Quarterly Financial Statements

EKO-FLOR

Message to Shareholders

During our third quarter of fiscal 2007, we made significant progress towards placing EKO-FLOR in circulation with the some of the world's largest shipping lines. We solidified our customer field trials and in December, we successfully introduced our lighter weight flooring panel at the 2007 Intermodal Conference in Amsterdam. Like last year at this time, significant time, resources and monies were required to accomplish these goals. As a result, we incurred an operating loss for the quarter. Notwithstanding the loss, we are pleased to report that our revenues increased by more than 25 percent over the same period last year, while our loss decreased by approximately 28 percent.

As always, I thank you for your enthusiastic support. As we grow nearer to achieving our goals, we are extremely confident that we can change the way containers are made, worldwide.

NOTE 2 – FORMATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS

Conforce International, Inc. (the “Company”) is a development stage company. The legal form of the business is a corporate entity, incorporated as Now Marketing Corp. under the laws of Delaware. The Company has an office in Vaughan, Ontario. The Company was formed on May 18, 2004.

On May 25, 2005, the Company acquired Conforce Container Corporation (“CCC”) in exchange for 120,000,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock, making Conforce Container Corporation a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company through a tax-free reorganization under Sections 368 (a)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. The Company purchased 50% of Conforce 1 Container Terminals Inc. (“CCTI”), an Ontario Corporation, for one hundred dollars.

Immediately prior to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization, the Company had 1,000 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. The acquisition was accounted for as a recapitalization of CCC, as the shareholders of CCC controlled the Company after the acquisition was completed. CCC was treated as the acquiring entity for accounting purposes and the Company was the surviving entity for legal purposes. There was no adjustment to the carrying value of the assets or liabilities of CCC and its wholly owned subsidiaries, nor was there any adjustment to the carrying value of the net assets of the Company. All references to shares of common stock have been retroactively restated. CCC was formed as a corporation under the laws of Ontario on February 9, 2001. CCC has no subsidiaries.

The Company’s subsidiary, Conforce 1 Container Terminals Inc., provides handling, storage and transport of overseas shipping containers for international steamship lines, as well as domestic retailers. CCTI’s container terminal is located in Mississauga Ontario on an eleven acre parcel of land. CCTI’s management has extensive experience in the container industry. Prior to the incorporation of Conforce, management worked for and operated, for over 25 years, Toronto Reefer Container (TRC) and AB Container Sales, two companies specializing in the repair and sale of containers.

In addition to its business of container depot operations, the Company has embarked on the research and development of a revolutionary new container flooring system, EKO-FLOR[®], through its subsidiary, Conforce Container Corporation. The environmentally friendly product is designed to increase container versatility while significantly reducing operating costs.

All revenues for the Company have been generated by the operation of the storage Terminal. The operation of Conforce Container Corporation is in the development stage with first revenues expected in 2008 following Customer field trials of the Company’s EKO-FLOR product.

The Company is responsible for overall management, financial resources, administration and reporting functions. Conforce Container Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary, is the sales, marketing, research and development entity for the Company’s “EKO-FLOR” products and the operating arm of the Company’s Canadian operations and administration. The Company’s fifty-percent owned subsidiary, Conforce 1 Container Terminals Inc., is responsible for terminal operations.
