Item 6. Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

A. Description of the Issuer's Business Operations:

We are a distributor of specialty branded e-cigarettes. Our primary brand is VAMP™, which was developed as a consequence of our entering into an exclusive licensing agreement with Vampire Brands, LLC on February 18, 2014. We are also currently developing Junkanoo™, which is a Caribbean inspired brand. Prior to developing our own brands of e-cigarettes, we were a marketing and development partner for Vapor Brands, Inc., (our controlling shareholder) under a Private Label Manufacturing and Distribution Agreement. Effective June 30, 2013, we terminated our Private Label Manufacturing and Distribution Agreement with Vapor Brands, Inc. and are now instead developing our own brands, including VAMP™ and Junkanoo™.

Electronic cigarettes are also known as Personal Electronic Vaporizing Units” (PEVUs) and are products which allow adult consumers to simulate the physical act of smoking traditional tobacco products. PEVUs do not burn tobacco but rather vaporize a nicotine or non-nicotine solution into a mist. Because there is no combustion, PEVU users (commonly known as “Vapers”) enjoy this alternative adult consumer experience without suffering the imposition of offensive odors, tar and ash that traditional smokers and those around them find undesirable.

We intended to focus our business on creating unique brands through other licensing arrangements similar to our Vampire Brands, LLC agreement. We also intended to seek licensing agreements and to development e-cigarette brands in the areas of car/truck racing, liquor, casinos and other lifestyle industries. We believed that by targeting market niches we would gain market share in the e-cigarette sector of the tobacco industry. The Company has identified that due to regulatory changes the business model originally anticipated will not be pursued. The Company is devoting substantially all of its efforts on identifying an alternative business.

We were a reporting Issuer and subject to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, until June 2006. Prior to the filing of the appropriate documents with the Securities and Exchange Commission to suspend our duty to file reports under said Act, the Company’s business was as a manufacturer and distributor of electric power cord sets and interconnect cables primarily for original equipment manufacturers (“OEMs”) of small appliances.

B. Date and State (or jurisdiction) of Incorporation:

We were incorporated in Delaware as Quadrax Corporation on March 6, 1986. We changed our name to TTCM China, Inc. on December 28, 2004. We redomesticated from Delaware to Nevada on February 28, 2012. We established a subsidiary, VaporBrands International, Inc., which was incorporated on July 9, 2012. We merged with our subsidiary, and changed our name to VaporBrands International, Inc., effective October 19, 2012.

E. Principal products or services, and their markets:

Electronic Cigarettes

Electronic cigarettes are electronic devices which include three functional elements: (i) a cartridge that contains a liquid nicotine or non-nicotine solution, (ii) an atomizer, which is a heating element that vaporizes the solution so that it can be inhaled, and (iii) the electronics, which include: a rechargeable lithium-ion battery and an LED which illuminates to indicate use.

When a user draws air through the device, the air flow is detected by a sensor, which activates a heating element that vaporizes the solution stored in the mouthpiece/cartridge, the solution is then vaporized and it is this vapor that is inhaled by the user. The solution depending on the model may or may not contain nicotine and may or not be flavored. We sell our products in a kit, or as separate components. We also offer for sale replacement cartridges to be used with our non-disposable electronic cigarettes when the cartridges become depleted.

The Cartridge

Although usually combined with the atomizer, the cartridge may or may not be removable and serves as the carrier containing the ingredients or e- liquid. If removable, it may provide the Company with an additional product to sell; the refill cartridge. Creating a refill cartridge that produces a large amount of clean vapor and lasts a long time is important in the e-cigarette marketplace.

The most common electronic cigarette cartridge solution ingredients are nicotine, propylene glycol (sometimes substituted with vegetable glycerol), flavoring and water. This compares to more than 7,000 dangerous chemicals involved in smoking cigarettes including, but not limited to, carbon monoxide, polonium, formaldehyde, cadmium and ammonium.

The Atomizer

An "atomizer" serves as the heating element responsible for vaporizing the liquid.

The Battery

Inside each battery is a "flow sensor" that powers the entire unit on and off when a user draws on the electronic cigarette. This flow sensor allows the battery to power down when not in use to preserve its battery life, yet it is so responsive that when it senses the slightest bit of drag, it immediately powers up the refill cartridge to produce a satisfying abundance of vapor.

Electronic cigarette batteries can generally be charged three ways: Wall Adapter, Car Charger or Computer

USB. No matter how the consumer decides to charge the battery, the main component needed for all forms of charging generally will be the USB charger. The USB charger is the central hub for the charging system.

The Company utilizes the latest in e-cigarette technology (see diagram below), which combines the atomizer and cartridge into one piece, making the e-cigarette simpler and more efficient for the user. The principal goal behind our e-cigarette design is to make it comparable to a real cigarette such that using e-cigarettes is easy transition for traditional smokers.

Insurance

We have no insurance. We intend to require any supplier to carry insurance coverage, which will inure to the benefit of our customers. There is no assurance that the insurance policy will protect the Company from liability.

Warranty

On electronic cigarette and cigar products only, we intend to offer a 30-Day Money-Back Guarantee on any Starter Kit or Special Bundle Package purchase. There are no refunds on any used or unused disposable refill cartridges. The Company intends not to accept any used or unused disposable refills back on any condition due to health code regulations.

Exclusions to our guarantee will not apply to defects resulting from loss of product, misuse, improper or inadequate maintenance or unauthorized modification. Any returns must be in the original new like condition as when it was first sent out to customer. Money-Back guarantee fulfillments will be subject to a restocking fee, to be determined. Return shipping will not be reimbursed.

Brands

We developed our first e-cigarette brand VAMP™ as a consequence of entering into a licensing agreement with Vampire Brands LLC, which expired on April 7, 2013. We then entered into a new ten (10) year agreement with Vampire Brands LLC on February 18, 2014. From the outset, our efforts to market our VAMP™ brand of e-cigarettes have failed to generate meaningful sales and revenue because the manufacturer we contracted to supply us with e-cigarettes, Safe-Cig LLC, experienced significant financial and operational difficulties during this period and eventually ceased operations. Recent regulatory changes have caused difficulties for the industry and the Company has made the decision to seek other business alternatives. As a consequence, there is substantial doubt as to our ability to recover our inventory of VAMP™ e-cigarettes and accordingly, we have written down our inventory by 100%, or $26,104, due to this uncertainty. As of previous reporting periods our inventory consisted only of finished goods.

Future Financing

We have limited cash on hand. As a result, our financial resources may not be sufficient to satisfy our capital requirements. We may require additional working capital to support our operations. We expect to raise any required additional funds through public or private equity offerings, debt financings, and corporate collaborations. We may also seek to raise additional capital to fund additional product development efforts, even if we have sufficient funds for our planned operations.

There can be no assurance that any such required additional funding will be available to us at all or available on terms acceptable to us. Further, we currently have no credit facility or similar financing currently available. And any debt financing, if available, may involve restrictive covenants, which may limit our operating flexibility with respect to certain business matters. If additional funds are raised through the issuance of equity securities, the percentage ownership of our existing stockholders will be reduced and our stockholders will experience additional dilution in net tangible book value per share. If adequate funds are not available on acceptable terms, we may be unable to successfully market our products, take advantage of future opportunities, repay debt obligations as they become due or respond to competitive pressures, any and all of which would have an adverse effect on our business.

Note 1 – ORGANIZATION

We were incorporated in Delaware as Quadrax Corporation on March 6, 1986. We changed our name to TTCM China, Inc. (TTCM) on December 28, 2004. We re domesticated from Delaware to Nevada on February 28, 2012. We established a subsidiary, VaporBrands International, Inc., which was incorporated on July 9, 2012. We merged with our subsidiary, and changed our name to VaporBrands International, Inc., (“Company”) effective October 19, 2012. ## Note 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements were prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“US GAAP”).

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Contingencies

Certain conditions may exist as of the date the financial statements are issued, which may result in a loss to the Company but which will only be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The Company’s management and legal counsel assess such contingent liabilities, and such assessment inherently involves judgment. In assessing loss contingencies related to legal proceedings that are pending against the Company or unasserted claims that may result in such proceedings, the Company’s legal counsel evaluates the perceived merits of any legal proceedings or unasserted claims as well as the perceived merits of the amount of relief sought or expected to be sought.

If the assessment of a contingency indicates it is probable that a material loss has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be estimated, then the estimated liability would be accrued in the Company’s financial statements. If the assessment indicates that a potential material loss contingency is not probable but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, then the nature of the contingent liability, together with an estimate of the range of possible loss if determinable and material would be disclosed. Loss contingencies considered to be remote by management are generally not disclosed unless they involve guarantees, in which case the guarantee would be disclosed.

Inventory

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost (determined on a weighted average basis) or market. Management compares the cost of inventories with the market value and allowance is made to write down inventories to market value, if lower. As of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 the Company had no inventory.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

For certain of the Company’s financial instruments, including cash and equivalents, restricted cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued liabilities and short-term debt, the carrying amounts approximate their fair values due to their short maturities. ASC Topic 820, “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures,” requires disclosure of the fair value of financial instruments held by the Company. ASC Topic 825, “Financial Instruments,” defines fair value, and establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosures of fair value measurement that enhances disclosure requirements for fair value measures. The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheets for receivables and current liabilities each qualify as financial instruments and are a reasonable estimate of their fair values because of the short period of time between the origination of such instruments and their expected realization and their current market rate of interest. The three levels of valuation hierarchy are defined as follows:

Level 1 inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets. Level 2 inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level 3 inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. The Company analyzes all financial instruments with features of both liabilities and equity under ASC 480, “Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity,” and ASC 815.

As of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the Company did not identify any assets and liabilities that are required to be presented on the balance sheet at fair value.

Earnings Per Share (EPS)

Basic EPS is computed by dividing income available to common shareholders and equivalents by the weighted average number of common shares and equivalents outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS is computed similar to basic net income per share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if all the potential common shares, warrants and stock options had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. Diluted EPS is based on the assumption that all dilutive convertible shares and stock options were converted or exercised. Dilution is computed by applying the treasury stock method for the outstanding options and the if-converted method for the outstanding convertible preferred shares. Under the treasury stock method, options and warrants are assumed to be exercised at the beginning of the period (or at the time of issuance, if later), and as if funds obtained thereby were used to purchase common stock at the average market price during the period. Under the if-converted method, convertible outstanding instruments are assumed to be converted into common stock at the beginning of the period (or at the time of issuance, if later). Therefore because including options and warrants issued would have an anti-dilutive effect on the loss per share, only the basic earnings (loss) per share is reported in the accompanying financial statements. For the period ended September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 approximately 23,284,000 and 20,550,000 potentially dilutive securities, respectively, were excluded from the EPS calculation because they would have had an anti-dilutive effect.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company recognizes the services received or goods acquired in a share-based payment transaction as services are received or when it obtains the goods as an increase in equity or a liability, depending on whether the instruments granted satisfy the equity or liability classification criteria [ASC 718-10-25-2, Compensation-Stock Compensation, Recognition].

A share-based payment transaction with employees is measured based on the fair value (or, in some cases, a calculated or intrinsic value) of the equity instrument issued. If the fair value of goods or services received in a share-based payment with non-employees is more reliably measurable than the fair value of the equity instrument issued, the fair value of the goods or services received shall be used to measure the transaction. Conversely, if the fair value of the equity instruments issued in a share-based payment transaction with non-employees is more reliably measurable than the fair value of the consideration received, the transaction is measured at the fair value of the equity instruments issued [ASC 718-10-30-2, Compensation-Stock Compensation, Initial Measurement].

Note 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

The cost of services received from employees in exchange for awards of share-based compensation generally is measured at the fair value of the equity instruments issued or at the fair value of the liabilities incurred. The fair value of the liabilities incurred in share-based transactions with employees is remeasured at the end of each reporting period until settlement [ASC 718-10-30-3, Compensation-Stock Compensation, Initial Measurement].

Share-based payments awarded to an employee of the reporting entity by a related party or other holder of an economic interest in the entity as compensation for services provided to the entity are share-based transactions to be accounted for under ASC 718 unless the transfer is clearly for a purpose other than compensation for services to the reporting entity. The substance of such a transaction is that the economic interest holder makes a capital contribution to the reporting entity and that entity makes a share-based payment to its employee in exchange for services rendered [ASC 718-10-15-4, Compensation-Stock Compensation, Scope and Scope Exceptions].

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

There have been no new accounting pronouncements during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 that we believe would have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

Note 3 – GOING CONCERN

We cannot provide assurances that the Company will be able to secure sufficient funds to satisfy the cash requirements for the next 12 months. The inability to secure additional funds would have a material adverse effect on the Company. We hope to obtain increased revenues from future sales of products and in the absence of these revenues, we hope to raise funds to meet our working capital needs through offering our securities to a private equity firm which provided capital to our Company during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 and the year ended December 31, 2016. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to obtain sufficient capital from this private equity firm or anyone else in the future, or that such capital, if available, will be obtainable on terms satisfactory to us.

If adequate capital is not available, our officer and director may contribute capital to the Company in the form of debt financing or equity contributions. However, our officer and director is not committed to contribute such funds. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties. There is no assurance that the Company will receive the necessary capital required to fund its acquisition and exploration plans. These consolidated financial statements are presented on the basis that the Company will continue as a going concern. No adjustments have been made to these consolidated financial statements to give effect to valuation adjustments that may be necessary in the event the Company is not able to continue as a going concern. The effect of those adjustments, if any, could be substantial. The Company has incurred $6,073,987 in cumulative losses to date.
