Renewable Energy to all domestic markets but primarily California. Biodiesel is a renewable fuel that can be produced locally from fats, vegetable oils, soybean oil or recycled restaurant oil. The fuel used by consumers is a combination of petroleum diesel and biodiesel – the allowable ratio is anything lower than 20% biodiesel to diesel. By incorporating a ratio larger than 20%, corrosion of engine parts appears to increase in non modified diesel vehicles. Biodiesel is biodegradable and reduces the amount of air pollutants, such as carbon monoxide, toxins, and hydro carbons

The Medical Marijuana industry is growing at an extremely rapid rate and this emerging growth industry seems to have growth potential that will continue to grow for years to come. As other states legalize the use and sale of products and services for this industry, we plan to find our niche and opportunities. Hemp too is an integral part of our business. Hemp is the legally grown, non-intoxicating cousin of the Marijuana species and it is an excellent feed-stock for producing biodiesel.
