6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

- A. a description of the issuer's business operations;

Overview

This report contains forward-looking statements including statements regarding our expectations, beliefs, intentions or future strategies that are signified by the words "expects," "anticipates," "intends," "believes" or similar language. These forward-looking statements involve risks, uncertainties and other factors. All forward-looking statements included in this annual report are based on information available to us on the date hereof and speak only as of the date hereof. We undertake no obligation to update or revise publicly any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. The factors discussed above under "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this annual report are among those factors that in some cases have affected our results and could cause the actual results to differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements.

Global Holdings, Inc. ("GBHD") is a holding company consisting of multiple business segments, some of which are related to the food and beverage industry. The foundation is derived from the various blind organizations that have first rights to the vending and food service in all federal and state buildings, airports, postal facilities, and military bases. Global Holdings, Inc. developed a national buying co-op (National Blind Enterprise Co-op) to fill the need of the thousands of visually impaired business people who were purchasing food and beverages individually at higher prices that were called for base on their total volume.

As GBHD penetrated the many federal and state organizations, and met the leadership of the blind merchants and Randolph-Sheppard, it became obvious that 3,000 blind vendors could not manage the hundreds of thousands of locations. In most states, a blind merchant is limited to one location, thus leaving many locations without management. This opened up the national market for GBHD allowing us to bring our companies large vending and food service (cafeterias) businesses to train and manage until a visually impaired person becomes capable. GBHD will still provide all foods, beverages, and services after training is completed.

The short term (one year) potential is in the hundreds of millions in revenues. Longer term (3-5 years), this segments will be a multi-billion dollar category. The profits due to mass purchases, rebates from major manufactures (already in place), and synergies from tie-in partners such as custodial companies to service these locations is proportionate to the revenue growth.

From this foundation, the company has expanded into other growth business segments such as ethnic products where our objective is to be the Goya of the Muslim world. Shipments of the 50 top items under one brand began August, 2008.

We are currently formalizing relationships with "Cash and Carry" and "Dollar Store" entities, as well as ice cream and nut companies. Another opportunity is a national co-op for mobile vendors, especially related to paper products. The project will commence as soon as we finalize pricing form Chinese and Indian manufacturers.

The primary focus is on those independent business operators who want an exist strategy after 10-20 years in operations, who require corporate support for marketing, financial reasons, and maintain a history of solid performance. GBHD will integrate these companies to provide both internal and external revenue growth, and to accomplish the strategic plan of vertical and horizontal expansion through mergers and acquisitions.

There are hundreds of independent distributors, manufacturers and retailers in GBHD's home base, New York City Metro area alone; tens of thousand in the USA. As power becomes consolidated to the few national firms, the regional players become squeezed with high transportation and product costs, creating lower volume and more management problems. The owners are forced to merger with the big firms where they loss control of these family businesses.

GBHD's strategy is to let these owner-operators who have withstood economic cycles in good shape continue their business plan, with guidance and financial support from corporate. GBHD's purchasing power, marketing skills, and complementary businesses will generate efficiencies and increase revenues for these firms.

GBHD was created because of a multi-billion dollar potential with the Federal and State governments and their blind merchants programs. This led to relationships with large food and beverage manufacturers and distributors. In turn, many of these well run organizations desired to be part of the larger entity, Eagle Rock Enterprises, Inc. In Feburary, 2012, WFSV entered into a multi-lateral agreement with several national suppliers to develop Condition-Specific/Disease-Specific Meals aimed to reduce the 15% hospital re-admission rate due to poor follow-through on given nutritional standard requirements of heart, cancer, diabetes, obesity, high blood pressure, etc. patients and individuals.

Physicians and nutritionists will work with hospitals and nursing homes to ensure that the Condition Specific Menu is part of the patient's diet. There will be a concrete "bridge" in the form of signed agreements for the Condition Specific Meals to be delivered to the home upon a patient's release. The Company will use a nationwide delivery service.

In April 2012, Management made a decision to no longer inventory food supplies for the Emergency Food Kits program due to the expiration dates of many of the ingredients. Worldwide has joined forces with several national distributors who will inventory and ship the products on a 24-hour basis. The Company has become an established supplier and creditor and no longer needs to maintain food product inventory. Worldwide will continue to inventory the boxes for the individual Kits as well as their shipping containers. Thus, the Company has re-designed its Emergency Food Kits ("EFK") with a 5 to 7 year shelf-life. In the past, the Company had inventoried ingredients with a two-year shelf life, awaiting a National disaster to trigger EFK orders. If no orders for 'Kits' are received before the expiration date occurs, the Company is forced to either donate or sell these components at a substantial loss. The new business model will eliminate cost and waste due to expiring food dates. The Emergency Food Kits will be marketed to major box stores and supermarkets.

In early, June 2012, Management formed a new commodities division. Mr. Tony Najjar, corporate COO, took over as President of thid new division which will work with the United Nations, the Military, and private industry. This division will provide bulk sourcing for a variety of food goods and beverages.

In June 2012, management formed a new commodities division, whereas the Company's Chief Operations Officer, Mr. Tony Nijar, will be the acting President of this newly formed commodity subsidiary. The business of this subsidiary focuses on bulk agricultural commodities products, like sugar, beans, coffee, oranges, etc and redistribute and repackage to wholesalers.

In July 2012, the Company completed its acquisition of the Smart Diet Rx, Inc. a division of Global Holding, Inc. which focuses on providing and handling disease specific meals and/or conditional specific meals. These prepared meals with fresh ingredients are provided to people who have both chronic long-term ailments and allergies. Management believes this is a multi-million dollar market with huge upside potential with a nutritional focus for those inflicted with illnesses. People who eat these meals with high nutritional value hopefully can reduces hospital re-admissions, lower blood pressures, reduce obesity issues and assist those with cancer issues.

Throughout August 2012, the Company advanced its international operations with the opening of two offices. The Company's Disaster Relief International subsidiary now has an office in Santiago, Chile and the Company's commodities division, now has offices in Mexico City, Mexico. On August 9, 2012, Management announced that it secured an international vessel bid, whereas Global Holdings, Inc. can ship containers and bulk tonnage of agricultural commodities from Mexico to Africa, South America and Middle Eastern locations. This vessel bid has strengthened the Company's strategy for both its "Disaster Relief International Operations" and can provide assistance for humanitarian efforts. Upon receiving this vessel bid, the Company further announced that it entered into a 3-year contract for bulk garbanzo beans. Management plans on growing the transportation and distribution of these beans from 80 cargo containers to 200 cargo containers per month.

On September 27, 2012, the Company secured a letter of intent to acquire the operations of Wellness Juices, Inc. Management of both Global Holdings, Inc. and Wellness Juices, Inc. remain in negotiations regarding the terms of this acquisition. November 30, 2012, Management completed this acquisition.

In November 2012, the Company reviewed its economic options, and the Board of Directors decided to move the Company offices to Mexico City, Mexico. Logistics of the Commodities Division, coupled with the anticipated tax increases and the impact of "ObamaCare" have led to this decision. Global Holdings, Inc., will maintain a mailing address at 272 Dunns Mill Road #211 in Bordentown, NJ 08505 and limited office hours at office in Oceanside, CA. Soon after the office opened in Mexico, management announced that the Company signed a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") with a manufacturing company in Mexico to produce, bottle, and distribute Wellness Juices. Management remains confident that this "Joint Venture" could lead to an acquisition of the Joint Venture partner.

On January 7, 2013 the Company's Commodity Division in Mexico signed a multi-level distribution Joint -Venture Agreement (JV) to supply garbanzo beans (chick peas) and oregano to the Far East, the Middle East, and to Africa. The Company's JV partner is already in production.

On May 10, 2013 The Company's launched its new website which management believes will give the company a better web marketing e-commerce presence. The new website is www.worldwidefoodservices.com.

On May 21, 2013, Management issued a press release stating that insiders were not selling shares. This news was issued to ensure shareholders that insiders shares were still held under Rule 144 restrictions and no insiders converted these shares into free trading shares. As of this date of this report, August 8, 2013, insiders still hold restricted securities and have not converted their holdings into free-trade shares.

On July 2, 2013, the Company announced opening new offices in Costa Rica, Kazakhstan and Sierra Leone. These offices will service the Company's Commodities Division based in Mexico.

August 26, 2013, the Company completed the acquisition of Longevity Logic, Inc., a company comprised of doctors, pharmacists, and nutritionists who develop safe, all-natural, therapeutic-strength supplements clinically proven to provide effective cardio-vascular support without the harmful side effects of medications.

On August 28, 2013, the Company's Longevity Logic, Inc. offices would be consolidated to one location in New York City, New York.

On September 12, 2013, the Company announced its name change to Global Holdings, Inc. This new name better reflects the Corporation's diverse businesses located globally. With current business operations beyond the food and beverage sectors, this new name gives both investors and industry trades a more comprehensive understanding of the Corporation's business platforms, current assets, holdings, business practices and objectives.

On October 29, 2013, the Company notifies that its new symbol is GBHD, CUSIP number 37953Q101 and management is currently working on a new website.

On November 11, 2013 the Company retired 151,000,000 shares of its common stock back to treasury. Performance clauses in a number of closed acquisitions contracts prior to this date activated share retirement stipulations.

On December 10, 2013 the Company moved its New Jersey location to Virginia Beach, VA. Management sees this as a strategic move, better positioning the Company for both short-term and long-term growth of its U.S. East Coast operations. With Hampton Roads' large presence of all military branches within a few miles of the new office, the Company feels that ample military government contracts could be easily awarded upon successful bids.

On December 16, 2014 the Company issued a total of 13,500,000 share of Rule 144 restricted shares. 10,000,000 shares went to the acquisition of Smart Diet Rx, Inc. based on terms for its 1-year anniversary upon being acquired; 2,200,000 shares for the acquisition of Trade Exchange International; and 1,300,000 for services rendered by CS Enterprises.

On January 3, 2014 Merle Feguson became the Company's CEO and President, whereas Susan Donhue step down from those positions. James McShane was replaced as Secertary and Treasurer with Ms. Kara Craig.

Global Holdings, Inc. is unique in its core development, as it is being achieved through friendly mergers both domestically and internationally rather than unfriendly takeovers.

GBHD has a professional management team with numerous years of experience in the vending and food / beverage productions, heath care services, international logistics and distribution businesses.

The company is currently working on a new website which is underdevelopment, the site www.wwfoodservices.com is the current site for corporate information until the new website goes active.

NOTES to FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. – General Organization and Business

The Company was originally incorporated under the Utah Business Corporation Act, March 1984.

On January 7, 2013 the Company's Commodity Division in Mexico signed a multi-level distribution Joint -Venture Agreement (JV) to supply garbanzo beans (chick peas) and oregano to the Far East, the Middle East, and to Africa. The Company's JV partner is already in production.

On May 10, 2013 The Company's launched its new website which management believes will give the company a better web marketing e-commerce presence. The new website is www.worldwidefoodservices.com.

On May 21, 2013, Management issued a press release stating that insiders were not selling shares. This news was issued to ensure shareholders that insiders shares were still held under Rule 144 restrictions and no insiders converted these shares into free trading shares. As of this date of this report, August 8, 2013, insiders still hold restricted securities and have not converted their holdings into free-trade shares.

On July 2, 2013, the Company announced opening new offices in Costa Rica, Kazakhstan and Sierra Leone. These offices will service the Company's Commodities Division based in Mexico.

August 26, 2013, the Company completed the acquisition of Longevity Logic, Inc., a company comprised of doctors, pharmacists, and nutritionists who develop safe, all-natural, therapeutic-strength supplements clinically proven to provide effective cardio-vascular support without the harmful side effects of medications.

On August 28, 2013, the Company's Longevity Logic, Inc. offices would be consolidated to one location in New York City, New York.

On September 12, 2013, the Company announced its name change to Global Holdings, Inc. This new name better reflects the Corporation's diverse businesses located globally. With current business operations beyond the food and beverage sectors, this new name gives both investors and industry trades a more comprehensive understanding of the Corporation's business platforms, current assets, holdings, business practices and objectives.

On October 29, 2013, the Company notifies that its new symbol is GBHD, CUSIP number 37953Q101 and management is currently working on a new website.

On November 11, 2013 the Company retired 151,000,000 shares of its common stock back to treasury. Performance clauses in a number of closed acquisitions contracts prior to this date activated share retirement stipulations.

On December 10, 2013 the Company moved its New Jersey location to Virginia Beach, VA. Management sees this as a strategic move, better positioning the Company for both short-term and long-term growth of its U.S. East Coast operations. With Hampton Roads' large presence of all military branches within a few miles of the new office, the Company feels that ample military government contracts could be easily awarded upon successful bids.

On December 16, 2014 the Company issued a total of 13,500,000 shares of Rule 144 restricted shares. 10,000,000 shares went to the acquisition of Smart Diet Rx, Inc. based on terms for its 1-year anniversary upon being acquired; 2,200,000 shares for the acquisition of Trade Exchange International; and 1,300,000 for services rendered by CS Enterprises.

On January 3, 2014 Merle Feguson became the Company's CEO and President, whereas Susan Donhue stepped down from those positions. James McShane was replaced as Secretary and Treasurer with Ms. Kara Craig.

Global Holdings, Inc. is unique in its core development, as it is being achieved through friendly mergers both domestically and internationally rather than unfriendly takeovers.

Note 2. – Summary of Significant Accounting Practices

Accounting Basis

The basis is generally accepted accounting principles

Dividends

The Company has not yet adopted any policy regarding payment of dividends. No dividends have been paid during the periods shown.

Income Taxes

The provision for income taxes is the total of the current taxes payable and the net of the change in the deferred income taxes. Provision is made for the deferred income taxes where differences exist between the periods in which transactions affect current taxable income and the period in which they enter into the determination of net income in the financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 3. – Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company's continuation as a going concern is dependent on its ability to meet its obligations, to obtain additional financing as may be required and ultimately to attain profitability. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the out come of this uncertainty.

Note 4. – Stockholders' Equity

Authorized

The Company is authorized to issue 900,000,000 shares of $.001 par value common stock and 10,000,000 shares of $.001 par value preferred stock. All common stock shares have equal voting rights, are non-assessable and have one vote per share. Voting rights are not cumulative and, therefore, the holders of more than 50% of the common stock could, if they choose to do so, elect all of the directors of the Company. The preferred shares may be issued in series, with the powers, rights and limitations of the preferred shares to be determined by the Board.

Note 5. – Provision for Income Taxes

The Company provides for income taxes under that Statement of Financial Accounting Standards NO. 109. Accounting for Income Taxes SFAS No. 109 requires the use of an asset and liability approach in accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and the tax rates in effect when these differences are expected to reverse.

SFAS No. 109 requires the reduction of deferred tax assets by a valuation allowance if, based on the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some sort or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. All of the expenditures thus far have been to organize the Company and will not be expensed for tax purposes until the Company has operations.

The provision for income taxes is comprised of the net changes in deferred taxes less the valuation account plus the current taxes payable as shown in the chart below:

Net changes is Deferred Tax Benefit
less than valuation account	0
Current Taxes Payable	0
Net Provision for Income Taxes	0

The Federal Income Tax filings are not current with the Company.

The financial statements, and the notes thereto, are based on the best information currently available to the Company, and to the best of my knowledge present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Issuer and the results of its operations and cash flow for the periods presented, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, consistently applied and certified by James McShane, Secretary, Director of Worldwide Food Services, Inc.
