8 Financial instruments and financial risk management

Financial instrument disclosures establish a fair value hierarchy that requires the Company to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The Company primarily applies the market approach for recurring fair value measurements. This section describes three input levels that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. An active market for the asset or liability is a market in which transactions for the asset or liability occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide information on an ongoing basis. The Company does not have any financial instruments in this category.

Level 2 - quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 - unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

Financial instruments whose carrying value approximates fair value

Cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments and other receivables are financial instruments whose fair value approximates their carrying value due to their short-term maturity. The input level used by the Company to measure fair value of its cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments is Level 2 as they are valued using observable market data.

The fair value of accounts payable may be less than its carrying value due to liquidity risk.

The warrants of Immune Pharmaceuticals, recorded as other investments, have been recorded at their fair value on the date they were acquired and at subsequent period end dates. Management has classified these warrants as available-for-sale. The Company uses Level 3 inputs to value these instruments. There is no active market for these warrants but the shares that the warrants can be exchanged into are traded on the NASDAQ stock exchange.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices, will affect the Company's income or valuation of its financial instruments.

The Company is exposed to financial risk related to fluctuation of foreign exchange rates. Foreign currency risk is limited to the portion of the Company's business transactions denominated in currencies other than the Canadian dollar, primarily expenses for research and development incurred in US$. The Company believes that the results of operations, financial position and cash flows would be affected by a sudden change in foreign exchange rates, but would not impair or enhance its ability to pay its US$. The Company manages foreign exchange risk by maintaining US$ cash on hand to fund its anticipated short-term US$ expenditures.

Balances in foreign currencies at March 31, 2017 and December 31, 2016 are as follows:

	March 31, 2017 US balance	Dec. 31 2016 US balance
Cash and cash equivalents	339,896	665,981
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(14,242)	(28,289)
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	325,654	637,692
	<hr/>	<hr/>

Based on the US$ balance sheet exposure at March 31, 2017, with other variables unchanged, if the Canadian dollar were to weaken against the US dollar by 10%, relative to the rate at March 31, 2017, the net monetary assets would be approximately $48,000 greater. If the Canadian dollar were to strengthen against the US dollar by 10%, relative to the rate at March 31, 2017, the net monetary assets would be approximately $39,000 less

Notes to the Interim Financial Statements

For the three months ended March 31, 2017 and 2016

(in Canadian dollars)

Interest rate risk

The Company is subject to interest rate risk on its cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments and believes that the results of operations, financial position and cash flows would not be significantly affected by a sudden change in market interest rates relative to the investment interest rates due to the short-term nature of the investments. The only financial instruments that expose the Company to interest rate risk are its cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments. Cash and cash equivalents in excess of day-to-day requirements are placed in short-term deposits with high quality credit financial institutions and earn interest at rates available at that time.

As at March 31, 2017, cash and cash equivalents balance was $1,917,089. The interest rates range from 0.0% to 0.2%.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in raising funds to meet cash flow requirements associated with financial instruments.

The Company continues to manage its liquidity risk by monitoring its cash flows and investments regularly, comparing actual results with budgets and future cash requirements.

The following table summarizes the relative maturities of the financial liabilities of the Company at March 31, 2017:

	Maturity
	Less than one year $	Greater than one year $
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	263,904	-

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, deposits with banks and financial institutions, as well as outstanding receivables. The Company invests its excess cash in short-term Guaranteed Investment Certificates. The Company has established guidelines relative to diversification, credit ratings and maturities that maintain safety and liquidity. These guidelines are periodically reviewed by the Company's Board of Directors and modified to reflect changes in market conditions.

iCo Therapeutics Inc.

(a development stage company)

Notes to the Interim Financial Statements

For the three months ended March 31, 2017 and 2016

(in Canadian dollars)

The Company limits its exposure to credit risk, with respect to cash and cash equivalents, by placing them with high quality credit financial institutions. The Company's cash equivalents consist primarily of operating funds and deposit investments with commercial banks.

9 Segmented information

The Company identifies its operating segments based on business activities, management responsibility and geographical location. The Company operates within a single operating segment, being the research and development of ophthalmic and anti-infective indications, and operates in one geographic area, being Canada. All of the Company's assets are located in Canada.

10 Subsequent event

On April 12, 2017, Immune completed a reverse stock split of its common shares at a ratio of 1 for 20. The affect on the Company's Immune warrants was to reduce the number of warrants to 6,182 from 123,649 and to increase the exercise price to $52.60 from $2.63.
