has a number of claims strategically located in this historic mining district. We have taken significant effort to ensure that the properties we explore deserve investment of time, effort and financial commitment necessary to establish successful mineral production in the future.

Item 9 The nature of products or services offered.

A. Principal products or services, and their markets.

The Company is constantly search for new ideas that can lead to exploration and development programs, Its first project is the property known as the Dog Lake Project. This particular property is located in Northern Ontario, specifically near Wawa, Ontario in the Canadian Shield. Auric has a joint venture agreement for interest in a group of mineral rights located in Dog Lake Project.

Dog Lake Project - Wawa, Ontario

Previous exploration in the Wawa has discovered numerous deposits of small diamonds within metamorphosed Archean basement rocks. Dianor has discovered rocks with encouraging grades and stone size distribution directly south of the Mori-Metalex ground. Island Gold Mine has Proven and Probable Reserves of 1,013,854 tonnes at a grade of 8.55 g/t gold for a total of 278,711 ounces of gold (NI 43-101 compliant report by GENIVAR) Project has additional Measured and Indicated Resources 454,705 tonnes at a grade of 10.26 g/t for a total of 149,972 ounces (NI 43-101 compliant report by GENIVAR).

Just north of Wawa, several companies have found significant quantities of the gems in an unusual host rock: the ancient volcanics that characterize the region. It seems that while both public and private sector geologists were looking for and finding kimberlite pipes - the conventional diamond host - in Ontario, a potentially important source of the gems lay right beneath their grub hoes within the relatively well explored Superior Craton.

The unique discoveries have piqued the interest of two of the world's biggest diamond producers. Kennecott Canada Exploration, the Canadian exploration arm of Rio Tinto, recently inked a rich option agreement with Band Ore Resources (BAN-T) that allows the major to earn a 70% stake in the junior's GQ diamond property, 15 km north of Wawa, in exchange for expenditures of $15 million over seven years.

Meanwhile, De Beers is processing a 455kg sample from the neighbouring Festival property owned by Pele Mountain Resources (YPN-V). Now that the unusual rocks that host these occurrences have been fairly well-characterized and ongoing overburden stripping is exposing new bedrock, finding diamonds in the Wawa area is becoming an almost everyday occurrence.

The exploration and extraction of mineral resources have been ongoing activities in the Wawa area since the native operation of primitive copper mines as well as the search for these mines by early European explorers in the late 1600's. Short-lived copper and ore mining ventures occurred in the 1770's. Unsuccessful mining exploits continued in spurts until 1897 when gold was discovered on the south shore of Wawa Lake and this establishing Wawa's future as a mining town. Described as a miniature Klondike, the Wawa gold rush lasted until 1906.

In the 1920's there emerged a revitalized interest in the gold deposits near Wawa. More efficient mining technology and renewed enthusiasm in the gold resources of northern Ontario led to the discovery of new gold veins at Michipicoten. Gold mines that were operational during the first years of the Wawa gold boom were redeveloped. In 1926 the Grace Mine was re-opened and by the year 1932, the Jubilee, the Minto, the Darwin, and the Parkhill had begun operations. These four mines were the most successful and long standing in a list of at least fifteen other gold mines.

The gold mining industry remained dormant in the Wawa area until 1981 with the then large scale development of the Hemlo gold discovery. Considerable gold exploration in the region led to the reopening of some of the original shafts of the two gold booms of the early 1900's. A number of new gold extraction companies initiated mining operations in the area and established their offices in Wawa.

Dependant on the continually changing price of gold and the international economy, the gold industry in Wawa was once again short lived. The gold industry experienced peak production and profits in the late 1980's when Ontario became the largest gold producer in Canada. Due to the advent of a poor gold market in 1989-90 and the development of an economic recession in late 1990, the industry took a turn for the worse. Most of the mining operations in the Wawa area were either terminated or temporarily suspended until the emergence of a more profitable climate and increased international gold prices.

Patricia Mining is one of the latest companies to bring back focus on gold mining in the Wawa area with its Island Lake Gold Project.

The Island Gold Project consists of 108 patented and leased mineral claims and 197 staked claims with an underground mine and operating 650 tonne-per-day carbon-in-pulp mill. Patricia has a National Instrument (NI) 43-101 compliant Mineral Reserve Estimate for the property which indicates Proven and Probable Reserves of 1,013,854 tonnes grading 8.55 g/t Au for a total of 278,711 ounces of Au at a cut off grade of 5.0 g/t Au. Additionally there is an estimated Measured and Indicated Resource of 454,705 tonnes at a grade of 10.26 g/t Au for a total of 149,972 ounces of Au at a cut off grade of 5.0 g/t Au. This additional resource is exclusive of the Proven and Probable Reserves. In addition, the Island Gold Project includes the past producing Kremzar Mine which has historical (pre NI 43-101) Proven and Probable Reserves of 181,944 tonnes at 6.27 g/t Au and Possible Reserves of 85,952 tonnes at 8.67 g/t Au.

With respect to the diamond market, diamond consumption has been increasing and based on current production, shortage of supply is anticipated. What this means is that there is huge potential for profit in the diamond industry. Forecasts suggest that new demand from Asia and the Middle East will drive consumption to exceed production as early as late 2007, especially in light of the fact that no new major mines are scheduled to begin production anywhere worldwide.

Canada could potentially host more economically viable diamond deposits. Auric recognizes the potential associated with discovering Canada's next diamond mine and is well positioned to seize that opportunity. Retail sales of diamonds are in the region of US$40 billion, with the average price paid about $800 per piece. It is estimated that over 40% of world diamond exploration is now being conducted in Canada. In 2003 industry giant DeBeers spent almost half of its global exploration budget ($24 million) in Canada.

B. Distribution methods of the products or services.

The Company does not determine distribution methods; it is subject to the operators of the individual claims.

C. Status of any publicly announced new product or services.

None.

D. Competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition.

The resource industry is intensely competitive in all of its phases, and the Company competes with many companies possessing greater financial resources and technical facilities. Because the Company may not have the financial and managerial resources to compete with other companies, it may not be successful in its efforts to acquire projects of value, which, ultimately, become productive. However, while the Company competes with other exploration companies, there is no competition for the exploration or removal of minerals from its claims.

E. Sources and availability of raw materials and the names of principal suppliers.

Not applicable to the Company.

F. Dependence on one or a few major customers.

The Company depends on numerous customers in the industry. The company is not dependant on one major customer for the endurance of the company and looks forward to the future business that is to be provided.

G. Patents, trademarks, licenses, franchises, concessions, royalty agreements or labour contracts, including their duration; and

Not applicable to the Company.

H. The need for any government approval of principal products or services. Discuss the status of any requested government approvals.

The Company conducts the daily business under the guidelines of the State of Delaware. The Company at this time does not need and has not requested government approval on its products or services.

The current and anticipated future operations, however, of the Company, including development activities by the joint venture partners of the Company on the properties it has acquired mineral claims, require permits from various federal, territorial and local governmental authorities and such operations are and will be governed by laws and regulations governing prospecting, development, mining, production, exports, taxes, labour standards, occupational health, waste disposal, toxic substances, land use, environmental protection, mine safety and other matters. Companies engaged in the development and operation of mines and related facilities generally experience increased costs, and delays in production and other schedules as a result of the need to comply with applicable laws, regulations and permits. The Company's potential exploration activities and its potential partner's possible mining and processing operations in Canada are subject to various Canadian Federal and Territorial laws governing land use, the protection of the environment, prospecting, development, production, exports, taxes, labour standards, occupational health, waste disposal, toxic substances, mine safety and other matters.

Such operations and exploration activities are also subject to substantial regulation under these laws by governmental agencies and may require that the Company obtain permits from various governmental agencies. The Company believes it is in substantial compliance with all material laws and regulations which currently apply to its activities. There can be no assurance, however, that all permits which the Company may require for construction of mining facilities and conduct of mining operations will be obtainable on reasonable terms or that such laws and regulations, or that new legislation or modifications to existing legislation, would not have an adverse effect on any exploration or mining project which the Company might undertake.

Failure to comply with applicable laws, regulations and permit requirements may result in enforcement actions thereunder, including orders issued by regulatory or judicial authorities causing operations to cease or be curtailed, and may include corrective measures requiring capital expenditures, installation of additional equipment or remedial actions. Parties engaged in mining operations may be required to compensate those suffering loss or damage by reason of the mining activities and may have civil or criminal fines or penalties imposed for violation of applicable laws or regulations. The amount of funds required to comply with all environmental regulations and to pay for compensation in the event of a breach of such laws may exceed the Company's ability to pay such amount.

Amendments to current laws, regulations and permits governing operations and activities of mining companies, or more stringent implementation thereof, could have a material adverse impact on the Company and cause increases in capital expenditures or production costs or reduction in levels of production at producing properties or require abandonment or delays in development of new mining properties.

Item 10 The nature and extent of the issuer's facilities.

- A. The Company does not have any property or interests that tantamount to property ownership. The Company does not have any plants or other property.
- B. The Company's principal operations are located in Suite 101-702 West Street, Wilmington, DE 19801
- C. It is not anticipated that expanded facilities will be needed for the first few years of the plan.
- D. The issuer does not lease any assets, properties or facilities other than the rights associated with the mineral claim above.
- E. The Issuer does not own any property or properties, for which the book value amounts to 10 percent or more of the total assets of the issuer and its consolidated subsidiaries for the last fiscal year.

Item 16 Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

A. Plan of Operation

The Company will operate in the mining industry as an exploration and resource investment company. On April 1st, 2010, the Company completed its acquisition of the Dog Lake mineral claims which are in the Province of Ontario, Canada. Pursuant to the agreement, the Company has acquired a 52% working interest in the mining claims. From the date of the agreement until September 15th, 2010, the Company has an option to complete its due diligence on the property. During the due diligence period the Company will confirm title, ownership and any other matters the Company deems material to its decision to exercise the Option and purchase the property.

The Company is raising capital and planning a Phase I exploration program on the optioned Dog Lake mineral claims for the field season of 2010. The plan is to have a field crew investigate and collect rock and soil samples from its land holdings in Ontario, Canada. All samples collected will be analyzed for results. Upon receiving the results, follow-up targets for exploration and potential drilling will be prioritized.

Field crews will then be remobilized in for the 2012 field season to continue with regional exploration mapping and sampling programs concurrent with targeted drilling. Field crews will concentrate on existing geological mapping and sampling of selected historic mineral occurrences and the existence of diamonds. The goal is to identify new drill targets in the Dog Lake project.

The increase in the prices of gold since the economic collapse in late 2008 coupled with the ever-growing diamond industry in Canada has been remarkable and Auric is ideally positioned to benefit from strengthened demand in these two markets within the mining industry. The price of gold has increased from approximately USD $850.00/oz in September 2008 to the current price of over USD $1,200.00/oz. Gold serves as a safe haven investment during times of financial crisis.

Auric will also find leverage from the ever growing diamond industry in Canada as there is potential for the existence of diamonds on the Dog Lake mining claims. Kimberlite Indicator Minerals (KIM) have been discovered in the Batchewana area of Ontario. Much of the shield area of Ontario is highly fractured, with large fractures and faults providing access ways for deep-level igneous rocks as exemplified by the presence of carbonatite and accompanying alkalic intrusions.

The Company has now paid a preliminary deposit, in advance of a purchase and sale agreement, to purchase a gold property in the Abitibi Greenstone belt. The terms of the agreement will be disclosed upon closing.

The Abitibi Greenstone Belt is where nearly a billion grams of gold have been produced to date and is near some of the largest gold reserves in Canada. It is the Company's belief that the claim is strategically situated to benefit from results of nearby operators. The target property is approximately halfway between the Main Break and the Larder Break/Bidgood Trend and north of the Larder Lake Fault, the main focus of gold mineralization is known as the Mile of Gold. Once the purchase is complete, applying geological, geochemical and geophysical work to it may be used to determine this patented claim's true value to our operations. The Company has both legal and financial obligations to complete before possession and any work can be started in the spring of 2012.

There are no expected significant changes in the number of employees.

C. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

None.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2011
(Stated in US Dollars)
(Unaudited)

Note 1. General Organization and Business

Auric Mining Company (the “Company”) is a Delaware corporation. It was incorporated in March 1994 as Cellular Telecom Corporation and subsequently changed its name to Intellicel Corp. in June 1996, then to Focus Affiliates, Inc. in October 1999 and subsequently to Auric Mining Company on November 12, 2009.

The Company was reinstated on December 8, 2006 in the State of Delaware by an incorporator. The Company has been dormant since 2001 and was reorganized under new management on March 16, 2007 which will put the Company into the Development Stage.

Effective November 12, 2009, the Company’s name was changed from Focus Affiliates, Inc. to Auric Mining Company and the Company’s quotation symbol on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board and Pink Sheets was change from FONE to AUMY.

On April 1, 2010, the Company signed an option to acquire mining rights to the mining claims with Microelectronics Technology Corp, a Nevada registered company a fifty-two (52%) percent working interest in the 6 mining claims, numbering 3003549, 3003552, 3003553, 3003554, 3003556 and 4206849 in Bruyere Twp, in the State of Ontario.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet its obligations and continue its operations for its next fiscal year. Realization values may be substantially different from carrying values as shown and these financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. As of December 31, 2010, the Company had not yet achieved profitable operations, has accumulated losses of $28,705,804 since inception and expects to incur further losses in the development of its business, of which cast substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon future profitable operations and/or the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. Management has obtained additional funds by related party's advances; however, there is no assurance that this additional funding is adequate and further funding may be necessary.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and are stated in US dollars. Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future event, the preparation of financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates which have been made using careful judgment. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below :

Development Stage Company

The Company is a development stage as defined under ASC 915. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and none of its planned principal operations have commenced. All losses accumulated since inception has been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

Financial Instruments

The carrying values of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, promissory notes payable and due to related parties approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments. Management is of the opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from these financial instruments.

Stock Issued in Exchange for Services

The valuation of common stock issued in exchange for services is valued at an estimated fair market value as determined by officers and directors of the Company based upon other sales and issuances of the Company's common stock within the same general time period.

Stock-based Compensation

Under ASC 718, "Compensation-Stock Compensation", the Company recognizes the cost of employee services received in exchange for equity instruments, based on the grant-date fair value of those instruments, with limited exceptions. ASC 718 also affects the pattern in which compensation cost is recognized, the accounting for employee share purchase plans, and the accounting for income tax effects of share-based payment transactions.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company translates foreign currency transactions and balances to its reporting currency, United States Dollars, in accordance with ASC 830, "Foreign Currency Matters". Monetary assets and liabilities are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate in effect at the end of the relevant reporting period. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities assumed. Revenue and expenses are translated at the rate approximating the rate of exchange on the transaction date. All exchange gains and losses are included in the determination of net income (loss) for the year.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

The Company computes net loss per share in accordance with ASC 260, "Earnings per Share", which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the year including stock options, using the treasury stock method, and convertible preferred stock, using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the year is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

Income Taxes

Under ASC 740, the Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability. Under the asset and liability method of ASC 740, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statements carry amounts of existing assets and liabilities and loss carry forwards and their respective tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Note 3. Common Stock

For the year ended December 31, 2011, the Company issued 35,000,000 restricted common shares at $0.01 per share to one individual and three corporations for mineral properties and management service contracts and 28,100,000 free trading common shares at $0.001 per share for debt settlement with several corporations.

Note 4. Due to Related Parties

On December 31, 2011, $119,298 was due to several corporations related to the Company. These amounts bear no interest and with no stated repayment terms; the Company recorded no imputed interest on these borrowings.

Note 5. Income Taxes

The Company provides for income taxes under ASC 740, "Income Taxes". ASC 740 which requires the use of an asset and liability approach in accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and the tax rates in effect currently.

As of December 31, 2011, the Company had deficits accumulated during the development stage of $28,775,634 available in computing net deferred tax assets which may be used to offset future taxable income.

Note 6. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through March 18, 2012 and has determined that there were no subsequent events to recognize or disclose in these financial statements.

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1. General Organization and Business

Auric Mining Company (the “Company”) is a Delaware corporation. It was incorporated in March 1994 as Cellular Telecom Corporation and subsequently changed its name to Intellicel Corp. in June 1996, then to Focus Affiliates, Inc. in October 1999 and subsequently to Auric Mining Company on November 12, 2009.

The Company was reinstated on December 8, 2006 in the State of Delaware by an incorporator. The Company has been dormant since 2001 and was reorganized under new management on March 16, 2007 which will put the Company into the Development Stage.

Effective November 12, 2009, the Company's name was changed from Focus Affiliates, Inc. to Auric Mining Company and the Company's quotation symbol on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board and Pink Sheets was change from FONE to AUMY.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet its obligations and continue its operations for its next fiscal year. Realization values may be substantially different from carrying values as shown and these financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. At December 31, 2009, the Company had not yet achieved profitable operations, has accumulated losses of $28,210,565 since inception and expects to incur further losses in the development of its business, of which cast substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon future profitable operations and/or the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. Management has obtained additional funds by related party's advances; however, there is no assurance that this additional funding is adequate and further funding may be necessary.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and are stated in US dollars.

Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future event, the preparation of financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates which have been made using careful judgment. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below :

Development Stage Company

The Company is a development stage as defined under ASC 915. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and none of its planned principal operations have commenced. All losses accumulated since inception has been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

Financial Instruments

The carrying values of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, promissory notes payable and due to related parties approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments. Management is of the opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from these financial instruments.

Stock Issued in Exchange for Services

The valuation of common stock issued in exchange for services is valued at an estimated fair market value as determined by officers and directors of the Company based upon other sales and issuances of the Company's common stock within the same general time period.

Stock-based Compensation

Under ASC 718, "Compensation-Stock Compensation", the Company recognizes the cost of employee services received in exchange for equity instruments, based on the grant-date fair value of those instruments, with limited exceptions. ASC 718 also affects the pattern in which compensation cost is recognized, the accounting for employee share purchase plans, and the accounting for income tax effects of share-based payment transactions.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company translates foreign currency transactions and balances to its reporting currency, United States Dollars, in accordance with ASC 830, "Foreign Currency Matters". Monetary assets and liabilities are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate in effect at the end of the relevant reporting period. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities assumed. Revenue and expenses are translated at the rate approximating the rate of exchange on the transaction date. All exchange gains and losses are included in the determination of net income (loss) for the year.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

The Company computes net loss per share in accordance with ASC 260, "Earnings per Share", which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the year including stock options, using the treasury stock method, and convertible preferred stock, using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the year is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

Income Taxes

Under ASC 740, the Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability. Under the asset and liability method of ASC 740, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statements carry amounts of existing assets and liabilities and loss carry forwards and their respective tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2009, FASB issued ASC 855, Subsequent Events, which establishes general standards of for the evaluation, recognition and disclosure of events and transactions that occur after the balance sheet date. Although there is new terminology, the standard is based on the same principles as those that currently exist in the auditing standards. The standard, which includes a new required disclosure that an entity has evaluated subsequent events through the date the financial statements have been issued, is effective for interim or annual periods ending after June 15, 2009. The adoption of ASC 855 did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements. Refer to Note 4.

In June 2009, the FASB issued guidance now codified as ASC 105, Generally Accepted Accounting Principles as the single source of authoritative accounting principles recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities in the preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP, aside from those issued by the SEC. ASC 105 does not change current U.S. GAAP, but is intended to simplify user access to all authoritative U.S. GAAP by providing all authoritative literature related to a particular topic in one place. The adoption of ASC 105 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements, but did eliminate all references to pre-codification standards. The Company has implemented all new accounting pronouncements that are in effect and that may impact its financial statements and does not believe that there are any other new accounting pronouncements that have been issued that might have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

In June 2009, the FASB issued SFAS No. 168 (ASC Topic 105), "The FASB Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles – a replacement of FASB Statement No. 162" ("SFAS No. 168"). Under SFAS No. 168 the "FASB Accounting Standards Codification" ("Codification") will become the source of authoritative US GAAP to be applied by nongovernmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under authority of federal securities laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants. SFAS No. 168 is effective for financial statements issued for interim and annual periods ending after September 15, 2009. On the effective date, the Codification will supersede all then-existing non-SEC accounting and reporting standards. All other non- grandfathered non-SEC accounting literature not included in the Codification will become non-authoritative. SFAS No. 168 is effective for the Company's interim quarterly period beginning July 1, 2009. The Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 168 to have an impact on the financial statements.
