This company has been an operational company since inception in 1998 with continued operations.

IGSM GROUP, INC. is presently a Holding Company that is actively seeking acquisitions where IGSM will own a minimum of 20% of the targeted company. Where a minority interest, less than 51%, agreement is entered into IGSM intends to increase those holding to a majority position. Each agreement is treated as a separate contract, however where cross-division business is possible specific terms are added to the agreement. The goal is to incubate a small number of high-growth potential companies.

3. whether the issuer is or has at any time been a "shell company",

This company has been an operational company since inception in 1998, has invested in software development and that is now focused its interest towards the entertainment industry. Because the issuer has been operational, it has never been a shell.

The Overview: Item IX The nature of products or services offered.

1. principal products or services, and their markets:

IGSM products consist of a combination of both Digital Services and Managed Services. The distinction is that Digital Services are distributed as a pure software service, such as video streaming, without any manual services. Managed Services include a manual component, such as a video production or design. A typical IGSM client will use multiple products because they are fully integrated and we provide a one-stop solution for their needs. For example a webinar might use EarthStream Events for announcing and registering participants for the webinar event. The event can include streaming video content also hosted by IGSM. The client has one company responsible for the entire event, including creation and production services.

EarthStream.TV a core set of Products and Services using Video as a core delivery mechanism. IGSM has developed specific software and services to serve the rapidly expanding market for streaming video and webinar services for small to medium businesses (SMB). These products have been developed over the past 2 years and all source program code is corporately owned. Two recently developed products, not yet announced, will significantly expand the client reach.

2. distribution methods of the products or services:

The method of distribution is via the Internet. The software products are all Internet based using the Software-As-A-Service (SAAS) business model. This means that the customer obtains the particular service, or package of service, on a subscription basis, usually billed monthly. Distribution to mobile devices; such as smart phones and tablets are similarly distributed.

3. status of any publicly announced new product or service:

The core platform for all our software services, EarthStream.TV, is by its nature, under constant improvement. IGSM has recently announced that it intends to add additional services targeted at specific markets.

4. competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition:

Our approach to marketing is based on focusing a specific targeted market and developing features aimed at that target audience. By designing our software platform in a modular manner IGSM intends to cover many different areas with targeted marketing.

5. sources and availability of raw materials and the names of principal suppliers:

Our primary component is software either developed in house or by outside contractors. We utilize our relationships, experience and in depth knowledge of the industry to contract with specialists in order to produce the product

6. dependence on one or a few major customers: NONE

7. patents, trademarks, licenses, franchises, concessions, royalty agreements or labor contracts, including their duration: None

8. The need for any government approval of principal products or services and the status of any requested government approvals: None
