NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

Our financial statements are prepared using the accrual method of accounting. Because we have not generated significant revenues, we are considered to be in the development stage as defined in Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 7.

Revenue Recognition

Our revenue recognition policy is consistent with the criteria set forth in Staff Accounting Bulletin 104 - Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements ("SAB 104") for determining when revenue is realized or realizable and earned. In accordance with the requirements of SAB 104 we recognize revenue when (1) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists; (2) delivery of our products has occurred; (3) our price to our customer is fixed or determinable; and (4) collectability of the sales price is reasonably assured.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
TWELVE MONTHS, 2014

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires us to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. The reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period may be affected by the estimates and assumptions we are required to make. Estimates that are critical to the accompanying financial statements include assessing the impact of contingencies as well as the valuation and recoverability of long-lived assets.

Estimates and assumptions are reviewed periodically and the effects of revisions are reflected in the financial statements in the period they are determined to be necessary. It is at least reasonably possible that our estimates could change in the near term with respect to these matters.

Statements of Cash Flows

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, we consider all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Long-Lived Assets

Statement of Accounting Standards No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" ("SFAS No. 144") requires that long-lived assets, including certain identifiable intangibles, be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets in question may not be recoverable.

Property and Equipment

Property and Equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation expense is computed using the straight-line method over the useful lives of the assets.

Stock Based Compensation

We account for equity instruments issued to employees for services based on the fair value of the equity instruments issued, and account for equity instruments issued to those other than employees based on the fair value of the consideration received, or the fair value of the equity instruments, whichever is more reliably measurable.

(A Development Stage Company)

Income Taxes

We compute income taxes in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Statement No. 109 "Accounting for Income Taxes" ("SFAS 109"). Under SFAS 109, deferred taxes are recognized for the tax consequences of temporary differences by applying enacted statutory rates applicable to future years to differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement carrying amounts. Also, the effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that included the enactment date. Temporary differences between financial and taxable reporting arise primarily from differences in the tax bases of assets and certain accrued liabilities that are not deductible for tax purposes until they are paid.

Recent Pronouncements

We do not expect that the adoption of any recent accounting pronouncements will have a material impact on our financial statements.

NOTE 3 - GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America applicable to a going concern, which contemplate the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The company has incurred losses since its inception, has no revenues to date and continues to rely on financing and the issuance of shares to raise capital to fund its operations.

Management has been actively seeking and has acquired new technological advancements, processes and products and is developing markets to sell these products.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 4 - NET LOSS PER SHARE

We compute net loss per share in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 128 "Earnings per Share" ("SFAS No. 128") and SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 98 ("SAB 98"). Under the provisions of SFAS No. 128 and SAB 98, basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common stockholders for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the periods. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss for the period by the number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding during the period.
