Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

General Organization and Business

The GNS Group, Inc. (“GNS” or the “Company”) is a Washington Corporation. The Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington on July 6, 2006. The Company engages in the selling of quality products that cater to the hospitality industry, such as conference and banquet room furniture. GNS also targets patio and pool furniture markets. The products of the GNS Group are manufactured in Dubai, UAE.

Basis of presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, and pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) and reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which management believes are necessary to fairly present the financial position, results of operations and cash flows of the Company as of and for the 3 and 6 months period ending June 30, 2015 and year ended December 31, 2014.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company maintains a cash balance in a non-interest-bearing account that currently does not exceed federally insured limits. For the purpose of the statements of cash flows, all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents. There were no cash equivalents as of June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2014.

Accounts receivable

Trade receivables are carried at the original invoice amount and no allowance for uncollectible accounts has been deemed necessary. Receivables past due for more than 120 days are considered delinquent. Management determines uncollectible accounts by regularly evaluating individual customer receivables and considering a customer’s financial condition, credit history, and current economic conditions and by using historical experience applied to an aging of accounts. The balance over 90 days at June 30, 2015 and December 31, 2014 was $6,750 and $6,750, respectively.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- The Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the entity; and
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Fair value of financial instruments and derivative financial instruments

The Company's financial instruments include cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and notes payable. All instruments are accounted for on a historical cost basis, which, due to the short maturity of these financial instruments, approximates fair value at year ended December 31, 2014 and quarter ended June 30, 2015. The Company did not engage in any transaction involving derivative instruments.

Federal income taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes in accordance with Income Taxes Topic of the FASB ASC 740, which requires recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and tax credit, carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in operations in the period that includes the enactment date.

Net Loss Per Share of Common Stock

Net loss per share is provided in accordance with FASB ASC 260-10, "Earnings per Share". Basic net loss per common share ("EPS") is computed by dividing income available to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average shares outstanding, assuming all dilutive potential common shares were issued, unless doing so is anti-dilutive.

Advertising:

The Company expenses all costs of advertising as incurred. The advertising costs included in general and administrative expenses for the quarters ended June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2014 were $450 and $11,673, respectively.

Deposits

During the normal course of business, the Company will require deposits on projects. As of June 30, 2015 and December 31, 2014, the Company had deposits of $18,712 and $15,712, respectively. When a sale is delivered, these amounts are applied against their current accounts receivable.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

For the quarter ended June 30, 2015 and year ended December 31, 2014, the Company does not expect any of the recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a material impact on its financial condition or results of operations.

Stock Based Compensation

The Company recognizes stock-based compensation in accordance with ASC Topic 718 "Stock Compensation", which required the measurement and recognition of compensation expense for all share-based payment awards made to employees and directors including employee stock option purchases related to an Employee Stock Purchase Plan based on the estimated fair values.

For non-employee stock-based compensation, we have adopted ASC Topic 505 "Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees", which requires stock-based compensation related to non-employee to be accounted for based on the fair market value of the related stock or options or fair value of the services on the grant date, whichever is more readily determinable in accordance with ASC Topic 718.

Development Stage Company

The Company has elected to adopt application of Accounting Standards Update No. 2014-10, Development Stage Entities (Topic 915): Elimination of Certain Financial Reporting Requirements; it no longer presents or discloses inception-to-date information and other disclosure requirements of Topic 915.

Note 2 - Uncertainty, going concern:

The Company's financial statements are prepared using generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America applicable to a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not yet established an ongoing source of revenues sufficient to cover its operating costs to allow it to continue as a going concern. As of June 30, 2015, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $2,358,909. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on the Company obtaining adequate capital to fund operating losses until it becomes profitable. If the Company is unable to obtain adequate capital, it could be forced to cease operations.

In order to continue as a going concern, the Company will need, among other things, additional capital resources. The Company is contemplating conducting an offering of its debt or equity securities to obtain additional operating capital. The Company is dependent upon its ability, and will continue to attempt, to secure equity and/or debt financing. There are no assurances that the Company will be successful and without sufficient financing it would be unlikely for the Company to continue as a going concern.

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish the plans described in the preceding paragraph and eventually secure other sources of financing and attain profitable operations. These financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts, or amounts and classification of liabilities that might result from this uncertainty.

Note 3 - Related Party Transactions

The Company has multiple related party transactions. These related party transactions include accrued rent, accrued compensation and officer and shareholder payable. These balances were provided for working capital purposes, and is unsecured, non-interest bearing, and have no specific terms of prepayment.

The balance of these related party transactions for the quarter ended June 30, 2015 was $1,278,856.

Note 4 – Payables

Sales tax payable decreased to $0 because the outstanding balance was paid and no additional sales tax liabilities were incurred due to limited sales activity.

Accounts payable went down from $41,803 to $12,648 primarily due to payments of outstanding balances relating to cost of sales and legal fees.

Note 6 - Income Taxes

We follow Accounting Standards Codification regarding Accounting for Income Taxes. Deferred income taxes reflect the net effect of (a) temporary difference between carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial purposes and the amounts used for income tax reporting purposes, and (b) net operating loss carry forwards. No net provision for refundable Federal income tax has been made in the accompanying statement of loss because no recoverable taxes were paid previously. Similarly, no deferred tax asset attributable to the net operating loss carry forward has been recognized, as it is not deemed likely to be realized.

The provision for refundable Federal income tax consists of the following:

Federal income tax attributable to:
Current operations	$ (97,672)	$ (122,105)
Less, Nondeductible expenses	-0-	-0-
- Less, Change in valuation allowance	97,672	122,105
Net amount	-0-	-0-

The cumulative tax effect at the expected rate of 34% of significant items comprising our net deferred tax amount is as follows:

	2014	2013
Deferred tax asset attributable to:
Net operating loss carryover	$ 666,424	$ 568,752
Less, Valuation allowance	(666,424)	(568,752)
Net deferred tax asset	-	-

At December 31, 2014, an unused net operating loss carryover approximating $1,960,070 is available to offset future taxable income; it expires beginning in 2031.

Reconciliation between the statutory rate and the effective tax rate is as follows at December 31, 2014 and 2013:

Federal statutory tax rate	(34.0)%
Permanent difference and other	34.0%
Effective tax rate	0.0%

Management's Discussion and analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

This section of the report includes a number of forward-looking statements that reflect our current views with respect to future events and financial performance. Forward-looking statements are often identified by words like: believe, expect, estimate, anticipate, intend, project and similar expressions, or words which, by their nature, refer to future events. You should not place undue certainty on these forward-looking statements, which apply only as of the date of this report. These forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from historical results or our predictions.

Overview

We sell furniture products to the hospitality, outdoors, office, restaurant, and/or school industry segments. We do not maintain any inventory of furniture products. We take orders from third parties and purchase our furniture products directly from the manufactures that drop ship the furniture products directly to our customers.

Our financial statements were prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that we will be able to realize assets and discharge liabilities in the normal course of business. The ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on our ability to generate profitable operations in the future, to maintain adequate financing, and to achieve a positive cash flow. There is no assurance it will be able to meet any of such goals.

Plan of Operation

We are a corporation with limited revenues to date.

We are not going to buy or sell any plant or significant equipment during the next twelve months.

We plan to continue to generate revenues through the sale of banquet, conference, restaurant, cafe, outdoor, pool side, and education furniture. Our plan of business is to increase our annual sales.

Noting that our auditor has expressed a going concern opinion that we have not yet established an ongoing source of revenue sufficient to cover operating costs. We have a plan to overcome the uncertainty, and to have the ability to continue operating the company. This includes executing our business model. We need to bring capital into the company to operate. We will then proceed to use the capital to market ourselves by going to industry trade shows where we can showcase our product. We have attended these shows in the past and they have produced revenue. We would like to have a larger presence in these trade shows so we can attract larger cliental. Our average sales may be approximately $30,000 - $75,000 going to these trade shows can produce us good revenues and good profits.

Results of Operations

Six months ended June 30, 2015 compared to six months ended June 30, 2014

For the six months ended June 30, 2015, we had sales of $0 compared with $103,571 for the same six month period in 2014. The reason was there were no sales of furniture in June 2015. Our gross profit for the six months ended June 30, 2015 was ($2,397) with a profit of $23,067 for the same six month period in 2014, as a result of sales of furniture. Our total operating expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2015 were $110,485 compared with $457,758 for the same six month period in 2014. Finally, our net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2015 was $112,882 compared with a net loss of $434,691 for the same six month period in 2014.

Three months ended June 30, 2015 compared to three months ended June 30, 2014

For the three months ended June 30, 2015, we had sales of $0 compared with $32,571 for the same three month period in 2014. Again the reason was there were no sales of furniture in June 2015. Our gross profit for the three months ended June 30, 2015 was ($145) with a profit of $2,806 for the same three month period in 2014, as a result of sales of furniture. Our total operating expenses for the three months ended June 30, 2015 were $53,123 compared with $91,602 for the same three month period in 2014. Finally, our net loss for the three months ended June 30, 2015 was $53,268 compared with a net loss of $88,796 for the same three month period in 2014; we did not generate any sales during the three months ended June 30, 2015.

December 31, 2014 compared to the year ended December 31, 2013

Our sales for the twelve months ended December 31, 2014 were $164,976 compared to $90,790 for the year ended December 31, 2013. The increase in sales was a result of increased effort by our management to market our furniture products. Our loss from operations for the year ended December 31, 2014 was $563,302 compared with a loss of $359,133 for the year ended December 31, 2013. The increase in the loss from operations was directly related to: (1) same in wages and salaries of $180,000 at December 31, 2014 compared with $180,000 at December 31, 2013; (2) a decrease in legal and professional fees from $70,551 at December 31, 2013 to $59,485 at December 31, 2014; (3) a decrease in other office and miscellaneous expenses from $19,087 at December 31, 2013 to $12,029 at December 31, 2014; and, (4) decreases in expenses relating to advertising, travel, and rent totaling $25,787.

During the year ended December 31, 2014, our total assets decreased from $37,610 at December 31, 2013 to $15,740 at December 31, 2014. The decrease in assets was primarily due to a decrease in cash of $23,857 and due to an inventory write-off at December 31, 2014 compared to inventory of $48,440 at December 31, 2013. Our liabilities at December 31, 2014 decreased from $1,196,553 at December 31, 2013 to $1,228,924 at December 31, 2014. The decreases were primarily from a decrease in current liabilities of $57,531 for accounts payable, accrued expenses and deposits. During the same period in 2013, we had current liabilities of $123,477. Our longer term liabilities increased from $1,105,447 at December 31, 2013 to $1,130,607 at December 31, 2014. The increase was primarily due to an accrued rent payable of $13,950 and an increase in officer and shareholder payables of $133,036.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Since inception, we have issued 30,773,627 shares of our common stock and received $1,064,990 therefore.

At June 30, 2015, our total assets were $16,298 and our total liabilities were $1,310,216.

For the six months ended June 30, 2015, we had a working capital deficit of $1,293,918 as compared to the working capital deficit of $1,180,813 at December 31, 2014.

Our rate of cash flow per month is approximately $279. We will need monthly revenue of $15,000 to sustain operations during the next twelve months. We have $561 in cash to sustain our current operations. We intend to obtain the necessary capital to maintain operations from furniture sales and from the sale of our common stock and from loans by our officers and directors.

In light of the going concern opinion, our working capital deficit, and that potential financing may not be available on satisfactory terms, our officers and directors have verbally agreed to loan us funds on an as needed basis. There is no written agreement with our officers and directors to do so and the commitment is not enforceable as a matter of law, there being a lack of consideration therefore.

For the year ended December 31, 2014, we had a working capital deficit of $1,180,813 compared to the working capital deficit of $1,191,314 at the year ended December 31, 2013. In the past we have relied on sales of our common stock to raise funds for our working capital requirements, as well as loans from our majority stockholders. We will need to raise additional capital in order to implement our business plan and will seek to sell additional equity and/or debt to accomplish this objective. There can be no assurance that we will be able to raise funds sufficient to carry out our business plan, or that if funds are available to us that they will be on acceptable terms.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements.

There are no off-balance sheet arrangements.

Critical Accounting Policies

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations discusses our financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. To prepare these financial statements, we must make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. These estimates also affect our reported revenues and expenses. On an ongoing basis, management evaluates its estimates and judgment, including those related to revenue recognition, accrued expenses, financing operations and contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates and judgment on historical experience and on various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

Revenue Recognition

We recognize revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, we have delivered the product or performed the service. If any of these criteria are not met, we defer recognizing the revenue until such time as all criteria are met. Determination of whether or not these criteria have been met may require us to make judgments, assumptions and estimates based upon current information and historical experience.

We market our products directly to customers on an order by order basis. We have developed retail pricing for all revenue generating products. When a customer places an order, we require a down payment, which is 50% of the total amount of the invoice.

ASC 605-45-45, Revenue Recognition – Principal Agent Considerations, includes a number of indicators of gross and net arrangements. There are two independent tests. One is the gross treatment and the other is net treatment.

Indicators to evaluate gross treatment include:

1. The Seller is the primary obligor in the transaction – We are the obligor. Once a sale is completed, we present a purchase order to the manufacturer and a 50% deposit. We are fully responsible for the overview of the product, payment and shipment.
2. The Seller has inventory risk – We have minimal inventory risk as we only order product when a sale has occurred and have received a deposit. We do carry minimal inventory for smaller orders. For the inventory we carry, we run the risk of damage and obsolescence.
3. The Seller has latitude in establishing price – We sell our products based on the market conditions. We have full latitude to determine the price based on the pricing models we developed.
4. The Seller changes the product or performs part of the service – We can request modifications to the product. We can choose from a variety of vendors to determine the best specifications for the customer.
5. The Seller has discretion in supplier selection – We have selected from a number of vendors to ensure the best product for our customers.
6. The Seller is involved in the determination of product or service specifications – We work with vendors to give the specifications that the customer desires. We work directly with vendors to ensure the best outcome.
7. The Seller has physical loss inventory risk – We carry minimal inventory. We build to order in order to provide maximum specificity for the customer. We are subject to risk of loss for the inventory we do carry.
8. The Seller has credit risk – We take all risk with the customer relationship. We provide a purchase order for the purchase of the product with a 50% down. The remaining amount is due at shipping. The product does not ship without full payment.

Indicators of net treatment include:

1. The Seller is not the primary obligor - We are the obligor. Once a sale is completed, we present a purchase order to the manufacturer and a 50% deposit. We are fully responsible for the overview of the product, payment and shipment.
2. The amount the Seller earns is fixed – We determine gross profit based on pricing models and market conditions.
3. The Seller does not have credit risk – we take all credit risk. ASC 605-45-45 uses these two treatment techniques to determine the correct reporting and recognition. Based on the analysis, we are properly recording our sales on a gross treatment method.

Since we set the price, we are the primary obligor, we take inventory risk, and we take all credit risk. We should operate under the gross treatment reporting.

Limited Operating History; Need for Additional Capital

There is limited historical financial information about us upon which to base an evaluation of our performance. We have generated limited revenues from operations. We cannot guarantee we will be successful in our business operations. Our business is subject to risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including limited capital resources and possible cost overruns due to price and cost increases in services.

The factors that has left us with limited revenues besides being a startup is that we did not have adequate funds to run the marketing and business operations, which includes trade shows, magazine publications, and hiring sales staff.

To become profitable and competitive, we have to attract customers and generate revenues. We have no assurance that future financing will be available to us on acceptable terms. If financing is not available on satisfactory terms, we may be unable to continue, develop or expand our operations. Equity financing could result in additional dilution to existing shareholders.

The steps we are taking to generate additional revenues and customers are as follows: We must hire an experienced sales staff from the industry. Second, attend important industry trade shows with a presence and to promote our services and products.

Item 6. Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services.

A. Description of the Issuer's Business Operations.

We offer via the world-wide-web a comprehensive supply of banquet, conference, restaurant, cafe, outdoor, pool side, and education furniture to hotels, conference centers, and education facilities. Our web address is <http://thegnsgroup.com>.

We offer a comprehensive supply of banquet, conference, restaurant, cafe, outdoor, pool side, and education furniture primarily directed at the hotels, conference centers, and education facilities.

A brief list of products we offer is as follows:

- Chairs
- Tables
- podiums
- portable stages

- catering carts
- pool furniture
- Desks

These products are intended for use primarily by hotels and conference centers. We acquire products from a number of manufactures worldwide on an as needed basis, including, but not limited to Intermetal Ltd, located in the United Arab Emirates. We have no formal agreements with any of our suppliers. If a client orders furniture from us, we submit a purchase order to the manufacture that produces the furniture requested at the most accommodating price. After payment to us by our customer, the furniture is then dropped shipped directly to the customer at a location selected by the customer.

New Products

On October 12, 2011, we entered into an agreement with KPK Products, LLC, the manufacturer of Bresh Toothbrushes to distribute the Bresh Toothbrush in the United States and Canada. On the same date, we entered into an agreement with KPK Products, LLC, the manufacturer of Bresh Toothbrushes to distribute the Bresh Toothbrush in Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. The Bresh toothbrush is 100% biodegradable. It is a single use toothbrush. We plan to expand into a fully eco-friendly line of amenities in the future. As of December 31, 2012, we began working with a company in Taiwan to manufacture the Bresh Toothbrush. As of December 31, 2014, we have not manufactured or sold any Bresh Toothbrushes and there is no assurance we will ever manufacture any toothbrushes. We intend to concentrate all of efforts on promoting the sale of furniture.

As of June 30, 2015, we had no additional new products.

Website

We maintain an easy-to-use website. The website is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and will be reached from any location. Our web address is <http://thegnsgroup.com>.

Customers

We are not dependent on any one customer or a limited number of customers for our business.

We sell our products to the hospitality industry, hotels, resorts, conference centers, churches, and government institutions. We do not sell the public at large. Because of our limited size we have limited our market hotels, resorts, conference centers, churches, and government institutions. As such we restrict our personal sales efforts to those institutions. We believe that there is a limited market for the furniture we promote as a result of the furniture's appearance and its extreme durability. It is not the type of furniture that you would like to see in your living room. That limited market is comprised of hotels, resorts, conference centers, churches, and government institutions. All of the revenues that we have generated have been as a result of sales to the domestic market.

Customer Service

We have a customer service department via phone and fax where consumers can place orders and resolve order and product questions. We insure consumer satisfaction by giving a thirty day money back guaranty, no questions asked.

Distribution

Our products are distributed by our sales staff. Our sales staff representatives go directly to the customer and sell business-to-business. Once an order is agreed upon, a contract is agreement upon, and invoice is issued. We require 50% down and 50% upon shipment.

Paying

We accept payment by check from qualified customers, such as large hotels, convention centers, municipalities, universities and school districts. Other customers are required to pay us with certified funds.

We offer our customers a full refund for any reason if the customer returns the purchased item within thirty days from the date of sale in the same condition it was sold to the customer. After thirty days, we will not refund any money to a customer. Our suppliers have a reciprocal guaranty as well.

Source of Products

We purchase furniture directly from the manufacturer/supplier based upon orders we have already received from customers. A portion of the purchase price, between 60% and 70%, depending on the prices we negotiate with the manufacturer, is used to acquire the product from the manufacturer. Currently, our main supplier is Intermetal Ltd. The product will be shipped directly from the manufacturer to the customer, thereby eliminating the need for storage space or packaging facilities.

We are presently negotiating with other suppliers of other types of furniture to promote their products on our website. In addition, we intend to locate and negotiate relationships with smaller, new manufacturers to offer their products on a more exclusive basis.

Revenue

Revenues are generated from the direct sale of products to customers. After receiving full payment for an order, we order products on behalf of our customers directly from the suppliers. The products are shipped directly to the customer. By handling transactions in this manner, we avoid having to carry any inventory that can be costly and become obsolete. We earn revenue based on the difference between our negotiated price for the product with the supplier and the price that the customer pays.

We intend to develop and maintain a database of all customers and suppliers and their specific wants, needs and products.

Competition

The furniture industry is fragmented and primarily nationalized. Our competitive position within the industry is negligible in light of the fact that we have limited operations. Older, well established distributors with records of success will attract qualified clients away from us. Since we have limited operations, we cannot compete with them on the basis of reputation. We do expect to compete with them on the basis of price and services. We intend to be able to attract and retain customers by offering a breadth of product selection through our relationships with major manufacturers and on the cutting edge newcomers to the industry. We will offer attractive, competitive pricing and will be responsive to all our customers' needs.

Marketing

We market our products in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and the Caribbean through traditional sources such as a website, trade magazines, conventions and conferences, newspapers advertising, billboards, telephone directories and flyers/mailers. We have targeted hotels, convention centers, universities and public school systems with mailings which refer to our website. Since beginning our operations, all of our sales have been first time, one time transactions by our customers with the exception of one customer who has purchased furniture from us on two occasions. We have been advised that our customers were made aware of our operations by word of mouth. Our customers are comprised of universities, casinos, hotels, and country clubs. We utilize inbound links that connect directly to our website from other sites. Potential customers can simply click on these links to become connected to our website from search engines and community and affinity sites.

Insurance

We carry only general liability insurance which covers the following: $1,000,000 per event; damage to leased property - $100,000; medical coverage per person, per event - $10,000; personal injury, per person, per event - $2,000,000; and, product liability - $2,000,000 per event.

Employees; Identification of Certain Significant Employees

We are a development stage company and currently have three employees comprised of our officers and directors. We intend to hire additional employees on an as-needed basis.

Other than office, equipment, supplies and fixtures, we own no property.

Government Regulation

We are not currently subject to direct federal, state or local regulation other than regulations applicable to businesses generally or directly applicable to electronic commerce. However, the Internet is increasingly popular. As a result, it is possible that a number of laws and regulations may be adopted with respect to the Internet. These laws may cover issues such as user privacy, freedom of expression, pricing, content and quality of products and services, taxation, advertising, intellectual property rights and information security. Furthermore, the growth of electronic commerce may prompt calls for more stringent consumer protection laws. Several states have proposed legislation to limit the uses of personal user information gathered online or require online services to establish privacy policies. The Federal Trade Commission has also initiated action against at least one online service regarding the manner in which personal information is collected from users and provided to third parties. We will not provide personal information regarding our users to third parties. However, the adoption of such consumer protection laws could create uncertainty in Web usage and reduce the demand for our products.

We are not certain how business may be affected by the application of existing laws governing issues such as property ownership, copyrights, encryption and other intellectual property issues, taxation, libel, obscenity and export or import matters. The vast majority of such laws were adopted prior to the advent of the Internet. As a result, they do not contemplate or address the unique issues of the Internet and related technologies. Changes in laws intended to address such issues could create uncertainty in the Internet market place. Such uncertainty could reduce demand for services or increase the cost of doing business as a result of litigation costs or increased service delivery costs.

We are qualified to do business only in Washington. We are not required to qualify to do business in any jurisdiction unless we have a physical presence in that jurisdiction. "Physical presences" means that we physically maintain an office or agent in that state. To qualify to do business in another state, we have to file as a foreign corporation with such state. Since we have no physical presence in any other jurisdiction, we are not required to qualify to do business in any jurisdiction other than the State of Washington. Our failure to qualify in a jurisdiction where it is required to do so could subject it to taxes and penalties. It could also hamper our ability to enforce contracts in such jurisdictions. The application of laws or regulations from jurisdictions whose laws currently apply to our business could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Risk Factors

1. Because our auditors have issued a going concern opinion, there is substantial uncertainty we will continue operations, in which case you could lose your investment.

Our auditors have issued a going concern opinion. This means that there is substantial doubt that we can continue as an ongoing business for the next twelve months. As such, we may have to cease operations and you could lose your investment. We believe we will need $150,000 in funding to continue operations during the next twelve months.

2. We have a limited operating history and have losses which we expect to continue into the future. As a result, we may have to suspend or cease operations.

We were incorporated in the State of Washington in 2006 and have a limited operating history upon which an evaluation of our future success or failure can be made. To achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow we are dependent upon:

- * our ability to generate revenue; and
- * our ability to generate a profit.

Based upon current plans, we expect to incur operating losses in future periods. This will happen because there are expenses associated with hiring additional client service representatives. As a result, we may not generate revenues in the future. Failure to generate revenues will cause us to suspend or cease operations.

3. Because we are small and do not have much capital, we may have to limit our business activities which may result in a loss of your investment.

Because we are small and do not have much capital, we must limit our activities. As such we may not be able to compete with large entities that sell furniture to the public. In the event we are unable to attract customers to our services, we will not generate revenues or profits. If that occurs, you will lose your investment.

4. We operate in a highly competitive industry and we cannot guarantee that we will ever achieve any level of success in competing for clients with other companies that sell furniture to the public.

Sale of furniture is very competitive. We are at a competitive disadvantage in attracting clients due to our relatively small size and the somewhat limited scope of our services. In addition, there is not a significant barrier to entry by competitors. Our competitors are larger and more diversified than we are and have greater financial resources. We cannot predict the degree of success, if any, with which we will meet competition in the future.

5. We may need additional capital which we may not be able to obtain on acceptable terms. Any inability to raise additional capital when needed could adversely affect our ability to grow our company.

Our future capital requirements depend on a number of factors, including our ability to grow, our net sales, and the management of our business. If we are to substantially grow, it is likely we will need to raise additional capital, possibly through the issuance of long-term or short-term indebtedness or the issuance of equity securities in private placement transactions. If we raise additional capital through the issuance of debt, this will result in increased interest expense. If we raise additional funds through the issuance of equity or convertible debt securities, the percentage ownership of our existing shareholders will be reduced and those shareholders will experience dilution. In addition, new securities may contain certain rights, preferences or privileges that are senior to those of our common stock. We cannot assure you that acceptable financing can be obtained on suitable terms, if at all.

Risks associated with our common stock:

6. Because there is a limited public trading market for our common stock, you may not be able to resell your stock.

There is currently a limited public trading market for our common stock on the OTC-PINK. As a result, you may be unable to sell your shares. If you do want to resell your shares, you may have to locate a buyer and negotiate your own sale.

7. Because we may issue additional shares of common stock, your investment could be subject to substantial dilution.

We anticipate that any additional funding will be in the form of equity financing from the sale of our common. In the future, if we issue more common stock, your investment could be subject to dilution. Dilution is the difference between what you pay for your stock and the net tangible book value per share immediately after the additional shares are sold by us.

8. There are legal restrictions on the resale of the common shares offered that are penny stocks. These restrictions may adversely affect your ability to resell your stock.

We anticipate that our common stock will continue to be subject to the penny stock rules under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. These rules regulate broker/dealer practices for transactions in “penny stocks.” Penny stocks are generally equity securities with a price of less than $5.00. The penny stock rules require broker/dealers to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document that provides information about penny stocks and the nature and level of risks in the penny stock market. The broker/dealer must also provide the customer with current bid and offer quotations for the penny stock, the compensation of the broker/dealer and its salesperson and monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer’s account. The bid and offer quotations and the broker/dealer and salesperson compensation information must be given to the customer orally or in writing prior to completing the transaction and must be given to the customer in writing before or with the customer’s confirmation. In addition, the penny stock rules require that prior to a transaction, the broker and/or dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser’s written agreement to the transaction. The transaction costs associated with penny stocks are high, reducing the number of broker-dealers who may be willing to engage in the trading of our shares. These additional penny stock disclosure requirements are burdensome and may reduce all of the trading activity in the market for our common stock. As long as the common stock is subject to the penny stock rules, our shareholders may find it more difficult to sell their shares.

9. Our future sales of our common shares could cause our stock price to decline.

There is no contractual restriction on our ability to issue additional shares. We cannot predict the effect, if any, that market sales of our common shares or the availability of shares for sale will have on the market price prevailing from time to time. Sales by the selling shareholders of our common shares in the public market, or the perception that our sales may occur, could cause the trading price of our stock to decrease or to be lower than it might be in the absence of those sales or perceptions.

10. The market price of our common stock may be volatile which could adversely affect the value of your investment in our common stock.

The trading price of our common stock may be highly volatile and could be subject to wide fluctuations in response to various factors. Some of the factors that may cause the market price of our common stock to fluctuate include:

- * fluctuations in our quarterly financial results or the quarterly financial results of companies perceived to be similar to us;
- * changes in estimates of our financial results or recommendations by securities analysts;
- * failure of any of our products to achieve or maintain market acceptance;
- * changes in market valuations of similar companies;
- * significant products, contracts, acquisitions or strategic alliances of our competitors;
- * success of competing products or services;
- * changes in our capital structure, such as future issuances of securities or the incurrence of additional debt;
- * regulatory developments;
- * litigation involving our company, our general industry or both;
- * additions or departures of key personnel;
- * investors’ general perception of us; and
- * changes in general economic, industry and market conditions.

11. We are an “emerging growth company,” and the reduced disclosure requirements applicable to “emerging growth companies” could make our common stock less attractive to investors.

We are an “emerging growth company,” as defined in Section 2(a)(19)(B) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. For as long as we are an emerging growth company, we may take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies, including, but not limited to, not being required to comply with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404(b) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, reduced disclosure obligations regarding executive compensation in our periodic reports and proxy statements and exemptions from the requirements of holding advisory “say-on-pay” votes on executive compensation and shareholder advisory votes on golden parachute compensation. We will remain an “emerging growth company” until the earliest of (i) the last day of the fiscal year during which we have total annual gross revenues of $1 billion or more; (ii) the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common equity securities pursuant to an effective registration statement; (iii) the date on which we have, during the previous three-year period, issued more than $1 billion in non-convertible debt; and (iv) the date on which we are deemed to be a “large accelerated filer” under the Exchange Act. We will be deemed a large accelerated filer on the first day of the fiscal year after the market value of our common equity held by non-affiliates exceeds $700 million, measured on December 31.

We cannot predict if investors will find our common stock less attractive to the extent we rely on the exemptions available to emerging growth companies. If some investors find our common stock less attractive as a result, there may be a less active trading market for our common stock and our stock price may be more volatile.

In addition, Section 107 of the JOBS Act also provides that an emerging growth company can take advantage of the extended transition period provided in Section 7(a)(2)(B) of the Securities Act for complying with new or revised accounting standards. An emerging growth company can therefore delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies.

A company that elects to be treated as an emerging growth company shall continue to be deemed an emerging growth company until the earliest of (i) the last day of the fiscal year during which it had total annual gross revenues of $1,000,000,000 (as indexed for inflation), (ii) the last day of the fiscal year following the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common stock under this registration statement; (iii) the date on which it has, during the previous 3 year period, issued more than $1,000,000,000 in non-convertible debt; or (iv) the date on which is deemed to be a “large accelerated filer” as defined by the SEC, which would generally occur upon it attaining a public float of at least $700 million.

12. We have elected under the JOBS Act to delay the adoption of new or revised accounting pronouncements applicable to public companies until such pronouncements are made applicable to private companies.

Under the JOBS Act, an “emerging growth company” can delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. We intend to take advantage of this extended transition period. Since we will not be required to comply with new or revised accounting standards on the relevant dates on which adoption of such standards is required for other public companies, our financial statements may not be comparable to financial statements of companies that comply with public company effective dates.

13. We will not be required to comply with certain provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act for as long as we remain an “emerging growth company.”

We are not currently required to comply with the SEC rules that implement Sections 302 and 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and are therefore not required to make a formal assessment of the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting for that purpose. Upon becoming a public company, we will be required to comply with certain of these rules, which will require management to certify financial and other information in our quarterly and annual reports and provide an annual management report on the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting. Though we will be required to disclose changes made in our internal control procedures on a quarterly basis, we will not be required to make our first annual assessment of our internal control over financial reporting pursuant to Section 404 until the later of the year following our first annual report required to be filed with the SEC, or the date we are no longer an “emerging growth company” as defined in the JOBS Act. We will remain an “emerging growth company” for up to five years, although if the market value of our common stock that is held by non-affiliates exceeds $700 million as of any June 30 before that time, we would cease to be an “emerging growth company” as of the following December 31, or if we issue more than $1 billion in non-convertible debt in a three-year period, we would cease to be an “emerging growth company” immediately. Our independent registered public accounting firm is not required to formally attest to the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting until the later of the year following our first annual report required to be filed with the SEC, or the date we are no longer an “emerging growth company.” At such time, our independent registered public accounting firm may issue a report that is adverse in the event it is not satisfied with the level at which our controls are documented, designed or operating.

14. While we currently qualify as an “emerging growth company” under the JOBS Act, we will lose that status at the latest by the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common equity securities pursuant to an effective registration statement, which will increase the costs and demands placed upon management.

We will continue to be deemed an emerging growth company until the earliest of (i) the last day of the fiscal year during which we had total annual gross revenues of $1,000,000,000 (as indexed for inflation), (ii) the last day of the fiscal year following the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common stock under this registration statement; (iii) the date on which we have, during the previous 3-year period, issued more than $1,000,000,000 in non-convertible debt; or (iv) the date on which we are deemed to be a ‘large accelerated filer’ as defined by the SEC, which would generally occur upon our attaining a public float of at least $700 million. Once we lose emerging growth company status, we expect the costs and demands placed upon management to increase, as we would have to comply with additional disclosure and accounting requirements, particularly if our public float should exceed $75 million.

15. While we currently qualify as an “Emerging Growth Company” under the JOBS Act and we will lose that status by the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common equity securities pursuant to an effective registration statement, if we qualify as a “smaller reporting company” which we are at the present time, our non-financial and financial information will be less than is required by other non-smaller reporting companies.

Currently we qualify as an “Emerging Growth Company.” At the latest, by the fifth anniversary of the date of the first sale of common equity securities pursuant to an effective registration statement, we will lose that qualification and be required to report as other public companies are required to report. While we will no longer qualify as an “Emerging Growth Company,” we may qualify as a “smaller reporting company.” The “smaller reporting company” category includes companies that (1) have a common equity public float of less than $75 million or (2) are unable to calculate their public float and have annual revenue of $50 million or less, upon entering the system. A smaller reporting company prepares and files SEC reports and registration statements using the same forms as other SEC reporting companies, though the information required to be disclosed may differ and be less comprehensive.

Regulation S-X contains the SEC requirements for financial statements, while Regulation S-K contains the non-financial disclosure requirements. To locate the scaled disclosure requirements, smaller reporting companies will refer to the special paragraphs labeled “smaller reporting companies” in Regulation S-K. As an example only, smaller reporting companies are not required to make risk factor disclosure in Item 1A of Form 10-K. Other disclosure required by non-smaller reporting companies can be omitted in Form 10-K and Form 10-Q by smaller reporting companies.
