Financial Notes
For The Three Months Ending November 30, 2015

NOTE 1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Operations: Predictive Technology Group, Inc. is in the business of developing and implementing novel medical solutions to a number of ailments which commonly afflicted individuals domestically and worldwide. PRED’s quest is to improve lives by indentifying, developing, acquiring and commercializing medical apparatuses and treatments that address human medical needs.

Basis of Presentation. Predictive Technology Group, Inc prepared its combined financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These combined financial statements include the results of operations. Accordingly, the financial statements for Predictive Technology Group, Inc. have been combined for the three month ending November 30, 2015.

Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements. Predictive Technology Group, Inc .does not believe that there are any other new pronouncements that have been issued that might have a material impact on its combined financial position or combined results of operations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents. Predictive Technology Group, Inc. considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Income Taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded to reflect the future tax consequences attributable to the effects of differences between the carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities for financial reporting and for income tax purposes. Deferred taxes are calculated by applying enacted statutory tax rates and tax laws to future years in which temporary differences are expected to reverse. The impact on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that the rate change is enacted.

NOTE 2. - STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

During the three months ending November 30, 2015, the Company had 123,519,012 shares outstanding on a fully diluted basis.

On July 16, 2015 The State of Nevada approved a corporate name change to Predictive Technology Group, Inc. and 900,000,000 shares were authorized. The Corporation's board minutes approving this action and majority shareholders presented their shareholders' consent for both of these corporate actions approved by the Secretary of State of Nevada;

The Company is an active corporation in the State of Nevada and its officer and directors remain the same since 2010.

Predictive Technology Group, Inc. on April 15, 2015 announces the Company has entered into an agreement to acquire a majority position of Predictive Therapeutics, LLC for 74,765,714 per restricted shares with additional lock out agreements upon the 1-year hold per Rule 144.

The Company has a pending cancellation of 20,000,000 shares and has a pending issuance of 18,250,000 shares and 10,000,000 shares for two separate pending acquisitions. If these acquisitions do not close, the shares will be returned to the Company's stock treasury for cancellations.

NOTE 3. – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company's continuation as a going concern is dependent on its ability to meet its obligations, to obtain additional financing as may be required and ultimately to attain profitability. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTE 4. – INCOME TAXES

The Company provides for income taxes under that Statement of Financial Accounting Standards NO. 109. Accounting for Income Taxes SFAS No. 109 requires the use of an asset and liability approach in accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and the tax rates in effect when these differences are expected to reverse.

SFAS No. 109 requires the reduction of deferred tax assets by a valuation allowance if, based on the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some sort or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. All of the expenditures thus far have been to organize the Company and will not be expensed for tax purposes until the Company has operations.

The provision for income taxes is comprised of the net changes in deferred taxes less the valuation account plus the current taxes payable as shown in the chart below:

Net changes is Deferred Tax Benefit
less than valuation account	0
Current Taxes Payable	0
Net Provision for Income Taxes	0

The Federal Income Tax filings are not current with the Company.
