ITEM 5 – PAR OR STATED VALUE DESCRIPTION OF THE SECURITY

A.) - Par or Stated Value. Provide the par or stated value for each class of outstanding securities

The par value is: .0001 per share

B.) - Common or Preferred Stock.

1. For common equity, describe any dividend, voting and preemption rights.

Holders of shares are entitled to receive dividends as may be declared by the board of directors out of funds legally available for payment of dividends. Holders of shares of common stock are entitled to one vote at any meeting of the shareholders for each share of common stock they own as of the record date fixed by the board of directors. Holders of the common shares do not have cumulative voting rights, which mean that the holders of more than fifty percent of the shares of common stock voting for election of directors may elect all the directors if they choose to do so. There are no pre-emptive or other subscription rights or privileges with respect to any share.

2. For preferred stock, describe the dividend, voting, conversion and liquidation rights as well as redemption or sinking fund provisions.

The preferred stock has full voting rights but no dividend rights but does have conversion rights at the rate of 20 shares of common stock for each share of preferred stock.

3. Describe any other material rights of common or preferred stockholders.

There are no other material rights to common or preferred stockholders.

4. Describe any provision in issuer's charter or by-laws that would delay, defer or prevent a change in control of the issuer.

The board's ability to determine the terms of preferred stock and to cause its issuance could make it more difficult for another party to take control of the Company without the consent of the Board of Directors.

The issuer's primary SIC code is 1311 Crude Petroleum & Natural Gas

2. If the issuer has never conducted operations, is in the development stage, or is currently conducting operations;

The company has and continues to conduct operations in Louisiana and anticipates conducting operations in Texas during 2011.

3. If the issuer is considered a "shell company" pursuant to Securities Act Rule 405;

The Company is not a "shell company."

4. The names of any parent, subsidiary, or affiliate of the issuer, and its business purpose, its method of operation, its ownership, and whether it is included in the financial statements attached of this disclosure document;

The company has no subsidiaries or parent companies at this time.

5. The effect of existing or probable governmental regulations on the business;

Because we are engaged in extracting natural resources, our business is subject to various federal, state and local provisions regarding environmental and ecological matters. The company is subject to regulatory controls from federal and state governmental agencies that enforce environmental concerns. The effect of any enforcement of any such applicable governmental regulations on the company would be the cost of compliance associated with procedures instituted to comply with the regulation and oversight. Costs may include fees for consultants or salaries for employees needed to provide services regarding this compliance.

6. An estimate of the amount spent during each of the last two fiscal years on research and development activities, and, if applicable, the extent to which the cost of such activities are borne directly by customers;

Nothing was spent on research and development activities.

7. Costs and effects of compliance with environmental laws (federal, state and local); and

There have been no costs or effects to the company at present with activities to comply with federal, state or local laws.

8. The number of total employees and number of full-time employees

ITEM 9 - THE NATURE OF PRODUCTS OR SERVICES OFFERED

The Company's primary focus is to build significant reserves and production through the acquisition and enhancement of proven, known reservoirs in the US Gulf Coast region.

A.) - Principal products or services, and their markets;

The Company produces oil and related by products and markets them to refineries through third party marketing agents.

B.) - Distribution methods of the products or services;

The Company's products are distributed by pipeline, tanker truck or barge to wholesalers of petroleum products. These wholesalers are the refiners and processors who create the products that are used by both commercial and residential energy consumers.

C.) - Status of any publicly announced new product or service;

There have been no recent announcements of new product or service by the Company.

D.) - Competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition;

Management of the Company has extensive knowledge of the region in which it operates. Additionally, management has extensive contacts within the oil and gas industry in the US gulf coast. Management is supported by an advisory group of experienced financial veterans who help craft acquisition strategy and deal terms.

E.) - Sources and availability of raw materials and the names of principal suppliers;

The company intends to focus its drilling operation primarily in the states of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. The Company believes that there are an abundance of assets within our target parameters available for sale, from distressed owners, within these states.

F.) - Dependence on one or a few major customers;

The Company is only dependent on the liquid commodities markets that provide for the easy sale of oil and gas. Some infrastructure is needed in the form of pipelines for natural gas. The wholesale market has an abundant capacity to purchase all foreseeable oil and gas production by the Company.

G.) - Patents, trademarks, licenses, franchises, concessions, royalty agreements or labor contracts, including their duration;

The only such agreements or contracts to which the Company is a party are oil and gas royalty agreements pertaining to its wells in Texas. The royalties payable under those agreements are industry-standard.

H.) - The need for any government approval of principal products or services and the status of any requested government approvals.

The company's operations are subject to regulation by various state and local agencies, which regulate oil and gas operations, as well as the U.S. Department of Energy and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. All required approvals and licenses for existing operations are current and in effect.

Currently the company does not have any restrictions from the government regarding approvals or other requirements. It is expected during the course of exploration efforts that permitting and other necessary licensing may be required to complete activities such as drilling, fracturing, cementing or more technical plans that will accompany small to full scale operations.

ITEM 10 - THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE ISSUER'S FACILITIES

If the issuer leases any assets, properties or facilities, clearly describe them as above and the terms of their leases.

The company contracts out both field and office operations. The company does not maintain any property lease at this time.
