HOW INVESTORS CAN TURN $50,000 INTO ONE MILLION

With income, assets and a plan in places it should be substantially easier to make the necessary calculations to help determine the future value of your mixed investment portfolio. That is because income-producing investments such as an EFUEL EFN CORPORATION stock symbol "EFLN" tend to have lower volatility, which means the returns are much steadier, and over time produce higher results...

Using a variety of online sites you can analyze your current account value and see what the expected return from your portfolio should be, and any other additions you plan to make along the way to find out what the future of your portfolio will look like over the next 20 years.

The investor using current yield as your expected return and not ignoring potential capital gains, from the growth company "EFLN" stocks. You can create a very conservative metric that represents low-risk Scenario for your long-term portfolio.

However, if investors are patient and realistic, and assume at least some negative capital depreciation the investment is in low risk bracket.

Let's say you start today with $50,000 in your retirement portfolio. Using some of the income investments in this report, let's assume that the returns from both capital and income gains produce around 15 percent with compound interest the $50,000 investment will become $983,000 over a 20 year span.

A simple $100 a month investment over that time period, and purchase growth company stocks" like EFLN" through a qualified brokerage retirement account potential investors can achieve over $5,000,000.00 in 20 years of investment.

The Caveat Emptor Warning That Has Been Attached to eFUEL EFN Corp. Is Inappropriate & Should Be Removed by The OTC Markets, ... "MarketWired" - 3/27/2014 8:09:43 AM
Quarterly Report "OTC Markets" - 10/1/2013 7:14:57 AM

On the investment front, most fixed income investments offer salty yields those already retired on a big portfolio of government bonds have had to cut back on their standard of living. The income just is not there.

The new retirees won't rely on bonds to build their wealth. They need higher income, and they need to build up their retirement funds over years, not decades.

Make no mistake: It is daunting, Social Security benefits will likely be cut, and the retirement age is set to increase over time. With the power of higher-yielding investments, and compound interest, you can achieve your goals. The longer rates remain significantly low, the more likely it is that investors will continue to be drawn to higher yielding, but riskier investments.

The implication is clear: High- income investments and EFLN EFN CORP. stock symbol "EFLN" future capital gains should continue to perform well in this zero-interest-rate world.

It is never too early to educate children and grandchildren with this concept. It is up to all of us as investors to educate, and prepare our families as a whole.
