ABOT MINING CO.
NOTES TO UNAUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE PERIOD ENDED
MARCH 31, 2015

NOTE 1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND CONTINUANCE OF BUSINESS

Abot Mining Co. (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the state of Idaho in 1957. The Company's legal name is ABT Mining Co. Inc., which was amended with the State of Idaho on March 1, 2007. The Company is doing business as Abot Mining Co.

The Company is engaged in the exploration, discovery and production of precious and semi-precious metals and metal properties. At present, Company's main area of interest is in Nayarit, Mexico.

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which implies the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not generated any revenue in 2014 and for period ended March 31, 2015 and has not paid any dividends in 2014 and for period ended March 31, 2015 and is unlikely to generate earnings in the immediate or foreseeable future.

The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders and other investors, the ability of the Company to obtain any necessary financing to continue operations, and the attainment of profitable operations. As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $2,371,623 at March 31, 2015 and had a net loss of $46,166 for the period ended March 31, 2015. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A) Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company. The Company does not have any subsidiary. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

B) Non-controlling interests

Non-controlling interests represent the equity in a subsidiary not attributable directly or indirectly to the Company, and is represented in the consolidated balance sheets as a component of stockholders' equity. Non-controlling interests in the results of operations of the Company are presented in the face of the consolidated statement of operations as an allocation of the total profit or loss between non-controlling interests and the shareholders of the Company.

C) Basis of Presentation

These financial statements and related notes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and are expressed in US dollars. The Company's fiscal year-end is December 31.

D) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to the recoverability of long-lived assets and deferred income tax asset valuation allowances. The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

E) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less at the time of issuance to be cash equivalents.

F) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's functional and reporting currency is the United States dollar. Occasional transactions may occur in Mexican Pesos and management has adopted ASC 830 Foreign Currency Matters.

- 1) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the exchange rate prevailing at the balance sheet date.
- 2) Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at rates of exchange in effect at the date of the transaction.
- 3) Average monthly rates are used to translate revenues and expenses. Gains and losses arising on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated transactions or balances are included in the determination of income.
- 4) The Company has not, to the date of these financial statements, entered into derivative instruments to offset the impact of foreign currency fluctuations.

G) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial instruments recorded on the balance sheet include cash and cash equivalents; trade accounts receivable, marketable securities, notes and accounts payable, and debt. Pursuant to ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and ASC 825, Financial Instruments the fair value of cash equivalents is determined based on "Level 1" inputs, which consist of quoted prices in active markets for identical assets.

The Company believes that the recorded values of all other financial instruments approximate their current fair values because of their nature and relatively short maturity dates or durations.

H) Basic and Diluted Net Loss Per Share

The Company computes net loss per share in accordance with ASC 260, Earnings Per Share which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic EPS is computed by dividing net loss available to common shareholders (numerator) by the weighted average number of shares outstanding (denominator) during the period.

Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period using the treasury stock method and convertible preferred stock using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the period is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

I) Mineral Property Costs

The Company has been in the exploration stage company with main focus in Nayarit, Mexico from December 11, 2011 and has not yet realized any revenues from its planned operations. It is primarily engaged in the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties. Mineral properties includes the cost of advance minimum royalty payments, the cost of capitalized mineral property leases, and the cost of property acquired either by cash payment, the issuance of term debt or common shares. Expenditures for exploration on specific properties with no proven reserves are written off as incurred.

Mineral property costs will be amortized against future revenues or charged to operations at the time the related property is determined to have impairment in value. Capitalized acquisition costs are expensed in the period in which it is determined that the mineral property has no future economic value. Capitalized amounts may also be written down if future cash flows, including potential sales proceeds related to the property, are estimated to be less than the carrying value of the property.

The Company reviews the carrying value of mineral property interests periodically, and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable, reductions in the carrying value of each property would be recorded to the extent the carrying value of the investment exceeds the property's estimated fair value. In the event that a mineral property is acquired through the issuance of the Company's shares, the mineral property will be recorded at the fair value of the respective property or the fair value of the common shares, whichever is more readily determinable.

When mineral properties are acquired under option agreements with future acquisition payments to be made at the sole discretion of the Company, those future payments, whether in cash or shares, are recorded only when the Company has made or is obliged to make the payment or issue the shares. When it has been determined that a mineral property can be economically developed as a result of establishing proven and probable reserves and bankable feasibility, the costs incurred to develop such property are capitalized.

The Company is expected to pay $100,000 to Rising Star Mining or to its assignees under the option agreement signed on December 06, 2011 (see Note 7).

J) Long-lived Assets

In accordance with ASC 360, Property Plant and Equipment the Company tests long-lived assets or asset groups for recoverability when events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amount may not be recoverable. Circumstances which could trigger a review include, but are not limited to: significant decreases in the market price of the asset; significant adverse changes in the business climate or legal factors; accumulation of costs significantly in excess of the amount originally expected for the acquisition or construction of the asset; current period cash flow or operating losses combined with a history of losses or a forecast of continuing losses associated with the use of the asset; and current expectation that the asset will more likely than not be sold or disposed significantly before the end of its estimated useful life. Recoverability is assessed based on the carrying amount of the asset and its fair value which is generally determined based on the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and the eventual disposal of the asset, as well as specific appraisal in certain instances. An impairment loss is recognized when the carrying amount is not recoverable and exceeds fair value.

Property and equipment is stated at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset or the lease term. The estimated useful lives of our property and equipment are generally as follows: computer software developed or acquired for internal use, three years; computer equipment, two to three years; buildings and improvements, five to 15 years; leasehold improvements, two to 10 years; and furniture and equipment, one to five years. Land is not depreciated.

K) Asset Retirement Obligations

The Company follows the provisions of ASC 410 Asset Retirement and Environmental Obligations, which establishes standards for the initial measurement and subsequent accounting for obligations associated with the sale, abandonment or other disposal of long-lived tangible assets arising from the acquisition, construction or development and for normal operations of such assets. As at December 31, 2013, 2012 and 2011, the Company has not recognized any asset retirement obligations.

L) Income Taxes

Potential benefits of income tax losses are not recognized in the accounts until realization is more likely than not. The Company has adopted ASC 740, Income Taxes as of its inception. Pursuant to ASC 740 the Company is required to compute tax asset benefits for net operating losses carried forward. The potential benefits of net operating losses have not been recognized in these financial statements because the Company cannot be assured it is more likely than not it will utilize the net operating losses carried forward in future years.

M) Stock-based Compensation

In accordance with ASC 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation, the Company accounts for share-based payments using the fair value method. The Company has not issued any stock options since its inception. Common shares issued to third parties for non-cash consideration are valued based on the fair market value of the services provided or the fair market value of the Common Stock on the measurement date, whichever is more readily determinable.

N) Comprehensive Income

ASC 220, Comprehensive Income establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive loss and its components in the financial statements. As at December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company has no items that represent a comprehensive loss and, therefore, has not included a schedule of comprehensive loss in the financial statements.

O) Recent accounting pronouncements

In June 2011, the FASB issued guidance on presentation of comprehensive income. The new guidance eliminates the current option to report other comprehensive income and its components in the statement of changes in equity. Instead, an entity will be required to present either a continuous statement of net income and other comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. The new guidance was effective for us beginning July 1, 2012 and had presentation changes only.

In May 2011, the FASB issued guidance to amend the accounting and disclosure requirements on fair value measurements. The new guidance limits the highest-and-best-use measure to nonfinancial assets, permits certain financial assets and liabilities with offsetting positions in market or counterparty credit risks to be measured at a net basis, and provides guidance on the applicability of premiums and discounts. Additionally, the new guidance expands the disclosures on Level 3 inputs by requiring quantitative disclosure of the unobservable inputs and assumptions, as well as description of the valuation processes and the sensitivity of the fair value to changes in unobservable inputs. The new guidance was effective for us beginning January 1, 2012. Other than requiring additional disclosures, there were no material impacts on our financial statements.

In January 2010, the FASB issued guidance to amend the disclosure requirements related to fair value measurements. The guidance requires the disclosure of roll forward activities on purchases, sales, issuance, and settlements of the assets and liabilities measured using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 fair value measurements). The guidance was effective for us as of January 1, 2012. The adoption of this new guidance did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

ABOT MINING CO.
NOTES TO UNAUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE PERIOD ENDED
DECEMBER 31, 2014 AND 2013

NOTE 1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND CONTINUANCE OF BUSINESS

Abot Mining Co. (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the state of Idaho in 1957.

The Company is engaged in the exploration, discovery and production of precious and semi-precious metals and metal properties. At present, Company's main area of interest is in Nayarit, Mexico.

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which implies the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not generated any revenue in 2013 and for 2014 and has not paid any dividends in 2013 and 2014 and is unlikely to generate earnings in the immediate or foreseeable future.

The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders and other investors, the ability of the Company to obtain any necessary financing to continue operations, and the attainment of profitable operations. As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $2,325,457 at December 31, 2014 and had a net loss of $528,089 for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2014. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

P) Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company. The Company does not have any subsidiary. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Q) Non-controlling interests

Non-controlling interests represent the equity in a subsidiary not attributable directly or indirectly to the Company, and is represented in the consolidated balance sheets as a component of stockholders' equity. Non-controlling interests in the results of operations of the Company are presented in the face of the consolidated statement of operations as an allocation of the total profit or loss between non-controlling interests and the shareholders of the Company.

R) Basis of Presentation

These financial statements and related notes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and are expressed in US dollars. The Company's fiscal year-end is December 31.

S) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to the recoverability of long-lived assets and deferred income tax asset valuation allowances. The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

T) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less at the time of issuance to be cash equivalents.

U) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's functional and reporting currency is the United States dollar. Occasional transactions may occur in Mexican Pesos and management has adopted ASC 830 Foreign Currency Matters.

- 5) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the exchange rate prevailing at the balance sheet date.
- 6) Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at rates of exchange in effect at the date of the transaction.
- 7) Average monthly rates are used to translate revenues and expenses. Gains and losses arising on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated transactions or balances are included in the determination of income.
- 8) The Company has not, to the date of these financial statements, entered into derivative instruments to offset the impact of foreign currency fluctuations.

V) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial instruments recorded on the balance sheet include cash and cash equivalents; trade accounts receivable, marketable securities, notes and accounts payable, and debt. Pursuant to ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and ASC 825, Financial Instruments the fair value of cash equivalents is determined based on "Level 1" inputs, which consist of quoted prices in active markets for identical assets.

The Company believes that the recorded values of all other financial instruments approximate their current fair values because of their nature and relatively short maturity dates or durations.

W) Basic and Diluted Net Loss Per Share

The Company computes net loss per share in accordance with ASC 260, Earnings Per Share which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic EPS is computed by dividing net loss available to common shareholders (numerator) by the weighted average number of shares outstanding (denominator) during the period.

Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period using the treasury stock method and convertible preferred stock using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the period is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

X) Mineral Property Costs

The Company has been in the exploration stage company with main focus in Nayarit, Mexico from December 11, 2011 and has not yet realized any revenues from its planned operations. It is primarily engaged in the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties. Mineral properties includes the cost of advance minimum royalty payments, the cost of capitalized mineral property leases, and the cost of property acquired either by cash payment, the issuance of term debt or common shares. Expenditures for exploration on specific properties with no proven reserves are written off as incurred.

Mineral property costs will be amortized against future revenues or charged to operations at the time the related property is determined to have impairment in value. Capitalized acquisition costs are expensed in the period in which it is determined that the mineral property has no future economic value. Capitalized amounts may also be written down if future cash flows, including potential sales proceeds related to the property, are estimated to be less than the carrying value of the property.

The Company reviews the carrying value of mineral property interests periodically, and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable, reductions in the carrying value of each property would be recorded to the extent the carrying value of the investment exceeds the property's estimated fair value. In the event that a mineral property is acquired through the issuance of the Company's shares, the mineral property will be recorded at the fair value of the respective property or the fair value of the common shares, whichever is more readily determinable.

When mineral properties are acquired under option agreements with future acquisition payments to be made at the sole discretion of the Company, those future payments, whether in cash or shares, are recorded only when the Company has made or is obliged to make the payment or issue the shares. When it has been determined that a mineral property can be economically developed as a result of establishing proven and probable reserves and bankable feasibility, the costs incurred to develop such property are capitalized.

The Company is expected to pay $100,000 to Rising Star Mining under the option agreement signed on December 06, 2011 (see Note 7).

Y) Long-lived Assets

In accordance with ASC 360, Property Plant and Equipment the Company tests long-lived assets or asset groups for recoverability when events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amount may not be recoverable. Circumstances which could trigger a review include, but are not limited to: significant decreases in the market price of the asset; significant adverse changes in the business climate or legal factors; accumulation of costs significantly in excess of the amount originally expected for the acquisition or construction of the asset; current period cash flow or operating losses combined with a history of losses or a forecast of continuing losses associated with the use of the asset; and current expectation that the asset will more likely than not be sold or disposed significantly before the end of its estimated useful life. Recoverability is assessed based on the carrying amount of the asset and its fair value which is generally determined based on the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and the eventual disposal of the asset, as well as specific appraisal in certain instances. An impairment loss is recognized when the carrying amount is not recoverable and exceeds fair value.

Property and equipment is stated at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset or the lease term. The estimated useful lives of our property and equipment are generally as follows: computer software developed or acquired for internal use, three years; computer equipment, two to three years; buildings and improvements, five to 15 years; leasehold improvements, two to 10 years; and furniture and equipment, one to five years. Land is not depreciated.

Z) Asset Retirement Obligations

The Company follows the provisions of ASC 410 Asset Retirement and Environmental Obligations, which establishes standards for the initial measurement and subsequent accounting for obligations associated with the sale, abandonment or other disposal of long-lived tangible assets arising from the acquisition, construction or development and for normal operations of such assets. As at December 31, 2013, 2012 and 2011, the Company has not recognized any asset retirement obligations.

AA)Income Taxes

Potential benefits of income tax losses are not recognized in the accounts until realization is more likely than not. The Company has adopted ASC 740, Income Taxes as of its inception. Pursuant to ASC 740 the Company is required to compute tax asset benefits for net operating losses carried forward. The potential benefits of net operating losses have not been recognized in these financial statements because the Company cannot be assured it is more likely than not it will utilize the net operating losses carried forward in future years.

BB)Stock-based Compensation

In accordance with ASC 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation, the Company accounts for share-based payments using the fair value method. The Company has not issued any stock options since its inception. Common shares issued to third parties for non-cash consideration are valued based on the fair market value of the services provided or the fair market value of the Common Stock on the measurement date, whichever is more readily determinable.

CC)Comprehensive Income

ASC 220, Comprehensive Income establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive loss and its components in the financial statements. As at December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company has no items that represent a comprehensive loss and, therefore, has not included a schedule of comprehensive loss in the financial statements.

DD)Recent accounting pronouncements

In June 2011, the FASB issued guidance on presentation of comprehensive income. The new guidance eliminates the current option to report other comprehensive income and its components in the statement of changes in equity. Instead, an entity will be required to present either a continuous statement of net income and other comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. The new guidance was effective for us beginning July 1, 2012 and had presentation changes only.

In May 2011, the FASB issued guidance to amend the accounting and disclosure requirements on fair value measurements. The new guidance limits the highest-and-best-use measure to nonfinancial assets, permits certain financial assets and liabilities with offsetting positions in market or counterparty credit risks to be measured at a net basis, and provides guidance on the applicability of premiums and discounts. Additionally, the new guidance expands the disclosures on Level 3 inputs by requiring quantitative disclosure of the unobservable inputs and assumptions, as well as description of the valuation processes and the sensitivity of the fair value to changes in unobservable inputs. The new guidance was effective for us beginning January 1, 2012. Other than requiring additional disclosures, there were no material impacts on our financial statements.

In January 2010, the FASB issued guidance to amend the disclosure requirements related to fair value measurements. The guidance requires the disclosure of roll forward activities on purchases, sales, issuance, and settlements of the assets and liabilities measured using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 fair value measurements). The guidance was effective for us as of January 1, 2012. The adoption of this new guidance did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

NOTE 8 – INCOME TAX

Deferred taxes are provided on a liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss and tax credit carry forwards and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

Net deferred tax assets consist of the following components as of December 31, 2014 and 2013:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Deferred Tax Assets – Non-current:
Net Operating Loss Carryover	$ 1,129,772	601,683
Less valuation allowance	(1,129,772)	(601,683)
Deferred tax assets, net of valuation allowance	$ -	$ -

The income tax provision differs from the amount of income tax determined by applying the U.S. federal income tax rate to pretax income from continuing operations for the period ended December 31, 2014 and 2013 due to the following:

	2014	2013
Book Loss	$ (528,089)	$(181,157)
Meals and Entertainment	-	5,000
Stock for Services	-	-
Accrued Payroll	116,387	155,383
Valuation allowance	411,702	20,774
	$ -	$ -

At December 31, 2014, the Company had net operating loss carry forwards of approximately $1,129,772 that may be offset against future taxable income from the year 2012 to 2032. No tax benefit has been reported in the December 31, 2014 financial statements since the potential tax benefit is offset by a valuation allowance of the same amount.

6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

A. a description of the issuer's business operations;

Abot Mining is a US based mining company engaged in the exploration, discovery and production of precious and semi-precious metals and metal properties.

The Company is currently focused on an aggressive growth strategy that includes the acquisition of small to mid-tier target properties with significant growth potential. The Company aim to maintain a diversified portfolio view of mining projects, which shall include a balance mix of safe, secure investments with immediate cash flow potential and those higher risk exploration projects that offer greater potential rewards.

Major exploration companies generally focus their attention and resources toward the exploration and production of mature semi-precious metals properties that possess significant proven and probable reserves. The recent favorable economics of the commodities market have improved as prices have risen substantially, providing ample opportunities for smaller independent companies such as Abot Mining to acquire and exploit smaller precious and semi-precious mineral properties worldwide.

Abot Mining along with Rising Star S.A. de C.V., a Mexican Corporation ("Operating/JV Partner"), plans on developing its gold, silver and copper Aztlan 8B Mining Project ("Aztlan 8B") in the State of Nayarit in the Tecuala Mining District on the west coast of Mexico and other areas around Tecuala Mining District. The Tecuala Mining District is considered a widely mineralized area and identified as a major deposit of gold and other minerals. The area around the Aztlan 8B has been extensively explored and is currently being mined by several known junior mining companies and geological institutions.

Our current projects under development are as follows:

ABOT Mining is pleased to announce that as of November 14, 2012 it has entered into a legally binding Silver Tailings Purchase & Processing Agreement (the "Agreement") with Rising Star Mining ("Operating/JV Partner") that sets forth terms and conditions for purchase and production of silver tailings ("Tailings") known as the Pueblo Project in Sinaloa, Mexico.

The Company has paid advance monies and has scheduled payments to commence mobilization works for road repair and equipment maintenance. On December 3, 2012, the production trial run of 150 tons of silver tailings and ground ore left from previous production on Pueblo Project in Sinaloa, Mexico was initiated. Abot Mining along with Rising Star S.A. de C.V., a Mexican Corporation ("Operating/JV Partner"), plans on developing its gold, silver and copper Aztlán 8B Mining Project ("Aztlán 8B") in the State of Nayarit in the Tecuala Mining District on the west coast of Mexico. The Tecuala Mining District is considered a widely mineralized area and identified as a major deposit of gold and other minerals.

The claim covers 300 plus acres, and is within a few kilometers of the pueblo 'Paulo Blanco'. The area around the Aztlán 8B has been extensively explored and is currently being mined by several known junior mining companies and geological institutions. According to Rising Star, past surface trench testing by others revealed deposits of placer and epithermal gold deposits, where overall bulk sample feed grade ranged from 0.20 gm/t to 39.00 gm/t. These tests were conducted across outcroppings of silicified volcanic breccias.

To the north and east of the Project, Nayarit Gold, Inc., holds extensive mining claims and is conducting core drill evaluations. Few kilometers to the south of the Project is another successful mining company, Vane Minerals Group, which has the "El Diablito" claim that has average feed grade ranged from 2 g/T Au, 200 g/T Ag (Source: www.vaneminerals.com). Further in the vicinity of the Project is US Gold, which has its El Gallo Project where only a limited amount of drilling has occurred on veins, but the results have been encouraging with measured and indicated resources of 39.8 million oz. of Ag and 550,000 oz. of Au (Source: www.usgold.com).

IV. Off-Take Agreement

Abot Mining and its Mexican joint venture partner announced that they have allocated up to 1,000 tons of Ore as an initial production test run. Subject to recovery rate results and refining cost from this production test run; Abot Mining shall increase the tonnage and frequency of the production.

Abot Mining has further received encouraging initial flotation engineering results, indicating a recovery value of 89.00% of the Au and Ag and show 2.51 ounces of Au and 19.00 ounces of Ag per metric ton. Based on these criteria, Abot Mining has contacted several mills and is in advance negotiation to finalize contract terms in order to define refining costs and to establish acceptable recovery rates for its Ore supply.

V. Other Claims

Subject to and conditioned upon availability of proper funding, Abot Mining plans to acquire various claims (gold and silver) in and around Aztlan 8 B area as recently concluded civil engineering work in February, 2012 on the Aztlan 8B Project further indicated that the mineral deposit may extend beyond the strike zone into an adjacent property to the south.

The Company has commenced preliminary negotiations with the property owner and is currently concluding its internal due diligence on documents provided by the property owner. If our preliminary analysis on this adjacent property is consistent in testing and surface sampling to the Aztlan 8B and deal terms meet our acquisition criteria, we shall immediately begin the process to add this property to our portfolio.
