Company History

The Company is a dynamic and innovative company which makes acquisitions, investments, and enters into strategic business partnerships and acquisitions. The focus is on both current state-of-the-art technologies and applications, as well as companies that have high potential and can impact our society. Genesis' concentration is on products and services that offer real, tangible solutions to consumer and small business and those that offer strong opportunities to realize shareholder value.

Through December 31, 2005, the Company was a developmental stage e-commerce company. It operated an e-commerce website that enabled any business to establish a fully functional online retail presence. The website, Pricester.com, was an Internet marketplace which allowed vendors to host their website with product and service listings and allowed consumers to search for listed products and services. On July 20, 2011 the Company sold all of the assets of this Website segment.

On May 22, 2008, the Company completed a merger with Genesis Electronics, Inc. (Genesis), a Delaware corporation. Genesis was originally formed in Delaware on October 22, 2001 and is engaged on the development of solar and alternative energy applications for consumer devices such as mobile phones devices. Genesis holds a patented process for charging and re-charging a battery from solar energy and efficiently transferring that energy to the battery of an electronic device. The Company has developed this technology to produce solar chargers for multi-featured cell phones.

The key to Genesis Electronics' technology is its patented "Enhanced Solar to Battery Electronic Technology" for a unique process that charges a battery from solar energy. It efficiently transfers that energy to the battery of an electronic device and optimizes the conversion of light into electrical energy. The technology is covered in and protected by three separate but closely associated U.S. patents: 6,586,906 (owned outright by Genesis Electronics) and patents 5,644,207 and 6,608,464 (licensed from Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory). Combined, these patents cover a broad and attractive range of practical applications for the patented solar-powered charging modules pertaining to virtually any hand-held or portable electronic device. This technology can be applied to virtually any portable or hand-held electronic device.

Genesis plans to develop the SunBlazer™, a powerful solar-powered charger designed specifically for the Apple iPhones. It has the flexibility of being charged from sunlight or via an integrated USB connection to a PC.

In February 2015 the Company finalized the sub-lease and mining agreement for a 20 acre claim on the property known as "Mav5-E". Located in the Osceola Mining District in Nevada, White Pine County, approximately 29 miles southeast of Ely, the project consists of 985 acres is divided up in thirteen claims. The Company also has a first right of refusal on an additional 20 acre claim known as "Mav 5-A". The agreement includes all rights for mining, water
