Financing

On February 10, 2010 Latteno completed the payment and capital contributions required of the acquisition of Global Milk. Latteno first acquired land located in Brazil from AES Comercial Ltda through the issuance of a convertible debenture totally $8,446,421 (15,000,000 Reals). The note bears interest at 2.75% per annum and matures on February 9, 2015. This land was then transferred to Global Milk, as part of the required capital contributed. Latteno issued an additional convertible debenture to Global Milk for $2,711,497 (5,000,000 Reals). The note bears interest at 2.75% per annum and matures on February 9, 2015. Latteno’s partner, the 40% non-controlling interest of Global Milk was notified by Latteno that they were in violation of the shareholders agreement, due to breach of non-compete clause. The remaining $2,815,474 (5,000,000 Reals) payable to Castrol for the GM shares acquired was therefore no longer payable. The above transactions completed the 25,000,000 Reals requirements of Latteno’s acquisition of Global Milk.

We have negotiated working capital funding for our purchases in the amount of $1,000,000 Reals and continuing to negotiate credit terms with suppliers as our operations mature.

This fiscal year to date, we have raised over $200,00 in the form of loans and convertible debentures to provide necessary working capital funding. We are continuing to seek similar financing until such time as our Global Milk operations reach a profitable stage. This is expected to be in 2011.

Capital Restructuring

In the summer of 2008, the Company ceased operations in the coffee division and began to restructure its debt and equity in an effort to position itself for strategic acquisitions. The first phase of this restructuring involved the sale of the BDFC subsidiary and the leasing back of the land and building where the coffee plant operations were located. This eliminated much of the debt that was associated with the BDFC subsidiary, but still enabled the Company to enter back into the coffee industry at the appropriate time in the future. Concurrent with the sale and leaseback transaction, senior management agreed to convert all existing convertible debentures into preferred shares, thus further reducing the overall debt requirements.

As the second phase of the Company’s efforts to restructure itself, the Company filed an information statement with the SEC on September 14, 2009 notify stockholders of the following:

On or about September 1, 2009, the Company received written consents in lieu of a meeting of Stockholders from holders of 72,654,538 shares representing approximately 46% of the 154,986,955 shares of the total issued and outstanding shares of voting stock of the Company and shareholders holding 3,373,956 Series A Convertible Preferred shares which represent 337,395,600 voting shares of common stock. The holders of the Series A Convertible Preferred shares, have the right to vote 100 times the number of shares of common stock that the Series A Convertible Preferred is convertible into on all matters submitted to the shareholders. The Series A Convertible Preferred shares are each convertible into one hundred shares of common stock. Therefore the 3,373,956 Series A Convertible Preferred shares are convertible into 337,395,600 common shares and the shareholders have the right to vote one hundred times the number of shares pursuant to the rights designated to the Series A Convertible Preferred Shares and has voted such amount in favor of approving of the Company (the “Majority Stockholders”) to effect a 20-for-1 reverse stock split (pro-rata reduction of outstanding shares) of our issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock (the “Reverse Stock Split”) authorizing the Company’s Board of Directors, to effect a reverse split of the Company’s common stock of 20:1 (pursuant to which the number of authorized shares of common stock will remain 400,000,000 following such reverse stock split); any fractional shares post-split will be rounded up to the next whole share. Additionally the Reverse Stock Split will affect the conversion ratio for all instruments convertible into shares of the Company’s Common Stock including its convertible notes, warrants and outstanding preferred stock.

On December 14, 2009 the 3,735,956 Series A Convertible Preferred shares were converted into 16,869,781 shares of the Company's common stock.

On September 1, 2009, the Board of Directors of the Company approved the above-mentioned actions, subject to stockholder approval. The Majority Stockholders approved the actions by written consent in lieu of a meeting on September 1, 2009, in accordance with the Delaware Business Corporation Act (“DBCA”). On September 1, 2009, the Company’s Board of Directors and persons owning a majority of the Company’s voting securities approved a resolution authorizing the Company to amend the Articles of Incorporation to change the Company’s name to “Latteno Food Corp.” The Board believes that the name change better reflects the nature of the Company’s current and anticipated operations. The Company had operated under the name B&D Food Corp. which reflected the Company’s prior business operations.

The final phase of restructuring was completed on May 31, 2010, whereby the Company converted $3,470,000 into common stock. In addition, the Global Milk subsidiary has negotiated the necessary supplier lines of credit for its Brazilian dairy division.

The board of directors believe these actions have structured the debt and equity of the Company to enable the effective implementation of its plan of operations in Brazil.

Medical marijuana edibles have been popular ever since the 60s, when peoples would prepare it in the oven in brownie and cake mixes to stimulate the THC in the weed. Nowadays edible marijuana has different types, as medicinal marijuana shops have mastered the way of cooking it into many edible products. Now patients have several ways in which they can take their weed medication, in contrast to only being able to smoking or vaporize it.

When compared with evaporating marijuana or cannabis that has been smoked, edible marijuana is more efficient. This is because when marijuana is burned, much of the THC is disappeared immediately from the burning or vaporizing technique, making less to be sent to our bodies. However, when medicinal marijuana is cooked, none of the THC is missing, and instead it is consumed into the meals, offering a more efficient and less dangerous technique of distribution.

D. Competitive Business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition:

We believe the primary factors affecting competition in our market include firm and consultant reputations, client relationships and experiences, a legacy of successes, referrals and referral sources, the ability to attract and retain top talent, the ability to manage client engagements effectively, responsiveness, and the ability to listen and provide high quality services. There is competition on price, especially during this last economic downturn. However, given the critical nature of many of the issues that our services address, we are not typically competing on price alone. Many of our competitors have greater mindshare in the market, more high profile personnel and greater financial and marketing resources than we do. We believe that our experience, our heritage, our reputation (collectively and as previously independent businesses), our focus on innovation, and our comprehensive approach to our clients' innovation challenges enable us to compete favorably and effectively in this marketplace.

ITEM XVI - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATION

Latteno Food Corp., Inc (the Company) is an investment technology portfolio company that acquires nascent medical and health technology and related innovations, inventions and IP assets to enhance their growth and development. The company builds revenues and asset value through a model of continuous growth, income from or sale of its portfolio holdings, and technology licensing or distribution agreements.

Healthcare science is the applied science dealing with the application of science, technology, engineering, or mathematics, to the delivery of healthcare. Healthcare scientists directly involved in delivering the diagnosis, treatment, care, and support of patients in healthcare systems, rather than those individuals whose primary focus is with academic research. Healthcare science stretches across a wide range of scientific specialisms, encompassing biology, genetics, physiology, physics and bioengineering.

The cornerstone of our investment approach is to work closely with existing technology and Latteno Food Corp. entrepreneurs, inventors or management teams to build value together. We seek to leverage our technological expertise, operating experience, industry knowledge, network of contacts, and internal resources to assist our portfolio companies in developing and executing their business strategies. Because the ID2 Partnership process typically requires both engineering and marketing expertise, cross-functional teams are a common way of organizing projects. The team is responsible for all aspects of the project, from initial idea generation to final commercialization. Development research is typically expensive, and product life cycles are relatively short, strategic alliances among several organizations helps to spread the costs, provide access to a wider skill set, and speeds the overall process.

The Company also invests in innovative and promising health science companies and/or technologies that have reached the stage in the critical Technology Development & Demonstration phase of the Innovative Cycle, which includes Prototype, Demonstration and Market Analysis.

This critical stage in commercializing innovative technologies, processes and/or products requires both engineering and marketing expertise. The Company has assembled experienced cross-functional teams to guide each innovation acquisition, technological adaptation and system integration through the required steps to successful commercialization.

The company encourages collaboration with public, private and institutional partners in all phase of the development cycle.

Our clients and potential acquisitions require strategies to help them embrace greater innovation capabilities. We apply innovation insights and build those strategies with supporting infrastructure, processes & mechanisms, creating a culture primed for repeatable innovation success. We help organizations create and realize new, breakthrough growth strategies, create and execute non-incremental new growth platforms and opportunities, and develop the capability for ongoing creation and execution of those growth platforms and concepts.

We provide strategic innovation consulting services to enable clients to become more efficient by finding new avenues to growth, fighting commoditization, improving return on investment, transforming the organization, and removing barriers to innovation. Business value is delivered to our clients through working with a team of seasoned and experienced professionals capable of unlocking an organization's capacity by offering the following services:

Latteno Food Corp.innovations can offer competitive returns for investors and customers while providing solutions to global challenges. They represents a diverse range of products, services, and processes, all designed to provide performance at lower costs, while greatly reducing or eliminating negative ecological impact, at the same time as improving the productive and responsible use of natural resources.

We began current operations and business plan in 2009, and have not yet attained a level of revenue to allow us to meet our current overhead. We do not contemplate attaining profitable operations until 2011, nor is there any assurance that such an operating level can ever be achieved. We will be dependent upon obtaining additional financing in order to adequately fund working capital, infrastructure, manufacturing expenses and significant marketing/investor related expenditures to gain market recognition, so that we can achieve a level of revenue adequate to support our cost structure, none of which can be assured. While we have funded our initial operations with private placements of equity and bridge loans, there can be no assurance that adequate financing will continue to be available to us and, if available, on terms that are favorable to us.
