

June 8, 2012

I thought I would provide you with a brief update to our newly released GPS Phone Tracker App. As of the 11:00 AM report, it has steadily climbed to 102 ranking in the United States iTunes store. A few more downloads and we should break into the coveted top 100 on our first day of release!

This is our paid version and our free version has not yet been released. Once our free version is released, it will have our initial marketing screen which will direct more traffic to our paid version.
