NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND NATURE OF OPERATIONS

NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Andes Gold Corporation is the operator of leased properties which it mines for mineral resources, specifically, gold. The development of the properties is through the contracting of companies as needed. The focus of the business is to develop and produce gold assets in Ecuador and elsewhere in South America.

Andes Gold Corporation was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on August 29, 2007 as Princeton Consulting and Services Corporation. Princeton Consulting and Services Corporation was a participant in a three party merger under Delaware Business Corporation Act Section 251(g) wherein Whitewing Environmental Corp. (“Whitewing”) was merged with and into Princeton Consulting Acquisition Corp. (“Acquisition”) which changed its name to Whitewing Environmental Corp. and assumed all of the obligations of Whitewing effective September 27, 2007. On September 27, 2007, Whitewing Environmental Corp. then changed its name to Princeton Consulting and Services Corporation. On July 27, 2009, Princeton Consulting and Services Corp. changed its name to Andes Gold Corporation to coincide with the acquisition on that date of 100% of the controlling interests of Compania Minera Pl. S.A., an Ecuadorian company, located in Zaruma, Ecuador.

On October 1, 2010, Andes Gold Corporation entered into an agreement for the exchange of shares with New World Gold Corporation, whereby the New World Gold Corporation acquired a 54% controlling interest in the Issuer, and Andes Gold Corporation acquired a 20.57% interest, in New World Gold Corporation. As a result, Andes Gold Corporation became a majority-owned subsidiary of New World Gold Corporation. As of March 31, 2014, New World Gold Corporation continues to hold its controlling interest in Andes Gold Corporation.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The Company prepares its financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These principles require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

INCOME TAXES

The Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability method. The differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities are determined annually. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed for those differences that have future tax consequences using the currently enacted tax laws and rates that apply to the period in which they are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, if necessary, to reduce deferred tax asset accounts to the amounts that will more likely than not be realized. Income tax expense is the current tax payable or refundable for the period, plus or minus the net change in the deferred tax asset and liability accounts.

NET INCOME (LOSS) PER SHARE DATA

Net income (loss) per common share is computed based on the weighted average common stock and dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding during the year as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, No. 128, "Earnings per Share". The continued losses of the Company are anti-dilutive.

FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments, including accounts receivable and payable, notes receivable and payable and accrued liabilities approximate fair value due to the relatively short period to maturity for these instruments.

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

None that is applicable through March 31, 2014 to company operations.

ISSUANCE OF SHARES FOR SERVICES

Valuation of shares for services and other acquired assets were based on the fair market value of services received. For the three months ended March 31, 2014, 550,000,000 restricted shares of common stock were issued for services to the Company.

COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 130, "Comprehensive Income" ("SFAS No. 130") which is effective for annual periods ending after December 15, 1997. As provided by SFAS No. 130, reclassification adjustments to prior year amounts are reported in a separate statement of comprehensive income along with current year components of comprehensive income.

NOTE 2 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The Company's financial statements have been presented on the basis that it is a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Company's management intends to raise additional operating funds through equity and/or debt offerings in order to expand operations. However, there can be no assurance management will be successful in such endeavors.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments to reflect the possible future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that may result should the Company be unable to sustain profitability.

NOTE 3 - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During the three months ended March 31, 2014, the parent corporation, New World Gold Corporation, has advanced the Company capital for improvements, equipment, routine working capital and other expenses. Such advances are recorded under Long Term Liabilities, "Related Party – New World Gold Corporation" in the amount of $880,760.00.

NOTE 4 - NON-CASH TRANSACTIONS

No non-cash investing and financing activities occurred during the period from January 1, 2014 through March 31, 2014.

NOTE 5 - GOING CONCERN

As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Company had operating profits for the three months ended March 31, 2014 of $438,409. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern will depend on its ability to sustain its profitability, and/or its ability to raise additional capital should profitability decline. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

The Company anticipates raising additional working capital for improvements and expansion of operations through the issuance of debt and equity securities. Management believes that actions presently being taken to obtain additional funding provide the Company the opportunity to continue to operate as a going concern.

NOTE 6 – MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF OPERATIONS

At the end of the year, December 31, 2013, the company experienced growth in profits and revenues despite the fact that the price for an ounce of gold was approximately $250 an ounce less than last year. The Company expects 2014 to continue to grow with substantial increase in production, revenue and profits

For the first quarter the company increased revenue by 47.8% from $1,391,923 to $2,057,541. Profits increased by 60.4 % from $273,236 to $438,409. The company expects increased revenue and profits in the second quarter

The Company will continue to increase its reserves by development on existing leases and through the acquisition of new leases. Even with the projected revenues and profits, if the Company expects to grow, it may be necessary to raise additional capital to maintain the anticipated growth.
