QUARTERLY UPDATE – MARCH 31, 2011

The information contained in this Quarterly Update has not been filed with, nor reviewed by, nor approved by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, or any other state securities administrator or self-regulatory organization.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS.

The information in this Quarterly Update contains “forward-looking statements” relating to For The Earth Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company” or “For The Earth”), and its subsidiaries, within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). These “forward looking statements” represent the Company’s current expectations or beliefs including, but not limited to, statements concerning the Company’s operations, performance, financial condition and growth. For this purpose, any statements contained in this Quarterly Update that are not statements of historical fact are forward-looking statements. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, words such as “anticipates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “expects,” “intends,” “may,” “plans,” “projects,” “will,” “would” or the negative or other comparable terminology are intended to identify forward-looking statements, although not all forward-looking statements contain these identifying words. These statements by their nature involve substantial risks and uncertainties, such as the affect of general economic and business conditions, our ability to implement our business, our ability to effectively integrate our acquisitions, competition, availability of key personnel, changes in, or the failure to comply with government regulations, and other risks, certain of which are beyond the Company’s control. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize or should the underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual outcomes and results could differ materially from those indicated in the forward-looking statements.

Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement or statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which such statement is made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. New factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all of such factors, nor can it assess the impact of each such factor on the business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

ITEM 4

Management’s Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our financial statements.

The purpose of this discussion is to provide an understanding of For The Earth’s financial results and condition.

Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) is organized in the following sections:

- Current Operational Overview
- Results of Operations of For The Earth for the period ending March 31, 2011
- Significant Accounting Policies
- Other Information

Current Operational Overview:

Medjet Inc. (the Company’s name prior to its acquisition of For The Earth Corporation, an Arizona corporation (the “Subsidiary”)) previously developed technology based on microjets, and developed derivative devices and surgical equipment, which used water jet technology. On January 25, 2011, the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiary, Ganymeade Acquisition Corporation, merged (the “Merger”) with the Subsidiary, with the Subsidiary continuing as the surviving corporation. As a result of the Merger, the Subsidiary is now the wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. Following the Merger, the Company changed its name to For The Earth Corporation.

Located in Phoenix, Arizona the Company sells products to retail, industrial (hotel, nursing homes, restaurants, professional sports teams, etc.), and direct-to consumers.

For The Earth's mission is to only manufacture biodegradable, environmentally friendly products that provide effective and sustainable solutions for humans, animals and the planet Earth.

In 2009 The Subsidiary experienced significant growth through TV advertising through the Discovery Channel's reality show, "Pitchmen" and several infomercials hosted by the late Billy Mays, that the Company believes demonstrates that its product may be well received by the general public when properly advertised. However, The Company could not maintain such growth because of a lack of working capital and consequently, its sales were significantly reduced in 2010. The Company intends to seek additional sources of working capital.

If the Company is unsuccessful in obtaining the necessary funding it will likely be detrimental to the Company's overall performance.

Results of Operations of For The Earth:

The consolidated financial statements include the historical operations of For The Earth Corporation and the operations of Medjet, Inc. from the merger date of January 25, 2011.

Three months ended March 31, 2011 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2010:

Sales decreased from $76,216 in the three months ended March 31, 2010 to $23,997 in the three months ended March 31, 2011 due to the reduction in the advertising, media and marketing expenditures between those periods as described below. In early 2011, the Company executed a two year marketing services consulting agreement calling for a monthly retainer fee of $10,000. Management believes that through collaboration with the marketing services company, that sales in future periods may exceed those levels reached in 2009.

Cost of goods sold increased from $10,825 in the three months ended March 31, 2010 to $12,899 in the three months ended March 31, 2011 due to the increased cost of PaPurr products and slightly higher raw material costs due to ordering smaller quantities to maintain cash flow. Management believes that as sales increase the corresponding cost of goods sold may also increase at the same rate of growth.

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased from $113,393 in the three months ended March 31, 2010 to $232,651 in the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase is mainly a result of the recapitalization costs incurred and officer's compensation from $43,248 to $71,500 with hiring a permanent CFO in late 2010.

Inflation and seasonality:

For The Earth does not believe that inflation or seasonality will significantly affect its results of operation.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Sales of For The Earth's products have been insufficient to cover For The Earth's expenses and thereby resulting in a net decrease in cash of $3,266 for the three months ended March 31, 2011.

Management anticipates seeking funds from investors to satisfy the Company's short and long-term working capital needs; however, there is no guarantee that management will be successful in obtaining such funds or that it will be able to obtain adequate funding to sustain operations or to grow the revenue stream in accordance with management's business plan.

The Company anticipates that funding its strategic plan through 2011 may require a minimum of $500,000 and up to $5 million of additional capital in excess of the expected cash flow to be generated from operations. Accordingly, the Company expects to have to seek alternate sources of capital. The Company can offer no assurance that it will be able to raise additional funds if needed, on acceptable terms to the Company or otherwise. If the Company is unsuccessful in its attempts to raise sufficient capital, it may have to cease operations or postpone its plans. The Company estimates that its cash and other current assets as of March 31, 2011, of approximately $15,000 will only be sufficient to meet its needs for approximately one year.

The Company is currently doing research on an all natural acne and pain reliever product. Subject to obtaining the necessary financing, the Company plans to introduce two new products in 2011, What Stain? and What Wound? Subject to obtaining the necessary financing, the Company also intends to form a retail sales team, an industrial sales team and an international sales team to attempt to expand in the global market.

Debt and Contractual Obligations

As of March 31, 2011, For The Earth owes the President and CEO $106,293 for unpaid compensation and owes $104,056 to the President/CEO for cash loans made to the Company. These debts are expected to be paid out of operating profits, if any, and the funds received, if any, from investors; however, there is no guarantee that sufficient funds will be raised to sustain operations or to satisfy all the debts of the Company.

Prior to the merger, the Company was in default of $244,155 owed to a third party. In December 2010, the Company agreed to settle such indebtedness to assignees of such indebtedness for notes convertible into Common Stock at par value. As of March 31, 2011, $30,000 of debt was converted to 30,000,000 common shares; loan balance as of March 31, 2011 is $214,155.

An additional $11,500 of debt was converted to 11,500,000 common shares subsequent to March 31, 2011.

Significant Accounting Policies:

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and the results of our operations are based upon our financial statements and the data used to prepare them. Our financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. On an ongoing basis we re-evaluate our judgments and estimates including those related to the use of estimates, allowance for bad debts and income taxes. We base our estimates and judgments on our historical experience, knowledge of current conditions and our beliefs of what could occur in the future considering available information. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. Our estimates are guided by observing the following critical accounting policies.

Use of Estimates in Financial Statements:

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Allowance for bad debts:

For The Earth estimates an allowance for bad debts on trade and non-trade receivables based on historical experience and management estimates of what is collectable.

Inventories:

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, with cost determined using a first-in, first-out method.

Other Information:

There are no recently issued accounting standards known to have a material impact on For The Earth's financial statements as of March 31, 2011.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company does not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on the Company's financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources.
