6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

A. A Description of the Issuer's Business Operations:

Cre8tive Works, Inc. "the Company" was incorporated in the State of Nevada on December 31, 2003 under the name of Platinum Consulting Services and was in the business of providing business consulting services until 2006 when on May 15, 2006 it signed a Share Purchase agreement to acquire an undivided 100% right, title and interest in and to all the outstanding shares of AutoBidLive Auctions Inc. AutoBidLive Auctions Inc. was a private company incorporated in the Province of Alberta, Canada whose main asset was a proprietary software to enable real time, online auctions of virtually any product or commodity for use by the wholesale market. This included cars, boats, planes, coins, stamps, industrial products, diamonds, artwork, and livestock. As a result of the closing of the Share Purchase Agreement the Company changed its name from Platinum Consulting Services to Autobidlive Auctions International Inc. The Company subsequently changed its name again on December 26, 2006 from Autobidlive Auctions International Inc. to Auctions International Inc. although there was no change in business.

Between 2006 and 2012 the Company continued to develop and market its online auctions software and on November 20, 2012 it entered into an agreement with Rangemore Productions to produce a live interactive auction television series utilizing the AutoBidLive software. This led to a merger with Rangemore Productions, a company that leased film studio space to independent film productions presented itself. Although this was a deviation from the original business plan, the management felt that it was an exciting opportunity and decided to pursue it. On December 31, 2012, the Company entered into a Merger Agreement and on March 31, 2013, the merger closed whereby the Company issued 42,942,000 preferred shares for all the assets and liabilities of Rangemore Productions Corp.

Prior to the closing of the Merger Agreement on March 26, 2013, the Company changed its corporate name from Auctions International Inc. to Rangemore Film Productions Corp. to reflect the closing of the Merger Agreement between the Company and Rangemore Productions Corp. and the resulting change in business. On December 19, 2013 the Company again changed its corporate name to Cre8tive Works, Inc. as there was confusion with another company using the name Rangemore but did not change its business plan or operations.

Cre8tive Works is in the business of investing in and financing media productions. The term "media productions" includes but is not limited to: feature films, documentaries, animation, television series, movies-of-the-week, television specials, webisodes and soundtracks. Each project will be reviewed and vetted by Cre8tive Works Project Advisory Board and then be forwarded to management for final review and approval. Cre8tive Works investment in an approved project will not exceed 75% of the project's final budget and is capped at $1,000,000. In funding these projects, Cre8tive Works will utilize a combination of cash and stock. Recoupment of Cre8tive Works investment via revenue, tax incentives, government grants, etc., will be on a first out basis unless otherwise mutually agreed upon. Upon recoupment of the project's initial budget, future revenues generated will be shared on a pro-rata basis in perpetuity. The term "future revenue" includes but is not limited to: revenues from worldwide distribution, licensing fees, DVD sales, royalties, music publishing, web-related sales and merchandising. Cre8tive Works will appoint an Executive Producer to monitor the funding and progress of each project. The appointed Executive Producer and Cre8tive Works will each be entitled to a credit in the project including having their names displayed in the credit roll. Wherever possible and practical, approved projects will be encouraged to use the Cre8tive Works production facilities, which will be offered at preferred rates. The Company currently has an arrangement to participate in the royalties in one independent film production being developed

In addition to the financing of media productions, Cre8tive Works has access to a portfolio of studio and production facilities which it leases out at a small profit to independent film production companies in exchange for cash and royalties. The properties currently in the portfolio are available under short term lease to Cre8tive Works who then sub leases to the independent productions for cash and royalties.

B. Date and State (or Jurisdiction) of Incorporation:

December 31, 2003 – State of Nevada

C. The Issuer's Primary and Secondary SIC Codes;

Primary SIC Code: 7812 – Motion Picture + Video Tape Production

Secondary SIC Code: 6510 – Real Estate Operators & Lessors

D. The Issuer's Fiscal Year End Date;

December 31

E. Principal Products or Services, and Their Markets;

The Issuer has two core products or services. The first business is the leasing of film studio space to independent film projects and the second is the investment in the royalties of independent film projects.

Film Studio Leasing

The studio leasing operations could be compared to that of a property management company. The Issuer has access to a portfolio of studio properties of which it leases out at a small profit to film production companies in exchange for cash and film royalties. There are thousands of screenplays in development at any given time and each year 450 to 500 of these are produced into motion pictures. Approximately one-third come from the major studios with the remaining two-thirds coming from "independents" and that number is rapidly growing. "Independents" are those companies engaged in the production and distribution of all motion picture and television programs that are not generated by the recognized major studios. It is the intent of the management of the Issuer to become a major provider of studio properties world wide to these "independents" by offering a cost effective and flexible solution for their filming needs.

The properties in the portfolio will be leased by the Issuer and then sub leased to the film producer or purchased outright by the Issuer using common stock, preferred stock, debt or a combination thereof.

While this component does generate revenue, its true purpose is to provide a method for the Issuer to acquire royalties in the independent film productions without a large cash outlay. The issuer will negotiate profit sharing arrangements with the film producers in exchange for use of the use of studios properties. This is a cost effective way for the Issuer to build a portfolio of revenue producing film royalties.

Film Royalties

The film royalty side of the business is where the large returns come and is where the main thrust of the Issuer's business lies. Low budget pictures produced by independent production companies in the past have been able to routinely generate revenues in excess of $2 million when one considers not only theatre, but pay-per-view, home video, foreign and ancillary revenues. Looking at the top low budget independently produced pictures, the average 10-year gross was in the neighbourhood of $9 million while the top 8 grossed more than $30 million and the number one picture earned just over $120 million. Occasionally, feature films produced for less than $50,000 will gross hundreds of thousands or even break the multi-million dollar mark.

It is the Issuers intention to utilize the studio properties as means to acquire an interest in independent film projects. The Issuer will make a co-producer agreement with any production coming into any of the studio properties in exchange for studio time (cost set-off against a contracted agreement for profit share). This gives the management of the Issuer the flexibility to participate in productions that they feel will become successful without have to make a large cash investment. Each opportunity will be reviewed on a case by case basis. The Issuer may also make a direct investments using common or preferred stock into independent film productions not utilizing any of the studio properties. The long term goal is for the Issuer to build a large portfolio of revenue producing royalties in independent film productions. This is the core business of the Issuer.

The Issuer currently has an arrangement to participate in the royalties of one independent film production being developed in Canada and is currently in negotiations with another two productions.
