Slater, an independent contractor formerly with M Power Entertainment, Inc., brought suit in County Civil Court at Law Number Four in Harris County, Texas, Docket Number 872,560, alleging breach of contract, quantum meruit, promissory estoppel and for attorney's fees. No specific dollar amount was claimed by Ms. Slater but the Court on December 29, 2006 granted our Special Exceptions and she was required to replead her petition alleging the amount she sought in damages along with certain other pleading requirements. The pre-lawsuit demand was for payment of $15,785.25. Trial was had on this matter in November 2007. On December 31, 2007, the court awarded Deanna S. 2. On August 31, 1999 Marathon Oil Company obtained a Default Judgment against GK Intelligent Systems, Inc. in the amount of $326,943.00 plus attorney's fees of $7,500.00. According to the public records of the Harris County District Clerk, no subsequent execution on this judgment has been made. It then appears that under Section 52.006 Duration of Lien under the Texas Property Code that "A judgment lien continues for 10 years following the date of recording and indexing the abstract, except that if the judgment becomes dormant during that period the lien ceases to exist." It is the opinion of counsel that this lien is no longer enforceable against eDoorways, if in fact the execution did not satisfy the judgment.

3. On June 12, 2002 GK Intelligent Systems executed a promissory note to BDO Seidman, LLP for $85,000.00 due in full on March 1, 2003. Description

eDoorways is a technology innovator and facilitator of artificial intelligence (A.I.) based speech-enabled applications with avatar interaction on mobile devices. We are combining our "Intelligent Performance Support" (IPS) A.I. software with state of the art avatar creation technology to deliver highly interactive contextually-relevant information and resources to web and mobile users. Our systems remember content and recall interactions with each user, which increases effectiveness and value of user experience.

Our first subsidiary Smart 1 Systems Inc. is developing the technology and tools for a number of established vertical markets, currently targeting personal fitness, healthcare, learning, and professional interaction.

At the foundation of eDoorways technology is voice controlled programs on mobile devices or personal computers and tablets where users are able to actually "talk" to the system's AI programs using their voice to control pace and focus of instruction. This enables mobile phones to effectively deliver content and visual information (pictures, videos, diagrams, graphics, numeric charts/formulas et al) and reach learners using the expanding mobile telephone spectrum around the world for those who do not have high speed Internet, WiFi or Wimax service thereby expanding eDoorways market to virtually anywhere where "smart phones" can be used. Voice controlled interaction has another benefit too—it helps ensure learners "get it" as they progress through the course or program materials because the information is tailored to and presented to each user's specific need and capability.

eDoorways is combining its mobile interactive voice system with the new reality of avatar technology to replicate trainers and teachers so users can work with them, learn from them and benefit from a one-on-one relationship. Video technology such as Skype and Google enable teachers to visually interact one on one with students and meet them without the requirement of traveling to a facility designed for learning and doing. They can meet students where they live and work as part of their daily routine which increases their willingness to use and pay for the service. High end personal trainers such as Michael Torchia have used video teleconferencing to conduct personal training sessions with clients on other continents. But in order to have personal, individual interaction and focus, only one (or perhaps a few) individuals can benefit from the experience.

By creating a life-like Mike Torchia and delivering his interaction to mobile devices (such as PDA's and iPhones) and personal computers eDoorways enables him to work one on one with many clients simultaneously. The system, just like Mike, tailors each session to each individual and remembers the events that transpired in order to build upon them over time. The combined technology enables thought leaders, teachers and trainers to reach an unlimited number of learners and users simultaneously and yet build a data file for each one that remembers them and can start right where they left off in the prior session.

The Smart 1 System avatar is created in a "brief" session where the individual is filmed in a revolutionary studio using breakthrough techniques and video technology. Once the avatar video is captured, after the "star" is gone, the technical team is able to place the avatar with any background and virtual clothing, and have it say just about anything with movement and facial expressions that are appropriate. The AI team can then add this visual to the voice interaction and massive data files that present graphics, play videos and record personal reaction and responses to "remember" each user.

And this is a building block approach. The initial programs offer initial benefit to initial users thereby creating initial corporate clients with specific goals tailored to their users. Continuously new applications are added and existing ones are enhanced, and improved. The system not only remembers each user's progress but also enables the corporate development of ever-expanding applications offering continuing benefit to users to the point where they master the subject matter or achieve their personal fitness, wellness goals. After that point as with real personal trainers, they progress into maintenance mode if they have a bond with the trainer. Continuing benefit will create continuing use which will generate monthly recurring service revenues.

Market / Personal Training

"Do you know how to do a pushup...Really? Would you like to view a brief video on the proper form and how to start easy and build confidence and skill over time? Good, watch this video and then let's decide what's next... "

Market / Healthcare and Diagnostics

By creating a "physician's assistant" avatar capable of interacting with users and able to answer the 20% of questions that create 80% of the calls from independent and assisted living communities or nursing homes, the staff is supplemented by the system and residents get standard answers from a dramatic new staff member available 24 hours a day.

Market / Corporate Wellness

By accessing the massive data available regarding diet and nutrition, the personal wellness avatar can tell users what's in their lunch (carbohydrates, fats, sugars) and remember what they're consuming. One goal is to reduce the incidence of Type 2 Diabetes by improved diet. The available videos on YouTube indicate:

- 1 trillion – The number of video playbacks on YouTube.
- 140 – The number of YouTube video playbacks per person on Earth.
- 48 hours – The amount of video uploaded to YouTube every minute.”

Source: <http://royal.pingdom.com/2012/01/17/internet-2011-in-numbers/>

A vast amount of content has been created and is available on YouTube; however, the same vast amount of content is “sit and watch” videos that are not in response to specific learners’ needs that deliver specific modules focused on that need. The videos are controlled by “pause, replay, fast forward” rather than by interactive voice controls and feedback from a system that “talks” to the learner and delivers a mix of graphics, diagrams, photo images, videos, text, that have been selected and added to the virtual assistant programs.

People are using search engines, social networking and Youtube to gather information and to learn. What is needed is a unified way to create interactive, voice controlled personal avatars with access to the specific information needed for the specific user—with the ability to monetize those new delivery methods, and that is precisely what eDoorways’ S1S team is developing.

We create an application-specific avatar (for example, nationally branded individuals) with an interactive web-based mobile interface that “talks with” users, remembers what they’ve said and done, and grows with them interactively over time. It becomes a personal trainer, teacher or coach to create positive change with each person via our subscription-based service.

We are working with industry-leading businesses and personalities to create these avatars, build interactive voice responses, and add our AI smart interface, all tied to cloud based servers. Our integrated technology lets the avatar react to and interact with individual users via mobile devices. In short, our unified system will deliver near-human “new media” support solutions to users who will confidentially and personally interact with the same avatar at the same time on a monthly subscription fee basis. There is also the opportunity to create revenue via ecommerce generated through real-time, hyper-personalized marketing enabled by the unique one-on-one interactivity our system fosters.

Sales and Marketing Strategy

Each vertical market and corporate account will be marketed through strategic partnerships with passionate market leaders who have access to clients and capital. Our intention is to create joint ownership and shared distribution of profits from recurring revenue subscribers via a Limited Liability Company (LLC). Each vertical will be supported by S1S technology and managed jointly by the market leaders and key individuals at eDoorways.

eDOORWAYS’ “Intelligent” Teaching Technology

We developed our “intelligent” teaching technology in a previous incarnation of the company approximately 10 years ago. At that time, the teaching technology established itself as an internationally known brand that received numerous awards for technical and marketing excellence. It is our intention to use the technology as part of a “doorway” called the LEARN service offering. In addition, we are exploring other opportunities for the teaching technology in the marketplace.

A key aspect of the eDoorways brand is that it brings additional resources to bear to solve the consumer's problem. One important opportunity is that of training and education about relevant lifestyle topics and issues. We have developed a highly advanced and internationally accredited teaching technology known as the "intelligent" instructional technology to focus in these areas.

Our advanced software is an intuitive learning technology that creates a customized user profile by assessing the knowledge and skill level, and the strengths and weaknesses of the user through a sophisticated, yet easy-to-use Q&A format. As the user interacts with the learning environment, his/her profile and progress are benchmarked against an already stored "expert profile" of the demonstrated knowledge and skill that an expert in the field would have. Using the "expert profile" as a comparison, the program gauges the users progress and modifies the level of support accordingly, giving the less skilled user prompts and menus that are not provided to the more experienced user.

COMPETITION

There are no direct competitors to this technology, period, as it, nor anything close to it presently exists. Basically, we are marrying the best of A.I.-based gaming technology (porting it to mobile devices) and the best of learning technology (see the table below for web-based learning startups). To our knowledge, there are no consumer-facing companies that bring personalized avatar technology to mobile devices and that make the results speak to you intelligently about topics that matter in your life. The speech-enabled Siri and Android Search do not have "faces" associated with them. Moreover, they are not particularly intelligent beyond their tie-ins with Wolfram Alpha and/or other knowledge assembly engines. In particular, they cannot carry on a conversation in natural language with users; rather they simply answer one unrelated question after another.

Notes to the Financial Statements:

eDOORWAYS INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION

(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Business

The Company is a development stage entity incorporated in Delaware in 1988, under the name "Technicraft Financial, Ltd." In August 1994, the Company acquired GK Intelligent Systems, Inc., a Texas corporation, and changed its name to GK Intelligent Systems, Inc. Through 1999, the Company was principally engaged in the development and marketing of software products capable of interaction with and adaptation to the needs of software users and interpretation of data. The Company changed its name in 2005 to M Power Entertainment, Inc. M Power planned to create a lifestyle information/entertainment platform. In 2006, M Power redesigned its platforms. Its new platforms were designed to offer an enhanced form of interactivity and support for today's visually oriented web surfing community. On August 20, 2007, the Company changed its name to eDoorways Corporation. In September, 2010 we changed our name to eDoorways International Corporation.

eDoorways International Corporation is a technology innovator and facilitator of artificial intelligence (A.I.) based, speech-enabled applications with avatar interaction on mobile devices. We are combining our "Intelligent Performance Support" (IPS) A.I. software with state of the art avatar creation technology to deliver highly interactive contextually-relevant information and resources to web and mobile users. Our systems remember content and recall interactions with each user, which increases effectiveness and value of user experience.

Our first subsidiary Smart 1 Systems Inc. is developing the technology and tools for a number of established vertical markets, currently targeting personal fitness, healthcare, learning, and professional interaction.

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements and accompanying notes are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The Company is a Development Stage Company, as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No.7 "Accounting and Reporting for Development Stage Enterprises." The Company re-entered the development stage on January 1, 2006 after disposing of its operations in M Power.

Reclassifications

Certain amounts in the financial statements of the prior year have been reclassified to conform to the presentation of the current year for comparative purposes.

Use of Estimates

In preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet and revenue and expenses in the statement of operations. Examples include estimates of loss contingencies, including legal risks and exposures, valuation of stock-based compensation; the potential outcome of future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in our financial statements or tax returns; and valuation of derivative instruments. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. These accounts may at times exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses on such accounts. As of August 21, 2012, there were no cash balances in excess of federally insured limits.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

For certain of our financial instruments, including accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses, interest payable, bank overdraft, advances payable and notes payable, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to their relatively short maturities.

Deferred Financing Costs

Payments, either in cash or share-based payments, made in connection with the sale of debentures are recorded as deferred debt issuance costs and amortized using the effective interest method over the lives of the related debentures.

Property, Plant & Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost and as of August 21, 2012, and consists solely of computer equipment. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes based on estimated useful lives of three years.

The cost of asset additions and improvements that extend the useful lives of property and equipment are capitalized. Routine maintenance and repair items are charged to current operations. The original cost and accumulated depreciation of asset dispositions are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss is reflected in the statement of operations in the period of disposition.

Valuation of Derivative Instruments

FAS 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" requires bifurcation of embedded derivative instruments and measurement of fair value for accounting purposes. In addition, FAS 155, "Accounting for Certain Hybrid Financial Instruments" requires measurement of fair values of hybrid financial instruments for accounting purposes. In determining the appropriate fair value, the Company uses a variety of valuation techniques including Black Scholes models, Binomial Option Pricing models, Standard Put Option Binomial models and the net present value of certain penalty amounts. Derivative liabilities are adjusted to reflect fair value at each period end, with any increase or decrease in the fair value being recorded in results of operations as Adjustments to Fair Value of Derivatives. The effects of interactions between embedded derivatives are calculated and accounted for in arriving at the overall fair value of the financial instruments. In addition, the fair values of freestanding derivative instruments such as warrant derivatives are valued using the Black Scholes model.

Income Taxes

An asset and liability approach is used for financial accounting and reporting for income taxes. Deferred income taxes arise from temporary differences between income tax and financial reporting and principally relate to recognition of revenue and expenses in different periods for financial and tax accounting purposes and are measured using currently enacted tax rates and laws. In addition, a deferred tax asset can be generated by net operating loss carry forwards (“NOLs”). If it is more likely than not that some portion or all of a deferred tax asset will not be realized, a valuation allowance is recognized.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenues when services have been performed, collections are reasonably assured and no further obligations exist. eDoorways International Corporation had no revenues from continuing operations in 2009, 2010 or through the period ending December 31, 2011.

Stock-Based Compensation

Stock-based compensation expense includes the estimated fair value of equity awards vested during the reporting period. The expense for equity-awards during the reporting period is determined based upon the grant date fair value of the award and is recognized as expense on the grant date. All shares issued to date for stock-based compensation have vested on the grant date.

Loss Per Share

Basic and diluted net income (loss) per share calculations are presented in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 128, and are calculated on the basis of the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. They include the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents in periods with net income.

Common stock equivalents represent the dilutive effect of the assumed conversion of convertible notes payable and Series C convertible preferred stock, using the “if converted” method, at either the beginning of the respective period presented or the date of issuance, whichever is later, and only if the common stock equivalents are considered dilutive based upon the Company's net income (loss) position at the calculation date. Common stock equivalents also include the effect of the exercise of outstanding warrants using the treasury stock method, at either the beginning of the respective period presented or the date of issuance, whichever is later, and only if the warrants are considered dilutive based upon the exercise price of the warrants and the average trading price of the stock during the period. All common stock equivalents were considered anti-dilutive for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009.

Recently issued accounting pronouncements:

eDoorways International Corporation does not expect that any recently issued accounting pronouncements will have a significant impact on the financial statements of the Company.

Note 2 – Going Concern

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. As of December 31, 2011, eDoorways International Corporation had an accumulated deficit of $100,206,496 and a first and second quarter 2012 working capital deficit of $1,449,698. The continuation of eDoorways International as a going concern is dependent upon financial support from its shareholders, the ability to obtain necessary equity or debt financing and the attainment of profitable operations. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding eDoorways International Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should eDoorways International Corporation be unable to continue as a going concern.

eDoorways International Corporation is currently completing arrangement for an equity financing to fund its development plan; the Company can provide no assurance that financing will be available on terms acceptable to the Company or at all. Management believes, however, that actions presently being taken to obtain additional funding and implement its strategic plans provide the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern.

Note 3 - Convertible Debentures

On March 30, 2007, the Company entered into a Securities Purchase Agreement (the "Securities Purchase Agreement") with New Millennium Capital Partners II, LLC, AJW Qualified Partners, LLC, AJW Offshore, Ltd. and AJW Partners, LLC (collectively, the "Investors"). Under the terms of the Securities Purchase Agreement, the Investors purchased an aggregate of (i) $165,000 in callable convertible secured notes (the "Notes") and (ii) warrants to purchase 1,500,000 shares of our common stock (the "Warrants"). After the effect of the reverse common stock split of 2000 to 1 in 2007 the warrants were reduced to 750 shares.

The Notes carried an interest rate of 8% and a maturity date of March 30, 2010. The notes were convertible into our common shares at 50% of the average of the lowest three (3) trading prices for our shares of common stock during the twenty (20) trading day period prior to conversion.

In addition, the Company granted the investors a security interest in substantially all of its assets and intellectual property as well as registration rights.

The Company simultaneously issued to the Investors seven year warrants to purchase 1,500,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price of $.0016 per common share.

The Investors contractually agreed to restrict their ability to convert the Notes and exercise the Warrants and receive shares of the Company's common stock such that the number of shares of the Company's common stock held by them and their affiliates after such conversion or exercise does not exceed 4.99% of the then issued and outstanding shares of the Company's common stock.

eDoorways International Corporation evaluated the convertible debentures and the warrants under SFAS No. 133 "Accounting for Derivatives" and EITF 00-19 "Accounting for Derivative Financial Instruments Indexed to and Potentially Settled in a Company's Own Stock". eDoorways International Corporation determined that the convertible debentures contained an embedded derivative for the conversion option and the warrants qualified as free standing derivatives. The conversion option allowed for an indeterminate number of shares to potentially be issued upon conversion. This results in eDoorways International Corporation being unable to determine with certainty they will have enough shares available to settle any and all outstanding common stock equivalent instruments. eDoorways International Corporation would be required to obtain shareholder approval to increase the number of authorized shares needed to share settle those contracts. Because increasing the number of shares authorized is outside of eDoorways International Corporation control, this results in these instruments being classified as liabilities under EITF 00-19 and as derivatives under SFAS No. 133.

The impact of the application of SFAS No. 133 and EITF 00-19 on the balance sheets as of December 31, 2011 is as follows:

Derivative liability at January 1, 2010	$ 5,896,263
Issuance of embedded conversion features, recognized as interest expense	902,120
Decrease in fair value of derivative liability, recognized as other income	(47,895)
Derivative liability at December 31, 2010	$ 6,750,488
Issuance of embedded conversion features, recognized as interest expense	1,085,921
Increase in fair value of derivative liability, recognized as other income	135,865
Derivative liability at December 31, 2011	$ 7,972,274

(a) During the year ended December 31, 2008, the holders of the Convertible Debentures elected to convert principal in the amount of $5,770 into 2,700,000 shares of common stock. This resulted in a decrease in the derivative liability of $4,489, which represented the fair value of the embedded derivative associated with converted principal on the date of conversion.

(b) On August 29, 2008, the Convertible Debentures were modified to eliminate the conversion feature. As a result, the embedded derivative was eliminated. The embedded derivative was revalued as of August 29, 2008 at $4,153,336. See discussion of the New Notes below.

- (c) On August 29, 2008, the embedded derivative was eliminated which also eliminated the derivative classification of the freestanding derivative warrants. The warrants were revalued as of August 29, 2008 at $14,013 and were reclassified to additional paid-in capital.

The derivatives were valued using the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model. The variables used in the valuation of these derivatives as of August 29, 2008 (the date of revaluation) were as follows:

Volatility	357% - 486%
Discount rate	1.90% - 3.34%
Expected dividend rate	0%
Stock price on the measurement date	$ 0.03
Expected term	.17 – 6.32 years

During April 2008, eDoorways International Corporation received notice of default from the holders of its convertible debentures, because eDoorways International Corporation had not issued shares of common stock based on conversion notices from the holders of the Convertible Debentures. On August 29, 2008 and amended January 26, 2009, and further amended on August 4, 2009 eDoorways International Corporation and the holders of the Convertible Debentures entered into a repayment agreement on the notes (“New Notes”). Under the terms of the New Notes, eDoorways International Corporation was to be required to make monthly payments in the following amounts beginning August of 2009:

	Monthly Amount	Total Each Period
Month 1-3	$ 32,115	$ 96,346
Month 4-6	53,976	161,928
Month 7-12	80,963	485,778
Month 13-24	134,939	1,619,268
Month 25-36	242,890	2,914,680
Total		$ 5,278,000

Under the terms of the New Notes, as amended, eDoorways International Corporation will have no obligation to issue shares of its common stock or to make any payments other than those listed above. If eDoorways International Corporation makes all payments as required, the Convertible Debentures will be considered paid in full. If eDoorways International Corporation fails to make any payment required by the New Notes, the New Notes will be considered to have never executed, and the Convertible Debentures would remain in effect.

The Company has not made the payments as were required under the New Notes. Accordingly, on August 4, 2009, eDoorways International Corporation entered into an amendment to the New Notes; under the amendment to the New Notes, eDoorways International Corporation at its option can elect to make payments with common stock of the Company at the current market value. The number of shares of common stock to be issued upon each payment shall be determined by dividing the amount of the monthly payment by the Conversion Price. The Conversion Price shall equal the lowest trading price for the common stock during the five-day trading period ending one day prior to the date that the Company gives the notice that it intends to make its payment in stock.

eDoorways International Corporation evaluated the conversion feature arising from the amendment to the New Notes under SFAS No. 133 "Accounting for Derivatives" and EITF 00-19 "Accounting for Derivative Financial Instruments Indexed to and Potentially Settled in a Company's Own Stock". eDoorways International Corporation determined that the conversion feature contained an embedded derivative for the conversion option. The conversion option allowed for an indeterminate number of shares to potentially be issued upon conversion. This results in eDoorways International Corporation being unable to determine with certainty they will have enough shares available to settle any and all outstanding common stock equivalent instruments. eDoorways International Corporation would be required to obtain shareholder approval to increase the number of authorized shares needed to share settle those contracts. Because increasing the number of shares authorized is outside of eDoorways International Corporation control, this results in these instruments being classified as liabilities under EITF 00-19 and as derivatives under SFAS No. 133. Further, the Company will be required to measure the fair value of the conversion feature at each reporting period and reflect changes in the fair value in its statement of operations.

eDoorways International Corporation determined that the modification on August 29, 2008, as amended, of the terms of the existing debt represented a troubled debt restructuring in accordance with SFAS No. 15 "Accounting by Debtors and Creditors for Troubled Debt Restructurings", because eDoorways International Corporation was experiencing financial difficulties and the lenders granted a concession to the Company based on a comparison of the effective interest rate of the Convertible Debentures and the New Notes. The total undiscounted future cash payments of the New Notes compared with the carrying amount of the Convertible Debentures including the related accrued interest, deferred financing costs and embedded derivative related to the conversion option as of August 29, 2008 was as follows:

	Amount
Principal amount of Convertible Debentures	$ 2,240,584
Fair value of embedded derivative liability	4,153,336
Accrued interest on Convertible Debentures	290,351
Less:
Unamortized deferred financing costs	(82,954)
Unamortized discount	(1,298,627)
Carrying amount of Convertible Debentures	5,302,690
Less: Expected future cash flow under new notes	(5,295,000)
Gain on extinguishment of debt	$ 7,690

The total future cash payments are less than the carrying amount of the Convertible Debenture immediately before the issuance of the New Notes. As of August 29, 2008 and in accordance with SFAS No. 15, eDoorways International Corporation reduced the carrying amount of the Convertible Debentures to an amount equal to the total future cash payments specified by the New Notes and recognized a gain on the restructuring of debt in the amount of $7,690. All cash payments under the terms of the New Notes will be accounted for as reductions of the carrying amount of the New Notes and no interest expense shall be recognized. The embedded derivative liability was revalued as of August 29, 2008 in order to determine the carrying amount of the Convertible Debentures. No embedded derivative liability was recorded after the issuance of the New Notes, because the New Notes do not contain a conversion option of any kind.

The issuance of the New Notes removed the embedded derivative associated with the Convertible Debentures. As a result, eDoorways International Corporation concluded that it had sufficient authorized and unissued shares to issue the number of shares required under the warrants described above (Freestanding derivatives) and, therefore, all of these warrants, should not be treated as derivative liabilities as of August 29, 2008. The fair value of these warrants was marked to market on the date they no longer were accounted for as derivatives and a derivative gain of $286,470 was recorded. The balance of the derivative liability in the amount of $14,013 was then recorded as a contribution to additional paid-in capital on August 29, 2008.

On December 29, 2008, New Notes in the principal amount of $2,000 were converted into 2,406,738 shares of common stock. The shares issued were valued on the date of the transaction. As a result of the transaction, the Company recognized a loss of $7,627 on conversion of debt.

Note 4 – Notes payable and convertible notes payable

During October and November 2007, eDoorways International Corporation borrowed a total of $91,100 under various short-term convertible notes payable. The notes bear interest at 0%, matured within 10 days, and were convertible into shares of common stock at between $0.075 and $0.09 per share (50% of the market price of the common stock on the date of issuance of the notes). During the fourth quarter of 2007, all of these convertible notes in the amount of $91,100 were converted into 1,575,776 shares of common stock. Upon conversion we recognized a $54,000 loss on extinguishment of debt due to the conversion price being greater than the amount owed on two of the loans. Under the terms of the warrants issued in connection with the 6% convertible debentures, if the Company issues common stock at a discount to the exercise price of the warrants, the exercise price of the warrants to purchase shares of common stock is adjusted downward in proportion to the discount given in the new equity issuance. The outstanding warrants affected by this change are 750 warrants with an exercise price of $3.20 expiring March 30, 2014 and 15,000 warrants with an exercise price of $200 that expire April 25, 2013.

On October 25, 2007, the Company completed a financing agreement with private investors and received cash proceeds of $250,000. eDoorways International Corporation issued the investors secured convertible debentures totaling $250,000 with an 8% interest rate and a maturity date of October 25, 2010. ##### A) Litigation

Deanna S. Slater. On August 31, 2006, Deanna S. Slater, an independent contractor formerly with M Power Entertainment, Inc., brought suit in County Civil Court at Law Number Four in Harris County, Texas, Docket Number 872,560, alleging breach of contract, quantum meruit, promissory estoppel and for attorney's fees. No specific dollar amount was claimed by Ms. Slater but the Court on December 29, 2006 granted our Special Exceptions and she was required to replead her petition alleging the amount she sought in damages along with certain other pleading requirements. The pre-lawsuit demand was for payment of $15,785.25. Trial was had on this matter in November 2007. On December 31, 2007, the court awarded Deanna S. Execution was issued on October 4, 1999 and the personal property of GK as tenant was turned over tot the landlord, Marathon. According to the public records of the Harris County District Clerk, no subsequent execution on this judgment has been made. It then appears that under Section 52.006 Duration of Lien under the Texas Property Code that "A judgment lien continues for 10 years following the date of recording and indexing the abstract, except that if the judgment becomes dormant during that period the lien ceases to exist." It is the opinion of counsel that this lien is no longer enforceable against eDoorways, if in fact the execution did not satisfy the judgment.

On June 12, 2002 GK Intelligent Systems executed a promissory note to BDO Seidman, LLP for $85,000.00 due in full on March 1, 2003. Under V.T.C.A., Civil Practice & Remedies Code Section 16.004 Four-Year Limitations Period, a person must bring suit on an action for debt not later than four years after the day the cause of actions accrues. It is the opinion of counsel that this debt is no longer enforceable against eDoorways.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

Not Applicable.

ITEM 9A(T). CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

Our management, principally our chief financial officer and chief executive officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, our management concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report were not effective to ensure that the information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is (i) recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and (ii) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding disclosure. It has been determined by our management that the Company has inadequate segregation of duties consistent with control objectives and has insufficient written policies and procedures for accounting and financial reporting with respect to the requirements and application of GAAP and SEC requirements. The Company has inadequate segregation of duties consistent with control objectives and further, has insufficient written policies and procedures for accounting and financial reporting with respect to the requirements and application of GAAP and SEC disclosure requirements. The Company has ineffective controls over period end financial disclosure and reporting processes.

Management's Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) of the Exchange Act. Our internal control system was designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations, a system of internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate due to change in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Our management conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting using the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) in Internal Control—Integrated Framework. Based on its evaluation, our management concluded that there is a material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of control deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

The material weakness relates to the lack of segregation of duties in financial reporting, as our financial reporting and all accounting functions are performed by an external consultant with no oversight by a professional with accounting expertise. Our management does not possess accounting expertise. This weakness is due to the company's lack of working capital to hire additional staff. To remedy this material weakness, we intend to engage another accountant to assist with financial reporting as soon as our finances will allow.

Other than the remediation steps described above, there have been no changes in our system of internal controls over financial reporting during the period ended June 30, 2012, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of the Company's registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to the attestation by the Company's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the SEC that permit the Company to provide only management's report in this annual report

Item XVI Management's discussion and analysis of plan of operations

ISSUER'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Much of the discussion in this Item is "forward-looking" as that term is used in Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Actual operations and results may materially differ from present plans and projections due to changes in economic conditions, new business opportunities, changed business conditions, and other developments. Other factors that could cause results to differ materially are described in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. There are several factors that could cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated, and include, but are not limited to general economic, financial and business conditions, changes in and compliance with governmental laws and regulations, including various state and federal environmental regulations, our ability to obtain additional financing from outside investors and/or bank and mezzanine lenders and our ability to generate sufficient revenues to cover operating losses and position us to achieve positive cash flow. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements contained herein, which speak only as of a certain date. We undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statements.

Plan of Operation

eDoorways is a technology innovator and facilitator of artificial intelligence (A.I.) based, speech-enabled applications with avatar interaction on mobile devices. We are combining our "Intelligent Performance Support" (IPS) A.I. software with state of the art avatar creation technology to deliver highly interactive contextually-relevant information and resources to web and mobile users. Our systems remember content and recall interactions with each user, which increases effectiveness and value of user experience.

Our first subsidiary Smart 1 Systems Inc. is developing the technology and tools for a number of established vertical markets, currently targeting personal fitness, healthcare, learning, and professional interaction. We are searching for additional verticals to address.

Enabling personal interaction with teachers, trainers, and thought leaders usually requires individual (one on one) interaction. Video-based services limit the focus of subject matter experts to the person on the call. They do not allow one expert to provide individually-tailored help to multiple users on an individual basis at the same time. This limitation adds cost of each session and limits the number of individuals who can benefit from the teacher or trainer.

Today's learners are also becoming more sophisticated, demanding educational content be available in a form appropriate to the way they relate to the world today - via cell phones, tablets, and laptops - to form a personalized service at a time, pace, and place of their choosing. Delivering what they want when they want requires unification of capabilities including A.I., computer-based training, avatar interaction and mobile (smart) devices.

We create an application-specific avatar (for example, nationally branded individuals) with an interactive web-based mobile interface that "talks with" users, remembers what they've said and done, and grows with them interactively over time. It becomes a personal trainer, teacher or coach to create positive change with each person via our subscription-based service.

We are working with industry-leading businesses and personalities to create these avatars, build interactive voice responses, and add our A.I. smart interface, all tied to cloud based servers. Our integrated technology lets the avatar to react and interact with individual users via mobile devices. In short, our unified system will deliver near-human "new media" support solutions to users who will confidentially and personally interact with the same avatar at the same time on a monthly subscription fee basis.

Objectives

Our objective is to develop a minimum viable product during the next twelve months and to effectively launch it in an initial vertical market. The healthcare market, beginning with the health/fitness sub-market, is targeted for exploitation. A second healthcare sub-market we are targeting is senior assisted living. We will focus on the opportunity to use our technology and service offering to help healthcare providers and insurance companies reduce the cost of the care they provide. We will do this by establishing a "pre-emptive" web-based service that reduces the number of instances in which seniors are required to be transmitted to the hospital.

Capital Required for Plan of Operations

To date, we have raised $2,509,346 in capital. During the next twelve months we anticipate the possibility of generating revenues sufficient to sustain our operations. However, should this not be the case, we will require additional funding. In order to execute on our plan of operations, we will require approximately $2,000,000 during the twelve-month period beginning October, 2012. The Company has secured funding to maintain sufficient working capital to achieve our twelve-month objectives. The additional funds, such would be allocated as follows: $1.0 million will be used to complete the productization and launch our first healthcare application, $0.2 million will be used to secure patents on our technology, $0.8 million will be used for future product development, marketing and general and administration expenses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As reflected in the accompanying financial statements for the period from January 1st, 2011 through June 30, 2012, the Company had general and administrative expenses in the amount of $1,774,349, which includes the payment of compensation to our directors and officers in the amount of $854,000, which is a result of the increased company activity relating to the completion of development of the launch of our eDoorways 2.0 platform. This increased activity resulted in a loss from operations of $4,335,178; negative cash flows from operations of $247,596; a working capital deficiency of $4,585,774 and as a stockholders' deficiency of $19,747,387. This raises substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on the Company's ability to raise additional capital and implement its business plan. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

Management believes that actions presently being taken to obtain additional funding and implement its strategic plans provide the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern.

Part E Issuance History

Item XVII List of securities and shares issued for services in the past two years

We issued 31,906,738 shares in 2008 to retire mostly short-term notes payable. The notes bear 0% interest and mature on various short-term periods and are convertible into shares of common stock. In 2008, the Company borrowed $36,400 through these types of notes. Many of those outstanding at the end of 2007 and most of those originated in 2008 were retired by the issuance of the earlier stated shares.

During October and November 2007, we borrowed a total of $91,100 under various short-term convertible notes payable. The notes bear interest at 0%, matured within 10 days, and were convertible into shares of common stock at between $0.075 and $0.09 per share (50% of the market price of the common stock on the date of issuance of the notes). Subsequent to September 30, 2007, all of these convertible notes in the amount of $91,100 were converted into 1,575,776 pre-split shares of common stock. Upon conversion we recognized a $54,000 loss on extinguishment of debt due to the conversion price being greater than the amount owed on two loans. Under the terms of the warrants issued in connection with the 6% convertible debentures, if the Company issues common stock at a discount to the exercise price of the warrants, the exercise price of the warrants to purchase shares of common stock is adjusted downward in proportion to the discount given in the new equity issuance. The outstanding warrants affected by this change are 749 warrants with an exercise price of $3.20 expiring March 30, 2014 and 14,999 warrants with an exercise price of $200.00 which expired unexercised on April 25, 2009.

On October 25, 2007, the Company completed a financing agreement with private investors and received cash proceeds of $250,000. We issued the investors secured convertible debentures totaling $250,000 with an 8% interest rate and a maturity date of October 25, 2010. The debentures are convertible into common shares at a discount of 50% of the average of the lowest three (3) trading prices during the twenty (20) trading day period prior to conversion. We simultaneously issued to the private investors seven year warrants to purchase 10,000,000 pre-split common shares at an exercise price of $0.0001.

On March 30, 2007 (the "Closing"), we entered into a Securities Purchase Agreement (the "Securities Purchase Agreement") with New Millennium Capital Partners II, LLC, AJW Qualified Partners, LLC, AJW Offshore, Ltd. and AJW Partners, LLC (collectively, the "Investors"). Under the terms of the Securities Purchase Agreement, on March 30, 2007, the Investors purchased an aggregate of (i) $165,000 in callable convertible secured notes (the "Notes") and (ii) warrants to purchase 1,500,000 pre-split shares of our common stock (the "Warrants"). After the effect of our reverse common stock split of 2000 to 1 in 2007 the warrants were reduced to 750 shares.

According to the agreement, AJW Partners II, LLC agreed to sell a portion of convertible debt owed to it by eDoorways International Corporation to SCB Associates. The original convertible debt agreement was signed by the company and AJW Partners II, LLC on April 17, 2006. The two parties agreed that the company would issue 3,238,096 pre-split shares deemed to have been paid for as of the date of the original agreement.

According to the January 19, 2010 agreement American Registrar & Transfer Co. (ARTCO) agreed to accept shares of the Company in exchange for a $5,000.00 credit on the Company's account. The agreement had a provision to issue additional shares in the event the value of the shares became less than the $7,500.00. The August 24, 2010 the agreement was amended to issue additional shares at that time given the fact that the value of the shares had decreased, but still contained a provision to issue additional shares in the event ARTCO's total shareholdings became less than $7,500.00 at the time ARTCO elected to sell its shares.
