

COM-GUARD, INC. UPDATES ITS SOFTWARE STRATEGY FOR SECURITY PRODUCTS IN THE APPLE® AND ANDROID™ APP STORES

Encinitas, California—June 29, 2016—Com-Guard.com, Inc. (CGUD.pk), the technology company that has been designing and developing security applications for over 15 years has announced that it will be reorganizing and focusing on its current applications for the Apple® and Android™ mobile platforms.

Com Guard, Inc initially announced its security software for the iPhone in August of 2010. The flagship product, DataCrypt™, has been available on the iTunes store and the recent issues related to data protection make the product much more relevant in the market today. The Company is investigating what new features and additions to the product would be beneficial for the end user and what the end user would want to protect their data.

"We are looking into the development of secure mobile software for protecting and presenting data. Com-Guard, Inc. has been developing software in the security and data protection markets for over 15 years and we look forward to expanding that expertise into the mobile platform market and presentation markets. The company has a software developer's license from Apple and the software tools for the Android platform", said Dr. Edward W. Savarese, CEO of Com-Guard, Inc.

Com-Guard, Inc. will be focusing on three different markets segments using its software development expertise.

1. Security Applications – Using its award winning, ComputerSafe®, FileCrypt™ software the Company will continue improve its applications for encrypting files on the Apple, Android and Windows® mobile platforms.
2. Tracker Applications – The Company has launched in the past an application on the Apple App store called "Missed Call Tracker". Tracking users and data is becoming more important to everyone.
3. Secure Printing – The Company is investigating the issues related to secure mobile printing and intends to pursue designing or licensing products in this market space.

The App and Play Stores are proven models for distributing mobile software applications.
