Electronic Control Security, Inc. Receives Subcontract for Entry Control at the Sullivan County Correctional Facility, N.Y.S.

CLIFTON, NJ. March 8, 2016 — Electronic Control Security, Inc. (OTC Markets: EKCS) (ECSI), a global leader in state-of-the-art integrated entry control and perimeter security systems, today announced it had received an award from prime contractor Hudson Valley EC&M Inc. for the Entry Control system and support services for the Sullivan County Correctional Facility, N.Y.S. The company is working with Hudson Valley EC&M Inc. on this contract. ECSI's expected revenue is $55K over a two month period of performance.

ECSI's award is a direct result of its unique core competency in the manufacturing and technical support services of state-of-the-art multi-environment intrusion detection surveillance and entry control systems for the Correctional, Nuclear, DoD and DoE markets.

"ECSI's award under this program is another step forward for our company in the correctional market," stated Arthur Barchenko, President and CEO. "As a N.Y.S. Correctional Facility technology supplier for the past 25+ years, we look forward to working with Hudson Valley EC&M Inc. to support the Sullivan County Correctional Facility site requirements on this important program."
