

LETTER TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS

RTXBQ Management would like to update our shareholders and interested parties as to the progress of the company as we attempt to exit from our voluntary Chapter 11 filing for reorganization.

- The company has filed a reorganization plan with the courts, and so far the debtors appear to be in agreement with the plan and we hope to exit from Chapter 11 in the shortest period of time.
- The new direction of the company in the Hemp and Medical Marijuana market has had great success. Our first product CHILLO-energy has been enthusiastically received in our Texas based distribution efforts as well as through our online e-commerce and digital marketing platform.
- The rumors circulating about Chapter 7 Bankruptcy totally are false. Management believes those rumors are an attempt to short the share price of RTXBQ stock.
- New exciting products such as a tea based hemp drink and a full retail line of hemp infused SKU's will be added to the lineup and will be announced when the marketing agreements are signed.
- Upon the completion of our reorganization hearing, the merger with CHILL Texas will be finalized. It is Managements intention to leave the share structure intact investors shares will not be cancelled.

We are pleased to say that we have been receiving orders for CHILLO-energy drink at the company website: www.republicoftexas.com

We have also received orders through the Republic of Texas store on Amazon.com:
