

CECORS, INC.

OTC: CEOS PROVIDES CORPORATE UPDATE REGARDING NEW INVESTMENT IN EXCITING NEW GENERATION OF MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

CeCors, Inc., NASDAQ OTC: CEOS (The Company) is engaged in the acquisition and development of healthcare companies for the healthcare supplies and healthcare equipment markets. Valeria Sidorovich, CeCors' President, is pleased to announce the completion of CeCors' 2nd business transaction, entering into a definitive agreement to acquire a 30% interest in Fluonic, Inc., the developer of the Fluonic technology, its patents and trademarks. "Fluonic is a perfect addition to our expanding product base. The Fluonic technology is extremely exciting and the potential market for these products is enormous, estimated at over $8.5 billion globally for 2017, and will only bode well other products that we have in the pipeline", stated Ms. Sidorovich.

Fluonic, Inc. Investment

Fluonic, Inc. (Fluonic) is a Colorado corporation and is the owner and developer of the Fluonic technology, its patent(s) and trademarks. On January 21, 2017, CeCors and Fluonic entered into a Purchase Agreement whereby CeCors will receive Fluonic common shares equal to 30% of the outstanding shares of Fluonic. Fluonic is spearheaded by Amir Genosar. Mr. Genosar has extensive and diversified experience in medical and flow-control start-ups, manufacturing companies and consulting. Mr. Genosar is the titled inventor of 16 granted patents and 33 applications in review.

The Fluonic technology is a medical device, flow monitoring and control system with a primary focus on infusion applications. Fluonic has developed a new generation of disposable infusion device systems that will improve patients' compliance with safety while reducing costs. The CeCors investment will enable Fluonic to advance its business expansion and the Fluonic technology, including USFDA testing and certification.

Forward-looking statements

This document contains certain forward-looking statements with respect to the financial condition, results of operations and business of CeCors Inc., (CEOS), a startup company, and certain of the plans and objectives of CEOS with respect to these items. Examples of forward-looking statements include statements made about our strategy, estimates of sales growth, future EBITA and future developments in our organic business. Forward-looking statements can be identified generally as those containing words such as “anticipates”, “assumes”, “believes”, “estimates”, “expects”, “should”, “will”, “will likely result”, “forecast”, “outlook”, “projects”, “may” or similar expressions. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to future events and circumstances and there are many factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements.

These factors include, but are not limited to, domestic and global economic and business conditions, the successful implementation of our strategy and our ability to realize the benefits of this strategy, our ability to develop and market new products, changes in legislation, legal claims, changes in exchange and interest rates, changes in tax rates, pension costs and actuarial assumptions, raw materials and employee costs, our ability to identify and complete successful acquisitions and to integrate those acquisitions into our business, our ability to successfully exit certain businesses or restructure our operations, the rate of technological changes, political, economic and other developments in countries where CEOS operates, industry consolidation and competition. As a result, CEOS's actual future results may differ materially from the plans, goals and expectations set forth in such forward-looking statements.