The posts all originated in Findit and were shared to other social sites. The most shares came from Facebook and then Twitter.

The power of Findit is two main things: the first is all posts can be crawled and indexed in search engines resulting in more search results for everything you post to Findit. The second thing is when you share your posts from Findit to your other social sites you tend to get more engagements from your Findit Posts.

IMPORTANT

The 3 posts above, since Sunday have over 500 shares to Facebook from Findit vs. 2 on Facebook. We are advocates of Facebook and love sharing to various social networks. However, we want more people to see your posts, which is why we created Findit.

We love sharing posts from Findit to Facebook and other social media sites because they bring more visitors to your posts. Anyone anywhere can see and share your posts from Findit, which means people that come across your content on Findit can share it to their social networks, even if they aren't your friend or follower.

When you want to be seen and heard post to Findit and share to all of your social accounts so more people see and hear what you have to say.
