VI The nature of products or services offered.

The principal objective of the Company is to locate, stake, prove up and sell mineral properties through out the province of Newfoundland. Newfoundland is considered to be one of the hottest mineral exploration targets in Canada at this time. It is the Company's objective to take advantage of this increased activity to generate numerous joint venture clients, and sales of our existing and yet to be acquired properties. Since inception, the Company has acquired through staking, over 15590 hectares of mineral properties.

Risk factors

1. Limited operating history: The Company was incorporated on 1997. The Company has limited operating history and earnings. There may be a substantial period before the Company realizes any revenues from its activities. The Company's current capital is not sufficient to enable it to embark upon any extensive project. There is no assurance that the company's business will develop further.
2. Speculative nature of the business: The profits of an enterprise involved in mineral exploration And development is generally dependent upon the overall economic health of the world consumption of metals, and upon factors which cannot be reliably ascertained in advance and over which the company has no control.
3. Dependent upon Management: The success of the company is dependent upon the continued services of its officers and directors, and their loss may adversely affect the Company's business.
4. Competition: Competition in the minerals exploration business is intense, although not as intense as other industries. The Company will be competing with many other companies for mineral properties, many of which have substantially greater assets and resources than those of the Company. Major companies presently dominate this industry, which may operate to the disadvantage of the Company. Investors should consider the purchase of shares a commitment of high risk capital and should be able to bear the economic risk of the loss of their investment.

Management : Exhibit A

Ken Stead: is a co-founder of Kat Exploration Inc., and has been president since the company's incorporation in December of 2005. Mr. Stead worked directly in the mining industry from the early to late 70's, where he first started with the Iron Ore Company of Canada and worked for Noranda at their Nanasivik mine in Stratacona Sound, northern Baffin Island. In the early 80's, Mr. Stead worked in the oil fields of Alberta, afterwards returning to Newfoundland where he set up his own construction company from 1985 to 1995.

In 1997, Mr. Stead became a co-founder of Cornerstone Resources Inc., a junior mining company now trading on the TSX-V (CGP) until he resigned in 2004. Over the past nine years Mr. Stead has been actively working in a Sedimentary-Hosted Stratiform Copper environment and will continue to make this one of the company's priorities.

Tim Stead: is a co-founder of Kat Exploration Inc., and has been VP of Field Operations. Since the company's incorporation in December of 2005. Mr. Stead completed a prospector's training course in 2000, where he was then working in the field for Cornerstone Resources Inc. He has many years of experience and knowledge working with Sediment-Hosted Copper on the eastern portion of the province of Newfoundland. Mr. Stead has acquired much experience and knowledge of massive sulphide deposits as well as gold, and at present is overseeing a work program on one of the company's most exciting gold properties.

James Matheson: age 43 has over 20 years of entrepreneurial business and management experience. James has been consulting small and micro-cap companies for years providing advise, arranging financing and marketing activities in the US and Europe as he aids in their preparation and development for senior exchange listings. Mr. Matheson's experience and expertise spans a wide spectrum of businesses in oil and gas companies, real-estate, mining and metals.

Kurt J. Hoffman: is a Mining Entrepreneur involved in the start-up and financing of early stage mining and resource exploration companies. He has extensive experience in property acquisitions, exploration and development of mining properties in the U.S., Canada and South Africa. Mr. Hoffman is President, Chief Executive Officer, and a Director of Sundance Diamonds Corporation, a privately held company engaged in the exploration for diamonds in the U.S. and South Africa. In 2003, Mr. Hoffman co-founded High Plains Uranium, a publicly traded advanced exploration uranium mining company, and served as Vice President and a Director prior to the acquisition by Energy Metals Corporation (TSX: EMC in January 2007). From 1998 through 2004 Mr. Hoffman served as President, Chief Executive Officer, and a Director of Trend Mining Company, a platinum group metals exploration company. From 1998-2001 he served as a Director of New Jersey Mining Company, a gold exploration company with properties joint ventured with Newmont Mining Co. From 1998 to 2007, Mr. Hoffman served as a Director of Atlas Mining Company a contract mining and drilling company, which conducted underground production and development mining. In 2007 he was named to the Board of Directors of SNS Silver, owners of the Crescent Mine a high-grade underground silver mine in Idaho's Silver Valley. In 2007 he founded Syringa Exploration, a private company focused on the exploration for precious and base metals in Idaho. He is also a co-founder, director and chairman of United Mine Services, a contract mining company and owners of Stewart Contracting an environmental reclamation company, and Mine Fabrication and Machine, a manufacturer and fabricator of mining equipment and products.
